Syrian Leaders Concerned over Jordan Situation

Fears Are Voiced That Israel May Open Hostilities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syrian politicians expressed "deep concern" today over the situation in the little Middle East nation of Jordan.

These quarters voiced fears that Israel might attack Jordan if a conflict developed between King Hussein and the people over Premier Nabulsi's dismissal. But the Syrians said their army "is on the alert to face any Israeli aggressive move against Jordan."

Western observers in London considered it likely that Syria would try to seize part of Jordan if serious trouble developed between Hussein and mobs supporting Nabulsi.

Telephone communications between Syria and Jordan were disrupted today. Reliable sources said Jordan authorities broke the connection.

King Hussein's ouster of Nabulsi was reported to be the result of a bitter quarrel over whether the Arab nation should be exposed to Soviet or American influence.

* * *

DIPLOMATS in Washington believed the stand that Jordan's 24,000-man army takes in the next few days may determine whether Hussein can stop his country's drift toward the Soviet - aligned policy of Egypt and Syria. It was assumed Hussein would not have acted against the popular premier unless he had assurance of military support.

In a land where pistol-shot politics often dominate, Nabulsi is master of the mobs that have turned out previous governments.

Reports reaching Beirut, Lebanon, said all roads leading into Amman, the Jordan capital, have been blocked for two days by military vehicles, apparently in an attempt to keep troublemakers from entering the city.

In a move to strengthen his hand, Hussein promotd his chif military aid, Brig. Mohammed Maatya, to major general and made him director general of public security. Maatya, former Jordan military attache in Damascus, replaces Maj. Gen. Bahjat Tabbarah, who was given a long-term leave of absence.

Secret intelligence reports received by diplomats in London said the crisis between Hussein and Nabulsi reached a climax over the mission of President Eisenhower's special envoy, James P. Richards, now touring the Middle East. The reports said Hussein want: Richards to visit Amman and would like for Jordan to qualify for American aid under the Eisenhower Doctrine for halting further Communist penetration of the Middle East.

Nabulsi has declared publicly the Eisenhower plan has nothing to do with Jordan.

* * *

IN A SPEECH last Friday, Nabulsi said Jordan would "welcome every unconditional aid, whether it comes from the East or the West." But he added that if Richards "asked me as a representative of Jordan tsign a short state ment that we have agreed to combat communism and that he would pay me 100 million dollars, then I would tell him 'no.' "

The U.S. State Department declined to commentofficiall y on the developments in Jordan. But U.S. officials were discouraged by the resignation of the premier, a man they consider pro-Communist.

Will These Boys Go to Russia?

A CHICAGO JUDGE is going to decide the fate of the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Kozmin, former Russian nationals who want to return to their native land with them. The boys are (from left) Richard, 10, George, Jr., 8, Paul, 7 and eight-months-old Peter. The three older boys were born in a displaced persons camp while Peter was born in Chicago. The Kozmins have not fully explained why they changed their minds about settling in America.

Summerfield's Testimony Told

'Every Effort Possible' Made to Cut Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield has told a House Appropriations subcommittee "we made every effort humanly possible" to live within the Postoffice Department's budget.

His testimony last week, requesting $47 million more to maintain normal mail service in the last three months of this fiscal year, was made public today.

The committee later voted to give him $17 million but delayed a vote on the other $30 million until Friday.

The postmaster general, insisting on the full amount, then ordered postoffices to prepare to halt virtually all Saturday mail services, starting Saturday.

Postal officials said today that 20,000 employes of the department may lose all or part of their working time. They include "both temporary employes and substitutes, working on a parttime basis, who will be laid off entirely, and some regula r fulltime workers who will suffer through curtailment of working hours and elimination of overtime work."

He told the subcommittee the Postoffice already had put a freeze on extension of any routes in the quarter ending June 30.

And, he said, "frankly, if we do not use every effort to economize, $47 million is not going to be enough to maintain the present service, without an extension of additional city carrier routes."

* * *

THE RECORD showed that Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), committee chairman, said three times Summerfield had had notice "that you were to live" within the $2,113,440,000 Postoffice budget.

"You have failed to prepare for a situation which must have appeared inevitable," Cannon said.

Summerfield has said unforeseen expenses arose from unexpectedly heavy mail volume and an increasing need to serve spreading residential areas.

Angry Canadian Protest Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials said today it may be difficult to withhold from congressional committees security information given to this country by Canada.

A Canadian demand for such a pledge was presented to Undersecretary of State Christian Herter Wednesday by Ambassador A. D. P. Heeney.

Under the terms proposed by Canada, information given the United States in future on such matters as Communist subversion could be passed on to committees of Congress only when the Canadian government specifically agreed.

The Canadian move stems from Canada's anger over the suicide death of its ambassador in Cairo, E. H. Norman, last week. Norman had been accused before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee of having once been a Communist. The subcommittee made public the testimony on this point.

No information obtained from Canada was involved in the Norman case, but Cana a criticized the action and said she must protect her citizens.

* * *

IN OTTAWA Wednesday Lester B. Pearson, minister for external affairs, told Parliament that the Canadian government was taking steps to deal with the situation involved in the events which preceded Norman's death.

Pearson said intervention by an agency of a foreign government in Canadian affairs to harass a Canadian citizen was "intolerable and should not take place."

Pearson said Canada is perfectly capable of looking after its own security affairs.

"If we fail in the discharge of our security responsibilities as a government, we are answerable to our own people, and not a subcommittee of any foreign legislature," he declared.

About the same time, Heeney presented the new demand to Herter and received an answer to an earlier Canadian protest against the subcommittee.

The March 18 protest called the charges against Norman "irresponsible allegations." It emphasized that Canada had given Norman "a clean bill of health" in 1951 after careful investigation

The American answer to the March protest expressed regret at Norman's death but said that the executive branch of the U.S. government had no responsibility for the subcommittee's behavior. President Eisenhower had made a similar comment at his news conference earlier in the day, expressing hope "that the thing can now be dropped" and good relations restored.

State Department authorities declared that the new Canadian demand would be given the most serious consideration. It appeared evident that they, at least, hoped that some kind of an agreement satisfactory to the Canadian government could be worked out.

Chillicothe Adopts City Income Tax

CHILLICOTHE (AP) — Chillicothe City Council Wednesday night adopted an ordinance calling for a one-half per cent city income tax.

Mayor Forrest Harper, who last month vetoed an ordinance for a one per cent tax, signed the new measure after Council voted 5-2 to adopt the tax.

The levy is effective May 1 and runs to Dec. 31, 1958. The city is expected to realize $120,000 from the tax this year.

Teamsters Strike Dayton Newspapers

DAYTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union today struck the Dayton Journal Herald and the Dayton Daily News, over a wage dispute involving 25 janitors.

Local 176 of the Teamsters Union struck after refusing the company's wage increase offer of 30-50 cents an hour.

Richard Loy, secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters local, said the union was seeking a pay raise of 50-70 cents an hour. He said the janitors receive $1 an hour.

Ike Seeking New Airways Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to set up a new agency to decide on ways of modernizing the nation's airways control system to handle ever-increasing traffic.

"This measure will greatly expedite the improvement of air traffic control and air navigation and I therefore urge its early enactment," the President said in a special message.

Budget-Cutters Eye Own Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Appropriations Committee members, who have been taking a generally dim view of agency requests for more money, are about to vote on such a special request for House committees.

House Clerk Ralph R. Roberts has asked $300,000 in supplemental committee funds for this fiscal year ending June 30.

Roberts said the committtes are running out of the $1,400,000 originally voted them for the year.

"At the rate the committees are going," disbursing clerk Harry M. Livingston added, "they'll make still another request before the fiscal year is over."

Income Tax Slash Possibility Grows

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax reduction at this session of Congress became an increasing possibility today.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the controlling Democratic majority in the House, said prospects are "good" for a tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

He commented after a policy meeting Wednesday with Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Rayburn's statement reflected Democratic determination to make tax reduction at this session of Congress a party issue and possibly beat the Republicans to the wire before next year's elections.

Appraising the tax situation, Rayburn made clear his belief that Congress can pass a tax reduction bill in time to apply to next year's income — provided the government's tax revenues hold up at anticipated levels, and Congress continues its budget-cutting campaign.

* * *

REPUBLICANS, who thus far have taken no official position, displayed an eagerness to get into the act on their own. President Eisenhower and his tax advisers have taken a wait-and-see position on tax reduction, with suggestions that revenue surpluses be applied first to debt reduction.

Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts reported he, too, was "for a tax cut just as soon as we can do it." Commenting on Rayburn's statement, he added, "If we can cut spending, we'll join 'em."

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, said he was "just as anxious for a tax cut as anyone, providing he can do it with safety to our fiscal affairs."

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he believed the House will make enough cuts in Eisenhower's $71.8 billion spending budget to justify income tax reduction.

The House already has slashed $1 billion from the President's budget. Still to come are the principal sources of still larger potential slashes—the defense and foreign and appropriation bills. But the Senate, which frequently increases the House figures, has not yet acted on any of the bills.

3 Big Firms Cut Prices on Coffee

NEW YORK (AP)—Two major coffee roasters and a big food chain announced coffee price cuts today. The reductions by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., General Foods Corp. and Standard Brands, Inc., followed a recent drop in the cost of green coffee.

Standard Brands cut four cents a pound in the wholesale price of Chase & Sanborn ground coffee.

A&P cut its bagged packed coffee two to four cents a pound.

General Foods reduced wholesale prices of its regular ground packed coffees the same.

Job Injury Rate Very Low in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — Richard W. Morse, chairman of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, told the All-Ohio Safety Congress here Wednesday that the state's job injury frequency rate is at the lowest point in history.

As a result, he said, workmen's compensation premium payments paid by employers were reduced 7.5 per cent last year by the state.

Boys, 12 and 13, Admit Burglary

Confessions Solve Rose School Job

Two Rose Ave. School pupils, one of them 12, the other 13, and both with previous records, were taken into custody Wednesday afternoon for the $16.20 burglary at their school Tuesday night.

They were picked up Wednesday afternoon by Police Chief D. Vaiden Long and Patrolman Herschel Taylor, only a few hours after the robbery took place.

The 12-year-old is in the fourth grade. The 13-year-old is in the sixth. Confronted with accusations from the police, the pair admitted the nighttime burglary and turned over $14.27 remaining from their $16.20 haul.

The pair told police they entered the school by jimmying a half-basement window with a claw-bar and rifled two teacher's desks. About $10 was taken from one desk, $6 from another.

Both boys have been charged previously with breaking and entering. The older boy has been taken into custody on three other occasions, police said, while this is the second trip in for the younger one.

Dublin Mayor To Be Feted In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Irish and Jewish civic leaders today welcome The Right Honorable Robert Briscoe, lord mayor of Dublin.

The 63-year-old mayor, who is touring the United States to raise funds for Jewish refugees and to promote investment of American capital in Irish industry, will arrive by plane. He will fly back to Chicago tomorrow.

Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze will present him with a kep to the city. At John Carroll University he will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Briscoe's major appearance will be at a dinner meeting of the 1957 Jewish Welfare Fund Appeal in Hotel Statler. He is to speak on the overseas work of the United Jewish Appeal.

Born in a Dublin suburb of a Lithuanian mother and German father, Briscoe has maintained that "there is no need for such excitement" over the fact that a Jew has been named mayor of the overwhelmingly Irish Catholic city. He says:

"I definitely consider myself the Irish mayor of an Irish city. The fact that I am Jewish is an interesting sidelight and a wonderful comment on the Irish people."

Ike Tells Congress To Cut Soil Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today told Congress it can cut $254 million from the $1,254,000,000 he asked to operate the soil bank program in the 12 months beginning July 1.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that the change resulted from a detailed study of operations of the soil bank program which has just been completed.

This study showed, he said, that "the financial needs of the program in 1958 will be less than was contemplated at the time of the preparation of the 1958 budget."

Youths Say Youths Lack Discipline

ELY, Nev. (AP)—A panel of teenagers says high school youngsters need more discipline.

Six students appeared on the panel Wednesday with six adults at the Nevada Parent-Teacher Assn. convention.

The boys and girls criticized police for failure to halt drag racing in Ely and for a lack of enforcement of laws against the sale of liquor to minors.

"We're not getting enough discipline; we're getting away with murder," said one youth. The other youngsters agreed.

They added that stricter discipline at home also is needed.

Delay of Perrill Bill Sought by Opponents At Committee Hearing

A delegation of around 150 Fayette Countians packed the House Education Committee hearing room in the state capitol Wednesday night to lend moral support to J. Herbert Perrill, Edwin Buck and Taylor Groff as they spoke in opposition to a bill offered by Rep. Virgil Perrill to abolish county school districts and administrators in counties in which there is only one local school district.

J. Herbert Perrill, a member of the Miami Trace board, told the committee he was not opposed to the bill in principle; that he was interested primarily in making certain that there was nothing in the measure that would pave the way for further litigation to hold up the $1,652,500 Miami Trace building program.

He noted that the bond issue was approved last November and described it as a "mandate" from the people.

Buck, who was a member of the Miami Trace fact finding committee that recommended the building program, also said he was not opposed to the principles of the bill, but urged the committeemen to maker certain it contained safeguards against further delay in the building program. He also asked the committee to study the bill further.

Groff, president of the Miami Trace school board, said merely that he felt Perrill and Buck had expressed the feelings of the Miami Trace board.

The gist of the opposition to the bill was: (1) To forestall any legislative action what would delay the Miami Trace building program and (2) delay the effective date of the measure, should it be approved by the legislature.

* * *

RICHARD SNYDER, a member of the Miami Trace board, who spoke against the bill at the first hearing a week ago, summed up the sentiments of the board. He said Thursday morning it wanted to delay the effective date of the bill until Jan. 1, 1959. He added that the board members, all of whom were at the hearing, found no fault with the principles of the bill, which he described as "practical and bbusinesslike," explain-

Tax Stamp End Urged

Ohio House Committee OKs Change in Law

COLUMBUS (AP)—A bill to eliminate stamps in the collection of Ohio's three per cent sales tax was recommended for passage by the House Taxation Committee today. The vote was 15-7.

Elimination of the stamps is estimated to promise a saving to the state of $11½ million a year.

In addition to the saving on printing and the two per cent discount allowed vendors, elimination of the stamps also would automatically end stamp redemption, a big source of revenue for many charitable groups.

Despite the committee's action, the bill faces an uncertain future both in the House and Senate.

Fears have been expressed by State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers that the financially hard - pressed state government might actually lose money in the coming two years, because of a time lag in collections. Gov. C. William O'Neill has said he cannot favor the bill if there appeared to be a chance of any "substantial" revenue loss to the state.

* * *

MERCHANTS buy their sales tax stamps in advance. This prepaid feature gives the state its sales tax revenue before sales actually are made. Under the no-stamp system, the state might be forced to wait as long as six weeks after the sale of merchandise to gets its tax money.

The State Tax Department said this might put sales tax collections as much as $7½ million behind schedule.

Under the committee-approved bill, merchants would be required to pay estimated monthly returns by the 20th of each month and make semi-annual reports in June and December.

Beck's Union Chiefs Book Strategy Talk

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The executive board of the giant Teamsters Union has chosen this sunny Gulf port for a secret strategy meeting next Tuesday.

The emergency meeting was reported to have been called for one main purpose—to decide whether the union will defend itself on AFL-CIO charges that it is substantially dominated by "corrupt" influences.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee has given the Teamsters the date of May 6 for a hearing in Washington if the Teamsters organization wants to defend itself.

An AFI-CIO finding that the corruption charges are true could lead to ousting of the Teamsters from the federation. The union is considered the largest single AFL-CIO affiliate, with about 1,350,000 members.

Disclosures about Teamster President Dave Beck's admitted personal use of large sums of Teamsters Union funds, as well as involvement of other Teamsters top officials in various charges, have shaken the huge labor organization to its roots.

It is reported some of the union stop officers will insist that the union appear before the AFL-CIO committee May 6, but other union officials, including Beck, were reported to be balking and counseling instead that the union snub the entire AFL-CIO proceedings, whatever the consequences.

House Passes Bill Revoking Pay Hikes

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Republican-controlled Ohio House today passed 109-23 a Senate approved bill revoking salary increases for cabinet members and key appointive officials, approved three months earlier at the request of Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Efforts of Democrats to increase salaries about 20 per cent over their original level failed.

Passage of the bill eliminates $6,000 annual raises for most cabinet members. Unchanged was the $30,000 annual salary of Ohio's new highway chief and increases granted members of the public utilities commission. Pay of the yet-to-be-named director of mental health was cut from $25,000 to $18,000 a year.

Decision Given By State Board

Tax Commissioners Ruling Reversed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Grain stored off the farm under the federal farm price support program is not subject to state tangible personal property taxes.

The State Board of Tax Appeals made that decision today in an appeal from previous State Tax Commission assessments. The case was started by Ray R. and Ruth D. Maddox of Washington C. H. who appealed from an assessment of $123 on grain raised from 1952 through 1954.

The grain had been delivered to an elevator in Fayette County under a Commodity Credit Corp. agreement.

The main question in the case, the board said, was who owned the crops on Jan. 1 of the years they were stored. That is the tax lien date.

The board ruled the Maddox's did not own the crops on the tax lien days and that Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers had no right to tax the wheat.

* * *

Decision Bolsters Injunction Here

The decision of the state Board of Tax Appeals bolsters the injunction granted by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court here restraining Auditor Harry Allen and Treasurer Charles A. Fabb from collecting the personal property tax on wheat.

The injunction petition was filed by Rollo M. Marchant and Glenn L. Smith, who contended they had sold their wheat when they deposited the money they received for it from the Commodity Credit Corp. and paid income taxes on it.

The injunction was effective only in Fayette County, but its implications spread to every county in Ohio.

The decision of the Board of Tax Appeals in the appeal of Ray R. and Ruth Maddox relates to the same principles involved in the injunction granted by the Common Pleas Court.

Both the Maddox case and the injunction of Marchant and Smith had the backing of the Fayette County Farm Bureau directors, who approved a retainer fee for legal counsel.

The complete decision of the Board of Tax Appeals has not been received here yet.

Dr. Geer Enters Plea of Guilty

CELINA (AP) — Fairfield County Coroner Dr. Joseph A. Geer, in a surprise move today, pleaded guilty to 13 counts of "unlawfully making false prescriptions for narcotics."

Mercer County Common Pleas Judge Paul Dull accepted the plea and placed Dr. Geer on two years probation under the condition that he resign as coroner.

U. S. Winter Wheat Harvest To Be Well Below Average

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 665,080,000 bushels.

This estimate is 44,080,000 bushels more than the 625 million forecast last December. It compares with 724,995,000 bushels produced last year and 862,471,000 for the 10-year (1946-55) average.

The crop will be considerably smaller than average because of government acreage restrictions and retirement of some wheat land from production under the soil bank program. These programs are designed to hold down production until surpluses from past big crops can be reduced.

The department aid the indicated production for Ohio would be 37,544,000 bushels this year compared to 39,676,000 in 1956. The department also said that Ohio had 3,174,000 bushels of wheat stocked on farms on April 1 this year compared to 6,074,000 bushels last year. For corn, the figures were 94,254,000 bushels this year and 103,845,000 last year.

* * *

IN MAKING its forecast for the nation, the department gave no forecast for spring wheat because it has not yet been planted. But on the basis of prospective plantings and average acre yields, the crop would be about 175 million bushels.

Thus a winter wheat crop of the indicated size of 669,080,000 bushels and a spring crop of 175,000,000 bushels would give a total production of 844,080,000 bushels. This compares with 997,207,000 produced last year and 1,148,289,000 for the 10-year average.

Such a crop would be smaller than prospective market demands of around 900 million bushels. But surpluses would fill the deficit.

Stocks of corn for grain on farms April 1 were reported at 1,615,149,000 bushels of 52.4 per cent of last year's crop. This compared with 1,494,102,000 or 51.8 per cent of the previous year's crop a year ago and 1,319,022,000 or 47 per cent for the 10-year April 1 average.

Stocks of wheat on farms were put at 165,959,000 bushels or 16.6 per cent of last year's production. This compared with 216,741,000 or 23.2 per cent a year ago and 222,782,000 or 19.4 per cent for the 10-year average.

President Eisenhower had made a similar comment at his news conference earlier in the day, expressing hope "that the thing can now be dropped" and good relations restored.

State Department authorities declared that the new Canadian demand would be given the most serious consideration. It appeared evident that they, at least, hoped that some kind of an agreement satisfactory to the Canadian government could be worked out.

Chillicothe Adopts City Income Tax

CHILLICOTHE (AP) — Chillicothe City Council Wednesday night adopted an ordinance calling for a one-half per cent city income tax.

Mayor Forrest Harper, who last month vetoed an ordinance for a one per cent tax, signed the new measure after Council voted 5-2 to adopt the tax.

The levy is effective May 1 and runs to Dec. 31, 1958. The city is expected to realize $120,000 from the tax this year.

Teamsters Strike Dayton Newspapers

DAYTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union today struck the Dayton Journal Herald and the Dayton Daily News, over a wage dispute involving 25 janitors.

Local 176 of the Teamsters Union struck after refusing the company's wage increase offer of 30-50 cents an hour.

Richard Loy, secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters local, said the union was seeking a pay raise of 50-70 cents an hour. He said the janitors receive $1 an hour.

Income Tax Slash Possibility Grows

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax reduction at this session of Congress became an increasing possibility today.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the controlling Democratic majority in the House, said prospects are "good" for a tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

He commented after a policy meeting Wednesday with Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Rayburn's statement reflected Democratic determination to make tax reduction at this session of Congress a party issue and possibly beat the Republicans to the wire before next year's elections.

Appraising the tax situation, Rayburn made clear his belief that Congress can pass a tax reduction bill in time to apply to next year's income — provided the government's tax revenues hold up at anticipated levels, and Congress continues its budget-cutting campaign.

* * *

REPUBLICANS, who thus far have taken no official position, displayed an eagerness to get into the act on their own. President Eisenhower and his tax advisers have taken a wait-and-see position on tax reduction, with suggestions that revenue surpluses be applied first to debt reduction.

Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts reported he, too, was "for a tax cut just as soon as we can do it." Commenting on Rayburn's statement, he added, "If we can cut spending, we'll join 'em."

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, said he was "just as anxious for a tax cut as anyone, providing he can do it with safety to our fiscal affairs."

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he believed the House will make enough cuts in Eisenhower's $71.8 billion spending budget to justify income tax reduction.

The House already has slashed $1 billion from the President's budget. Still to come are the principal sources of still larger potential slashes—the defense and foreign and appropriation bills. But the Senate, which frequently increases the House figures, has not yet acted on any of the bills.

Ike Seeking New Airways Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to set up a new agency to decide on ways of modernizing the nation's airways control system to handle ever-increasing traffic.

"This measure will greatly expedite the improvement of air traffic control and air navigation and I therefore urge its early enactment," the President said in a special message.

Budget-Cutters Eye Own Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Appropriations Committee members, who have been taking a generally dim view of agency requests for more money, are about to vote on such a special request for House committees.

House Clerk Ralph R. Roberts has asked $300,000 in supplemental committee funds for this fiscal year ending June 30.

Roberts said the committtes are running out of the $1,400,000 originally voted them for the year.

"At the rate the committees are going," disbursing clerk Harry M. Livingston added, "they'll make still another request before the fiscal year is over."

Boys, 12 and 13, Admit Burglary

Confessions Solve Rose School Job

Two Rose Ave. School pupils, one of them 12, the other 13, and both with previous records, were taken into custody Wednesday afternoon for the $16.20 burglary at t h e i r school Tuesday night.

They were picked up Wednesday afternoon by Police Chief D. Vaiden Long and Patrolman Herschel Taylor, only a few hours after the robbery took place.

The 12-year-old is in the fourth grade. The 13-year-old is in the sixth. Confronted with accusations from the police, the p a i r admitted the nighttime burglary and turned over $14.27 remaining from their $16.20 haul.

The pair told police they entered the school by jimmying a half-basement window with a claw-bar and rifled two teacher's desks. About $10 was taken from o n e desk, $6 from another.

Both boys have been charg e d previously with breaking and entering. The older boy has b e e n taken into custody on three other occasions, police said, while this is the second trip in for the younger one.

Dublin Mayor To Be Feted In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Irish and Jewish civic leaders today welcome The Right Honorable Robert Briscoe, lord mayor of Dublin.

The 63-year-old mayor, who is touring the United States to raise funds for Jewish refugees and to promote investment of American capital in Irish industry, will arrive by plane. He will fly back to Chicago tomorrow.

Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze will present him with a kep to the city. At John Carroll University he will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Briscoe's major appearance will be at a dinner meeting of the 1957 Jewish Welfare Fund Appeal in Hotel Statler. He is to speak on the overseas work of the United Jewish Appeal.

Born in a Dublin suburb of a Lithuanian mother and German father, Briscoe has maintained that "there is no need for such excitement" over the fact that a Jew has been named mayor of the overwhelmingly I r i s h Catholic city. He says:

"I definitely consider myself the Irish mayor of an Irish city. The fact that I am Jewish is an interesting sidelight and a wonderful comment on the Irish people."

Ike Tells Congress To Cut Soil Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today told Congress it can cut $254 million from the $1,254,000,000 he asked to operate the soil bank program in the 12 months beginning July 1.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that the change resulted from a detailed study of operations of the soil bank program which has just been completed.

This study showed, he said, that "the financial needs of the program in 1958 will be less than was contemplated at the time of the preparation of the 1958 budget."

Youths Say Youths Lack Discipline

ELY, Nev. (AP)—A panel of teenagers says high s c h o o l youngsters need more discipline.

Six students appeared on the panel Wednesday with six adults at the Nevada Parent-Teacher Assn. convention.

The boys and girls criticized police for failure to halt drag racing in Ely and for a lack of enforcement of laws against the sale of liquor to minors.

"We're not getting enough discipline; we're getting away with murder," said one youth. The other youngsters agreed.

They added that stricter discipline at home also is needed.

Delay of Perrill Bill Sought by Opponents At Committee Hearing

A delegation of around 150 Fayette Co.ntians packed the H o u s e Education Committee hearing room in the state capitol Wedn e s d a y night to lend moral support to J. Herbert Perrill, Edwin Buck a n d Taylor Groff as they spoke in opposition to a bill offered by Rep. Virgil Perrill to abolish c o u n t y school districts and administrators in counties in which there is only one local school district.

J. Herbert Perrill, a member of the Miami Trace board, told the committee he was not opposed to the bill in princip ; that he was interested primarily in making certain that there was nothing in the measure that would pave the way for further litigation to hold up the $1,652,500 Miami Trace building program.

He noted that the bond issue was approved last November and described it as a "mandate" from the people.

Buck, who was a member of the Miami Trace fact finding committee that recommended t h e building program, also said he was not opposed to the principles of the bill, but urged the committeemen to maker certain it contained safeguards against further delay in the building program. He also asked the committee to study the bill further.

Groff, president of the Miami Trace school board, said merely that he felt Perrill and B u c k had expressed the feelings of the Miami Trace board.

The gist of the opposition to the bill was: (1) To forestall any legislative action what would delay the Miami Trace building prog r a m and (2) delay the effective date of the measure, should it be approved by the legislature.

* * *

RICHARD SNYDER, a member of the Miami Trace board, w h o spoke against the bill at the first hearing a week ago, summed up the sentiments of the board. He said Thursday morning it wanted to delay the effective date of the bill until Jan. 1, 1959. He added that the board members, all of whom were at the hearing, found no fault with the principles of the bill, which he described as "practical and bbusinesslike," explain-

Tax Stamp End Urged

Ohio House Committee OKs Change in Law

COLUMBUS (AP)—A bill to eliminate stamps in the collection of Ohio's three per cent sales tax was recommended for passage by the House Taxation Committee today. The vote was 15-7.

Elimination of the stamps is estimated to promise a saving to the state of $11½ million a year.

In addition to the saving on printing and the two per cent discount allowed vendors, elimination of the stamps also would automatically end stamp redemption, a big source of revenue for many charitable groups.

Despite the committee's action, the bill faces an uncertain future both in the House and Senate.

Fears have been expressed by State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers that the financially hard - pressed state government might actually lose money in the coming two years, because of a time lag in collections. Gov. C. William O'Neill has said he cannot favor the bill if there appeared to be a chance of any "substantial" revenue loss to the state.

* * *

MERCHANTS buy their sales tax stamps in advance. This prepaid feature gives the state its sales tax revenue be ore sales actually are made. Under the no-stamp system, the state might be forced to wait as long as six weeks after the sale of merchandise to gets its tax money.

The State Tax Department said this might put sales tax collections as much as $7½ million behind schedule.

Under the committee-approved bill, merchants would be required to pay estimated monthly returns by the 20th of each month and make semi-annual reports in June and December.

Beck's Union Chiefs Book Strategy Talk

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The executive board of the giant Teamsters Union has chosen this sunny Gulf port for a secret strategy meeting next Tuesday.

The emergency meeting was reported to have been called for one main purpose—to decide whether the union will defend itself on AFL-CIO charges that it is substantially dominated by "corrupt" influences.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee has given the Teamsters the date of May 6 for a hearing in Washington if the Teamsters organization wants to defend itself.

An AFI-CIO finding that the corruption charges are true could lead to ousting of the Teamsters from the federation. The union is considered the largest single AFL-CIO affiliate, with about 1,350,000 members.

Disclosures about Teamster President Dave Beck's admitted personal use of large sums of Teamsters Union funds, as well as involvement of other Teamsters top officials in various charges, have shaken the huge labor organization to its roots.

It is reported some of the union stop officers will insist that the union appear before the AFL-CIO committee May 6, but other union officials, including Beck, were reported to be balking and counseling instead that the union snub the entire AFL-CIO proceedings, whatever the consequences.

Decision Given By State Board

Tax Commissioners Ruling Reversed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Grain stored off the farm under the federal farm price support program is not subject to state tangible personal property taxes.

The State Board of Tax Appeals made that decision today in an appeal from previous State Tax Commission assessments. T h e case was started by Ray R. and Ruth D. Maddox of Washington C. H. who appealed from an assessment of $123 on grain raised from 1952 through 1954.

The grain had been delivered to an elevator in Fayette County under a Commodity Credit Corp. agreement.

The main question in the case, the board said, was who owned the crops on Jan. 1 of the years they were stored. That is the tax lien date.

The board ruled the Maddox's did not own the crops on the tax lien days and that Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers had no right to tax the wheat.

Decision Bolsters Injunction Here

The decision of the state Board of Tax Appeals bolsters the injunction granted by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court here restraining Auditor Harry A l l e n and Treasurer Charles A. F a b b from collecting the personal property tax on wheat.

The injunction petition was filed by Rollo M. Marchant and Glenn L. Smith, who contended they had sold their wheat when they deposited the money they received for it from the Commodity Credit Corp. and paid income taxes on it.

The injunction was effective only in Fayette County, but its implications spread to every county in Ohio.

The decision of the Board of Tax Appeals in the appeal of Ray R. and Ruth Maddox relates to the same principles involved in the injunction granted by the Common Pleas Court.

Both the Maddox case and t h e injunction of Marchant and Smith had the backing of the F a yette County Farm Bureau directo r s, who approved a retainer fee for legal counsel.

The complete decision of t h e Board of Tax Appeals has not been received here yet.

House Passes Bill Revoking Pay Hikes

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Republican-controlled Ohio House today passed 109-23 a Senate approved bill revoking salary increases for cabinet members and key appointive officials, approved t h r e e months earlier at the request of Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Efforts of Democrats to increase salaries about 20 per cent over their original level failed.

Passage of the bill eliminates $6,000 annual raises for most cabinet members. Unchanged was the $30,000 annual salary of Ohio's new highway chief and increases granted members of the public utilities commission. Pay of the yet-to-be-named director of mental health was cut from $25,000 to $18,000 a year.

Dr. Geer Enters Plea of Guilty

CELINA (AP) — Fairfield County Coroner Dr. Joseph A. Geer, in a surprise move today, pleaded guilty to 13 counts of "unlawfully making false prescriptions for narcotics."

Mercer County Common Pleas Judge Paul Dull accepted the plea and placed Dr. Geer on two years probation under the condition that he resign as coroner.

U. S. Winter Wheat Harvest To Be Well Below Average

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 669,080,000 bushels.

This estimate is 44,080,000 bushels mo e than the 625 million forecast last December. It compares with 724,995,000 bushels produced last year and 862,471,000 for the 10-year (1946-55) average.

The crop will be considerably smaller than average because of government acreage restrictions and retirement of some wheat land from production under the soil bank program. These programs are designed to hold down production until surpluses from past big crops can be reduced.

The department aid the indicated production for Ohio would be 37,544,000 bushels this year compared to 39,676,000 in 1956. The department also said that Ohio had 3,174,000 bushels of wheat stocked on farms on April 1 this year compared to 6,074,000 bushels last year. For corn, the figures were 94,254,000 bushels this year and 103,845,000 last year.

* * *

IN MAKING its forecast for the nation, the department gave no forecast for spring wheat because it has not yet been planted. But on the basis of prospective plantings and average acre yields, the crop would be about 175 million bushels.

Thus a winter wheat crop of the indicated size of 669,080,000 bushels and a spring crop of 175,000,000 bushels would give a total production of 844,080,000 bushels. This compares with 997,207,000 produced last year and 1,148,289,000 for the 10-year average.

Such a crop would be smaller than prospective market demands of around 900 million bushels. But surpluses would fill the deficit.

Stocks of corn for grain on farms April 1 were reported at 1,615,149,000 bushels of 52.4 per cent of last year's crop. This compared with 1,494,102,000 or 51.8 per cent of the previous year's crop a year ago and 1,319,022,000 or 47 per cent for the 10-year April 1 average.

Stocks of wheat on farms were put at 165,959,000 bushels or 16.6 per cent of last year's production. This compared with 216,741,000 or 23.2 per cent a year ago and 222,782,000 or 19.4 per cent for the 10-year average.

Pure Oil Dealers Given Plaques

Appreciation Dinner Held Here for Seven

Bronze service plaques were awarded to seven Pure Oil Co. station operators at an "appreciation dinner" at the Country Club here Wednesday night.

The presentations were made by J. C. Egan of Columbus, district manager and master of ceremonies for the after-dinner program, to Mrs. Hope Free, who has had the Pure Oil station at Fruitdale since 1952; Gerald Stevens of Washington C. H., since 1951; Ben Montgomery of Washington C. H., since 1949; Lawrence Sharrett of Jeffersonville, since 1948; F. R. Charles of Greenfield, since 1936; and Ulric Allen of Milledgeville, since 1934.

Ben Tobin of Columbus, assistant division manager, presented the plaque to Russell Schnell, the dean of the Pure Oil dealers here, who has been associated with the company since 1932. His station is at the junction of Circle Ave. and W. Court St.

• • •

ABOUT 50 fellow Pure Oil dealer and their wives applauded as each plaque was presented.

Tobin assured the group that the occasion was one for a good time, not for speeches. However, both he and Egan took time to commend each of the dealers as they were awarded their plaques and to direct brief complimentary remarks "to the ladies who have to put up with long hours and uncertainty of meal times."

A. Jerry Grundies, branch manager here, and Mrs. Grundies were in the role of host and hostess, greeting the guests of the company at the door and making them acquainted in the informal atmosphere before dinner.

The table arranged in the form of a big "U" were colorful with baskkts of spring flowers. At each place were placecard-programs with apple blossoms hand painted on the covers by Mrs. Grundies, art teacher of the city elementary schools.

Following the dinner there was group singing. The evening came to a lingering close with games. Winners were awarded prizes that ranged from electric toasters to towel sets—and the bouquets on the tables.

New Super Road To Gird Cincy

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways plans to build a super highway that will bound Cincinnati on three sides, State Highway Chief Charles M. Noble announced today.

The route would begin on U.S. 50 just west of Kilby Road. From there it would make a huge semicircle around Cincinnati's west, north, and east sides. The north portion of the road would reach the Hamilton-Butler County line and the west section would swing into Clermont County, joining U. S. 52.

The route, being studied by consulting engineers, would relieve downtown Cincinnati of through highway traffic.

Reuther Seeks New Skilled Worker Deal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther is offering a plan today to the United Auto Workers convention to keep craft unions from taking skilled workers from the big industrial union.

Reuther, who was unanimously re-elected UAW president Wednesday for a seventh term, already has pledged his supporters to amend the union's constitution to take care of the demands of skilled workers.

The proposed changes would permit skilled groups to negotiate supplemental contracts for pay increases substantially beyond contract minimums.

Reuther said the changes did not mean abandonment of industrial unionism. He called if "refining the industrial structure of our union."

The changes also are designed to carry out Reuther's program of organizing engineers, technicians and other white-collar workers.

The UAW leadership has had difficulty keeping skilled tradesmen happy ever since the current contracts were negotiated in 1955. Some skilled workers complained they were getting only about 20 cents an hour more than unskilled production workers.

At present the average pay for production workers is $2.34 an hour. The average rate of skilled workers ranges upward from $2.60 an hour.

1-Room Schools Fade; Taxes Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one-room country school is rapidly disappearing from the rural scene. But this does not mean that farmers are saving on school taxes.

Government surveys show that real estate and personal property taxes for 1956 will be about 5.1 per cent higher than a year earlier. They will total $1,204,000,000, which is equivalent to nearly 11 per cent of farmers' net income from agriculture last year. The bulk of the 1956 increase in these local taxes went to schools.

Council Holds Short Session

Rents 8-Acre Tract For Pasture Purposes

City Council held a short session Wednesday night which included a report by City Manager James F. Parkinson on current operations at the sewage treatment plent.

City Solicitor William Junk was out of the state, and there was no legislation.

However, Council did agree to rent eight of the 10-acre tract recently purchased from Bud and Mary Brownell for cemetery expansion purposes to Otis B. Core for use as pasture for saddle horses.

The city will seed the acreage in grass and will receive $150 per annum for use of the pasture and the barn.

Parksinson told Council that the March 28 change-over at the sewage plant has had satisfactory results and that Fire Chief George Hall, who on that date relinquished his extra duties as plant superintendent, has given every cooperation to Chalmer Markham, the new superintendent.

Gerald Courter is assistant plant chief.

Redmon Trial Grows More Confusing

CINCINNATI (AP) — The trial of Arthur L. Redmon, 29, on a charge of first degree murder neared its end today in a welter of conflicting statements.

Redmon is accused of having started a fire in an apartment here last November in which eight persons, six of them children, lost their lives. The state claims he started the fire because he was angered at Johnetta Clark, 20.

Police claim he admitted starting the fire but he later repudiated the statement. Redmon declared Wednesday he signed the alleged confession because of a misunderstanding.

Mrs. Clark first testified that Redmon threatened to kill her but she appeared later as a defense witness and repudiated that statement. She said she made it because she was confused.

Wednesday the state introduced a recording of questioning of her by police in which she was asked if Redmon ever threatened her. She said:

"He said he would kill me but would kill hisself if he killed me."

That brought a defense motion for a mistrial on the grounds it was prejudicial to Redmon.

Judge Carson Hoy overruled the motion but directed that the entire recording be played for the jury of six men and six women so that the particular question and answer would not appear to be out of context.

Mystery Citizen Pays Tax again

COLUMBUS (AP)—Columbus' mysterious taxpayer made another $500 payment to the Internal Revenue Service here Wednesday. Since 1945, he or she has sent $4,900 with only the notation "income tax payment."

Nathaniel Looker, internal revenue director here said the envelope once again carried the name "P. A. Pragel." Sometimes it has been spelled "Pragle," he said. There was no return address, as in prior years, when it was given as 12 E. Stewart Ave., a church.

Looker said $300 was received in 1945 and 1947, $400 each year from 1948 through 1954, and $500 annually in the last three years.

California Backyard Crater Probed by Ordnance Experts

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (AP)—The mystery of the backyard crater deepens.

Exactly what caused the crater has not been determined, but demolition experts believe some "unidentified object" crashed into the ground. This theory has taken Army Ordnance experts 10 feet deep into the backyard of the Oscar Murphy residence.

"A falling object caused the crater," said an Army spokesman. "We want to get to it to make sure it isn't dangerous."

What residents thought was a sonic boom rocked the San Gabriel Valley, a Los Angeles suburb, early Tuesday.

Later, Pat Murphy, 10, found the crater in the back yard of his home. He told his father about it. Murphy called the sheriff who called the Army.

Ordnance experts at nearby Ft. MacArthur began digging early Wednesday.

By dark Wednesday night a hole about 10 feet wide and 10 feet deep, shored with heavy timbers, had been sunk into sandy soil without discovering anything more menacing than a rusted baby carriage.

Ordnance men said that the crater could have been caused by a falling missile, a meteor, a 100-pound dud bomb or any other object about six inches in diameter.

"There was no explosion when the object hit," said an Army man. He said many Air Force planes were flying at the time of the reported sonic boom.

Perrill Bill Hearing

ed that they sought to prevent any further litigation that would hold up the sale of the bonds and the completion of the building program.

Although this hearing was primarily for opponents of the bill—as the first one was for proponents—F. Scott Zimmerman received the committee's permission to speak for it briefly. He said the county school board and superintendent's office received $13,000 in 1955 and $16,000 in 1956 in addition to allocations from the state school foundation program. He insisted the bill would lend itself to greater economy and efficiency of operation.

Tom O'Keefe, financial advisor of the Ohio Education Assn., made three points when he spoke before the committee: (1) That county superintendents were concerned over the bill for fear that it would slow consolidation of school districts; (2) that the money from the state that now goes to the county boards could not be paid legally to local district boards and (3) that Fayette County was the first in the state to consolidate all local districts in to one.

• • •

REP. PERRILL offered two amendments to his bill during the committee session. One would make the effective date of the measure Dec. 31, 1957 and the other provided for perpetuation of Citizens Committees now operating.

A Citizens Committee has been created in Fayette County to study the overall school problems, including those of Washington C. H.

Members of the Citizens Committee from the Fayette County and Miami Trace districts were among the approximately 150 opposing the bill at the hearing. So were all five members of the Miami Trace district school board.

This was one of the biggest delegations of Fayette Countians ever to attend a legislative hearing in the state capital.

Around 25 supporters of the measure were there also.

News in Brief

Israel Denies Egyptian Claim

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman denied today Egyptian charges that Israeli troops still hold two points on the Egyptian Aqaba Gulf coast.

The spokesman, Moshe Leshem, said no protest had reached Israel from any United Nations authorities on the claims.

There was no comment on another Egyptian charge that U.N. troops in the Gaza Strip are crossing the border to fraternize with Israeli women soldiers.

An official Egyptian source complained that Israeli troops were still stationed at Taba, a small town six miles southwest of the southern Israeli port of Eilat, and at Ras el Nakb, apparently a point in the Sinai Peninsula 20 miles north of U.N. - held Sharm el Sheikh.

The United Nations declared officially March 8 that all Israeli forces had left Egyptian territory and the Gazr Strip.

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced willingness today to let Egypt transfer 15 million pounds (42 million dollars) of her blocked sterling balance in London to Sudan. The action was the first release of Egyptian funds since Britain froze them after the Suez crisis last year.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Four persons survived the flaming crash of a Brazilian airliner on Anchieta Island Wednesday night. All 24 others aboard perished, by official report. The plane was en route from Rio De Janeiro to Sao Paulo.

TANANARIVE, Madagascar (AP) —Archbishop Makarios left by air for Nairobi and Athens today after being held 13 months on the Seychelle Islands north of Madagascar. Makarios and his Greek Cypriot supporters demand that Britain let them vote to unite with Greece. Makarios was exiled after Britain accused him of directing the Greek Cypriot campaign.

Midwest GOP Chiefs Study 'How to Win'

OMAHA (AP) — Republicans from eight Midwest states were to open the first of six "how to win" sessions today in the heart of traditionally Republican territory.

But even here, the urgency of the Republican problem is apparent, for the GOP suffered losses in the farm states in 1956.

Seven of the eight states represented were in the Republican column last year but the GOP actually lost ground in four—Iowa, Kansas, Colorado and South Dakota.

Only two of the eight maintain solidly Republican congressional delegations. They are Nebraska and North Dakota. Minnesota's congressional delegation is split—five Republicans and four Democrats. Oklahoma has five Democrats and one Republican.

National Republican Chairman Meade Alcorn, who was to preside at the meeting, says, "The campaign in the farm states will be tough. We are not conceding anything, but we are being coldly realistic."

Special committees will work behind closed doors, starting Friday, on Republican organization, formulation of state, congressional and county conferences, Democratic weaknesses and Republican goals. The budget and "Modern Republicanism" probably will be discussed. The finance committee was to meet today.

Pure Oil Dealers Given Plaques

Appreciation Dinner Held Here for Seven

Bronze service plaques were awarded to seven Pure Oil Co. station operators at an "appreciation dinner" at the Country Club here Wednesday night.

The presentations were made by J. C. Egan of Columbus, district manager and master of ceremonies for the after-dinner program, to Mrs. Hope Free, who has had the Pure Oil station at Fruitdale since 1952; Gerald Stevens of Washington C. H., since 1951; Ben Montgomery of Washington C. H., since 1949; Lawrence Sharrett of Jeffersonville, since 1948; F. R. Charles of Greenfield, since 1936; and Ulric Allen of Milledgeville, since 1934.

Ben Tobin of Columbus, assistant division manager, presented the plaque to Russell Schnell, the dean of the Pure Oil dealers here, who has been associated with the company since 1932. His station is at the junction of Circle Ave. and W. Court St.

* * *

ABOUT 50 fellow Pure Oil dealer and their wives applauded as each plaque was presented.

Tobin assured the group that the occasion was one for a good time, not for speeches. However, both he and Egan took time to commend each of the dealers as they were awarded their plaques and to direct brief complimentary remarks "to the ladies who have to put up with long hours and uncertainty of meal times."

A. Jerry Grundies, branch manager here, and Mrs. Grundies were in the role of host and hostess, greeting the guests of the company at the door and making them acquainted in the informal atmosphere before dinner.

The table arranged in the form of a big "U" were colorful with baskkts of spring flowers. At each place were placecard-programs with apple blossoms hand painted on the covers by Mrs. Grundies, art teacher of the city elementary schools.

Following the dinner there was group singing. The evening came to a lingering close with games. Winners were awarded prizes that ranged from electric toasters to towel sets—and the bouquets on the tables.

New Super Road To Gird Cincy

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways plans to build a super highway that will bound Cincinnati on three sides, State Highway Chief Charles M. Noble announced today.

The route would begin on U.S. 50 just west of Kilby Road. From there it would make a huge semicircle around Cincinnati's west, north, and east sides. The north portion of the road would reach the Hamilton-Butler County line and the west section would swing into Clermont County, joining U. S. 52.

The route, being studied by consulting engineers, would relieve downtown Cincinnati of through highway traffic.

Reuther Seeks New Skilled Worker Deal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther is offering a plan today to the United Auto Workers convention to keep craft unions from taking skilled workers from the big industrial union.

Reuther, who was unanimously re-elected UAW president Wednesday for a seventh term, already has pledged his supporters to amend the union's constitution to take care of the demands of skilled workers.

The proposed changes would permit skilled groups to negotiate supplemental contracts for pay increases substantially beyond contract minimums.

Reuther said the changes did not mean abandonment of industrial unionism. He called if "refining the industrial structure of our union."

The changes also are designed to carry out Reuther's program of organizing engineers, technicians and other white-collar workers.

The UAW leadership has had difficulty keeping skilled tradesmen happy ever since the current contracts were negotiated in 1955. Some skilled workers complained they were getting only about 20 cents an hour more than unskilled production workers.

At present the average pay for production workers is $2.34 an hour. The average rate of skilled workers ranges upward from $2.60 an hour.

1-Room Schools Fade; Taxes Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one-room country school is rapidly disappearing from the rural scene. But this does not mean that farmers are saving on school taxes.

Government surveys show that real estate and personal property taxes for 1956 will be about 5.1 per cent higher than a year earlier. They will total $1,204,000,000, which is equivalent to nearly 11 per cent of farmers' net income from agriculture last year. The bulk of the 1956 increase in these local taxes went to schools.

Council Holds Short Session

Rents 8-Acre Tract For Pasture Purposes

City Council held a short session Wednesday night which included a report by City Manager James F. Parkinson on current operations at the sewage treatment plent.

City Solicitor William Junk was out of the state, and there was no legislation.

However, Council did agree to rent eight of the 10-acre tract recently purchased from Bud and Mary Brownell for cemetery expansion purposes to Otis B. Core for use as pasture for saddle horses.

The city will seed the acreage in grass and will receive $150 per annum for use of the pasture and the barn.

Parksinson told Council that the March 28 change-over at the sewage plant has had satisfactory results and that Fire Chief George Hall, who on that date relinquished his extra duties as plant superintendent, has given every cooperation to Chalmer Markham, the new superintendent.

Gerald Courter is assistant plant chief.

Redmon Trial Grows More Confusing

CINCINNATI (AP) — The trial of Arthur L. Redmon, 29, on a charge of first degree murder neared its end today in a welter of conflicting statements.

Redmon is accused of having started a fire in an apartment here last November in which eight persons, six of them children, lost their lives. The state claims he started the fire because he was angered at Johnetta Clark, 20.

Police claim he admitted starting the fire but he later repudiated the statement. Redmon declared Wednesday he signed the alleged confession because of a misunderstanding.

Mrs. Clark first testified that Redmon threatened to kill her but she appeared later as a defense witness and repudiated that statement. She said she made it because she was confused.

Wednesday the state introduced a recording of questioning of her by police in which she was asked if Redmon ever threatened her. She said:

"He said he would kill me but would kill hisself if he killed me."

That brought a defense motion for a mistrial on the grounds it was prejudicial to Redmon.

Judge Carson Hoy overruled the motion but directed that the entire recording be played for the jury of six men and six women so that the particular question and answer would not appear to be out of context.

Mystery Citizen Pays Tax again

COLUMBUS (AP)—Columbus' mysterious taxpayer made another $500 payment to the Internal Revenue Service here Wednesday. Since 1945, he or she has sent $4,900 with only the notation "income tax payment."

Nathaniel Looker, internal revenue director here said the envelope once again carried the name "P. A. Pragel." Sometimes it has been spelled "Pragle," he said. There was no return address, as in prior years, when it was given as 12 E. Stewart Ave., a church.

Looker said $300 was received in 1945 and 1947, $400 each year from 1948 through 1954, and $500 annually in the last three years.

California Backyard Crater Probed by Ordnance Experts

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (AP)—The mystery of the backyard crater deepens.

Exactly what caused the crater has not been determined, but demolition experts believe some "unidentified object" crashed into the ground. This theory has taken Army Ordnance experts 10 feet deep into the backyard of the Oscar Murphy residence.

"A falling object caused the crater," said an Army spokesman. "We want to get to it to make sure it isn't dangerous."

What residents thought was a sonic boom rocked the San Gabriel Valley, a Los Angeles suburb, early Tuesday.

Later, Pat Murphy, 10, found the crater in the back yard of his home. He told his father about it. Murphy called the sheriff who called the Army.

Ordnance experts at nearby Ft. MacArthur began digging early Wednesday.

By dark Wednesday night a hole about 10 feet wide and 10 feet deep, shored with heavy timbers, had been sunk into sandy soil without discovering anything more menacing than a rusted baby carriage.

Ordnance men said that the crater could have been caused by a falling missile, a meteor, a 100-pound dud bomb or any other object about six inches in diameter.

"There was no explosion when the object hit," said an Army man. He said many Air Force planes were flying at the time of the reported sonic boom.

ed that they sought to prevent any further litigation that would hold up the sale of the bonds and the completion of the building program.

Although this hearing was primarily for opponents of the bill —as the first one was for proponents—F. Scott Zimmerman received the committee's permission to speak for it briefly. He said the county school board and superintendent's office received $13,000 in 1955 and $16,000 in 1956 in addition to allocations from the state school foundation program. He insisted the bill would lend itself to greater economy and efficiency of operation.

Tom O'Keefe, financial advisor of the Ohio Education Assn., made three points when he spoke before the committee: (1) That county superintendents were concerned over the bill for fear that it would slow consolidation of school districts; (2) that the money from the state that now goes to the county boards could not be paid legally to local district boards and (3) that Fayette County was the first in the state to consolidate all local districts in to one.

* * *

REP. PERRILL offered two amendments to his bill during the committee session. One would make the effective date of the measure Dec. 31, 1957 and the other provided for perpetuation of Citizens Committees now operating.

A Citizens Committee has been created in Fayette County to study the overall school problems, including those of Washington C. H.

Members of the Citizens Committee from the Fayette County and Miami Trace districts were among the approximately 150 opposing the bill at the hearing. So were all five members of the Miami Trace district school board.

This was one of the biggest delegations of Fayette Countians ever to attend a legislative hearing in the state capital.

Around 25 supporters of the measure were there also.

News in Brief

Israel Denies Egyptian Claim

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman denied today Egyptian charges that Israeli troops still hold two points on the Egyptian Aqaba Gulf coast.

The spokesman, Moshe Leshem, said no protest had reached Israel from any United Nations authorities on the claims.

There was no comment on another Egyptian charge that U.N. troops in the Gaza Strip are crossing the border to fraternize with Israeli women soldiers.

An official Egyptian source complained that Israeli troops were still stationed at Taba, a small town six miles southwest of the southern Israeli port of Eilat, and at Ras el Nakb, apparently a point in the Sinai Peninsula 20 miles north of U.N. - held Sharm el Sheikh.

The United Nations declared officially March 8 that all Israeli forces had left Egyptian territory and the Gazr Strip.

Some Advice for Safer Night Driving

Three out of five fatal auto accidents occur at night. However nighttime travel can be easier, safer and more fun when motorists follow the advice of professional truck drivers, highway patrolmen and other safety experts.

Many Fayette County people will be enjoying much more motor car travel from now on. Quite a lot of this will be longer trips to and from vacation areas.

Some excellent suggestions are being made by some of these safety experts, recommendations which may be lifesavers in many cases.

They advise reflectorized tape on the rear bumper and clean headlights as important safety factors. Other motorists can tell both the speed and direction of your car more quickly if it's marked with reflectors. Dirty headlights can cut your vision as much as 10 to 25 per cent.

At dusk, drive with full driving lights on, not just parking lights. In fact, today's fast trains run with lighted headlights on in broad daylight. That's for safety— to gain quicker recognition.

Tuesday is the safest night for driving, according to experts. Next in order come Wednesday, Thursday, and then Monday. On Friday nights, accidents increase, and on Saturday and Sunday nights they surge upward. Some truckers try to avoid the weekend "alcoholic traffic."

State troopers warn that new rain makes roads slick after it mixes with the "traffic film" of the highway, so a light drizzle can be more dangerous than a heavy downpour. The reason is that heavy rain will wash the oily film off the pavement in 30 minutes, but it may take two hours for a light drizzle to wash away the film, so, cut your speed sharply until the slick coating has disappeared.

Keep newspapers in your car. Newsprint contains tannic acid, which makes it an excellent windshield cleaner when used with plain water. Also clean the inside of your windshield often, especially on a long trip. Cigarette smoke, industrial fumes, dust, and "fried" oil from the cars ahead coat both sides of the windshield. This foreign matter causes "flashes" in the windshield as headlights come toward you, which tires the eyes.

Several other "owl driver" tips reported are: turn on the dome light when it's safe to do so to relieve tired eyes, change the brightness of the dashboard lights from time to time, and shift stations on the radio to avoid sleepiness.

2 Arms a Handicap to This Man

By Hal Boyle

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP)—When Dick Oliver has a job he wants to finish in a real hurry, the first thing he does is take off his left arm.

Although Dick is grateful to the government for buying him the arm, he explained:

"I can work faster without it."

He can, too. The one-armed, 38-year-old Navy veteran has just completed building his third home single-handed.

Dick, a construction clerk here for a cement company, can also answer the phone type 65 words a minute. He drives his own car, buttons his clothing, ties his shoes and neckties, and is an expert marksman with either rifle or shotgun.

"Anything a man can do with two hands I can do with one," he said stoutly.

The story of Dick Oliver is the story of a man who refused to be handicapped by a handicap. In 1929 while on leave from the naval base at Pearl Harbor he was playfully jostling with some buddies on a railway platform at Topeka. He slipped, fell, and a passing train cut off his left arm above the elbow.

"It was on my 21st birthday—and some present," he recalled. "At first I felt lost and useless to myself. But after the first shock wore off I realized I was no different from anyone else. I still had a living to make."

Dick went back and finished high school, perfected his skill at typing with only one hand. But he felt an odd compulsion to prove that, despite the accident, he could do anything he turned his mind to.

He went to the Pacific Northwest and became a lumberman, felling the big trees. He worked in the farm equipment field, with an auto supply firm, even did a turn at radio announcing.

"Right now I'm studying civil engineering, and I think I'll stay with it. Engineering is something that has a changing problem every day."

Dick, happily settled in his new home with his pretty wife, Lorene, is now teaching his 10-year-old son, Gregg, how to be a baseball catcher.

"That is a little hard to do with only one hand," he admitted.

Here is how he feels about "handicaps" in life:

"It isn't a joke to lose an arm or leg, but if anyone who does will get over his sensitivity and learn to treat it as a joke, he'll get along better."

Dick, who built his $22,000, three-bedroom, two - bathroom home in about a year figures he saved about $8,000 in labor costs by doing his own work.

In one way he feels having only one arm speeded up the job.

"I never had to worry about smashing a finger driving nails," he said, grinning.

Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?

By George Sokolsky

A citizen wrote a letter to the director of the Bureau of the Budget and received what looks like a mimeographed reply which he sent me. The first sentence reads:

"We appreciate your concern about the federal budget and the fact that your interest has been sufficient to prompt your recent communication."

Who should take a greater interest in the budget than the citizen who has to pay taxes? Naturally every citizen has a justifiable gripe about the budget and no matter whether the President holds four or five conflicting opinions on the subject, the citizens knows that he has to pay taxes beyond his ability to pay.

Furthermore, he knows that many are shipping their assets outside the country to avoid taxes and that the more money of that kind that is siphoned off to Canada or Caracas, the more the honest fellows have to pay.

So naturally the subject is interesting and prompts a communication to the director of the budget. However, the director does not answer in the mimeographed reply; he leaves that to somebody by the name of Sweeney, first name not given; identity as to male or female disputable.

In this letter appears the following:

". . .You may be assured that the Bureau of the Budget is working constantly to improve efficiency and to keep federal expenditures down to the minimum necessary to provide for the defense of the country and the services demanded by our people."

What does that mean? Has the Bureau of the Budget taken over the administration of the country? This is supposed to be a bookkeeping outfit that keeps records of needs, desires and appropriations, but the needs are to be decided by the cabinet and the National Security Council, the desires come from every bureau and individual in government and the appropriations are the constitutional function of Congress. How does the Bureau of the Budget get into administration?

There is much in this mimeographed letter that is interesting to the tax-paying citizen. For instance:

"Our 1950 air defense cost $3.6 billion—the 1958 version will require $17.5 billion. One B-36, our major 1950 bomber, cost about $3,700,000; the present da. B-52, $8,000,000. The B-36 had a speed in the range of 435 miles per hour, and a ceiling of over 45,000 feet. But the B-52 can go no more than 650 miles per hour, has flown around the world nonstop, and has a ceiling of ever 50,000 feet. And it can carry the hydrogen bomb. The B-36's are now obsolete, and have no alternative use to which they can be put . . ."

Now there is the rub. We not only are suffering from an inflation to which no politician dares to call a halt, but we are in a race with Russia for the manufacture of war supplies which become obsolescent so quickly that even while an item is in the process of being put through the factories, it is doomed never to be employed.

This must be just as true of the Russians as it is of us; but where will it end? We are not only draining off the wealth of the country but we are using up our natural resources to keep pace with Russia and the fear seems to be that the Russians will beat us in this armament race because slave labor is cheaper than free labor and the greatest cost of production is the cost of labor.

Where will it end? There is no telling which side will be bled white first. Perhaps the victory in this battle will go to those countries which do not manufacture munitions or airplanes or submarines or anything else. In a word, the victory could go to primitive tribes, to Nomads, to countries which produce nothing but population.

Surely this mimeographed letter does not answer anything except to say that we continue to live in a war economy which we no longer can afford. And also the point is made that everybody seems to want something from the government and expects to get it for nothing, not figuring that the greater the subsidies, the higher the taxes.

So, we shall have this enormous budget and hope that we must get a tax cut in 1959 which would engender a favorable atmosphere for the 1960 election. We shall not get it before then. Brother can you spare a dime!

Hearing Aid Noise Could Be Clothes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Just as glasses ai those with sight difficulties, hearings aids help those with hearing troubles.

But those of you who do wear hearing aids may occasionally have difficulties with annoying noises. Frequently, this trouble can be blamed on your clothing.

Valuable Tips

In a recent issue, Better Hearing magazine gives some valuable tips on how to minimize such noises. I think these suggestions are worth passing on to those of you who might benefit from them.

You'll probably find that old and soft-fibered fabrics present relatively little if any noise interference.

On the other hand, such fabrics as nylon, cotton, broadcloth, denim, linen and starched materials are among the noisiest

Snug Carrier

The best way to carry the hearing aid probably is in a snugly fitting carrier of soft material. Men can carry it under the bodice of a dress.

Should you wear your aid in the pocket, be sure to hold it snugly in place with a clip. Don't carry anything else in the same pocket.

Corrosion on the battery terminals or a battery just about at the end of its normal life also may cause noise. Rubbing the terminals occasionally with fine sandpaper or a pencil eraser will help keep them bright and eliminate interference.

Frequent Cleaning

Cleaning the hearing aid every so often will help reduce friction noise. You can use ordinary household ammonia for this job.

If none of these measures eliminates annoying noises, you might do better with one of the new type aids worn entirely at the ear.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. M. S. Is there anything that will help person get rid of liver spots?

Answer: So-called liver spots or brown spots on the skin are really not due to any trouble with the liver.

Your physician should be consulted as to the most advisable method of removing such disfiguring blemishes.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

It's a topsy turvy spring. April snow instead of April showers, April tornadoes instead of April breezes, and a record peacetime budget instead of Republican economy.

They're chipping away at that $72,000,000,000 however. A thousand million here, a thousand million there.

And the way Postmaster Summerfield talked, you began to think you couldn't even write your congressman about it.

Dr. William C. Menninger of the U. of Kansas told the American College of Physicians that there are 3,400,000 problem drinkers in industry. Other statistics also show industry has been highballing it.

The radio engineers convention in Chicago was told radio broadcasting soon will be a fully automated operation. Like used car commercials.

It'll seem a bit weird, switching on the radio-of-the-future. Automated announcing automated soap operas, commercials, and nobody home.

An automated station looks bad for employment& Well, somebody's got to load it.

Favorite figureheads on American sailing ships included Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin and, of all people, Davy Crockett who probably never saw a larger body of water than a river he could swim.

Annexation Set

LORAIN (AP)—Lorain has moved to annex 2,000 acres of land to its west, including the site of a big assembly plant Ford Motor Co. is building. Thirty-seven owner-residents of property in the acreage petitioned Lorain County commissioners to annex the land to Lorain.

2 Houses Jolted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Explosions, believed to have been caused by dynamite, damaged two houses in a white neighborhood Wednesday night. Neighbors said the houses recently had been sold to Negroes.

The U. S. National Guard was named in 1824 for the Garde National that Lafayette commanded in France. Lafayette was then visiting a regiment of the New York State Militia.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PERT YOUNG stenographer, used to riding the subway twice a day at the peak of the rush hour, was taken to her first ball game, and was particularly fascinated by the trio always around the home plate: batter, catcher, and umpire. Came inning number four, and she finally asked her companion, "Why does that man in the blue suit keep leaning over the shoulder of that fellow crouching? I don't see any newspaper."

In the middle of a near-hurricane, Mrs. Jones tapped nervously on the arm of her husband at the wheel and suggested, "Mightn't it be a good idea to stop and wipe the windshield?"

"Wouldn't do a bit of good," snapped Mr. Jones. "I left my glasses at home."

"What," inquired the studio psychiatrist, "are your pet aversions?" "None," answered the starlet heatedly. "I adore all pets."

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Magoffin Humphrey, onetime businessman and now secretary of the Treasury, is not the only one in the Eisenhower administration who talked big about economy and got a bigger dose than he could stand.

Another is Sinclair Weeks, onetime businessman and now secretary of commerce.

Earlier this year, in the midst of the condusion could or should be cut, Weeks took a strong position on the side of the President, who considers his budget fairly tight.

Weeks defended the budget. He said it was designed to carry out the Republican program of "peace, prosperity and progress." By March 17 he was taking a bold stand for slashing the budget. In a TV interview that day he said:

"The thing that scares me" about the handling of the record peacetime budget of 72 billion dollars "is that . . . they will add to it instead of subtracting."

In a generous mood he suggested Congress could start cutting by whacking 50 million dollars off the money asked for his Commerce Department. But two days later Rep. Preston (D-Ga), a member of the House Appropriations Committee, had something to say.

He accused Weeks of doubletalk. Said Preston:

"He's saying one thing to the TV audience for public consumption and another thing to the Appropriations Committee . . .(He) is supporting every handout . . . every subsidy. He said he couldn't find any places to cut his budget. We're going to show him how it can be done."

And the House did. It chopped $217,800,000 off the 871½ millions Weeks wanted for the Commerce Department.

The record of Weeks' testimony before the House committee shows he said: "I am just saying in a general way that I am for economy."

But it's Humphrey who made far and away the biggest noise about budget-cutting without ever getting around to saying where.

Whatever it was he wanted, he got more than he wanted.

On Jan. 16 he said "we will have a depression that will make your hair curl" unless the federal government cuts its spending over the years ahead. That was the day Eisenhower snt his budget to Congress. And Humphrey added:

"I think there are lots of places in the budget that can be cut."

Humphrey's remarks on a depression got startled, nationwide attention. So he later explained he does not really anticipate a depression and saw no signs of one in the next 18 months.

But where could Congress make those budget cuts he mentioned?

He's never said. And on Jan. 24, one day after he testified before the House Appropriations Committee, its chairman, Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) told reporters of Humphrey's testimony.

Said Cannon: "We're just as much at sea as before we heard him. He didn't point out where we could cut the budget one cent."

One Democrat described Humphrey's performance as a "complete flipflop." Another said Humphrey had "just ducked and twisted and said he had no recommendations at all."

But the House took Humphrey at his word — just as it took Weeks at his — that there could be cuts. It knocked 22 million dollars off Humphrey's request for $691,457,000 to run the Treasury another year.

This was too much for Humphrey. The Senate now has to pass on Humphrey's money request for the Treasury. So he wrote the Senate, asking that eight million of the 22 million taken away from him be restored.

Even with the 22 million reduction, Humphrey would still be getting more money to spend than he had last year.

He Pays for Gas - the Hard Way

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—David Gonzales' bill for a tank of gasoline came to $68.05 once it was totted up in Municipal Court.

This included $4.68 to Frank Vanden Heuvel for the gasoline itself; $4.60 in witness fees, $3.80 in court costs, $25.00 fine for larceny and $30.00 in fees for Juneau County sheriff's officers who arrested Gonzales several hours and a hundred-odd miles after he sped out of Vanden Heuvel's filling station without paying the bill.

Brothers Serve Together At Last

HONOLULU (AP)—The Swinson brothers enlisted in the Navy together as apprentice seamen in 1929. In 1932 they married sisters.

They had never served a tour of duty together until Cmdr. Walter H. M. Swinson reported to Airborne Early Warning Squadron 2, stationed here.

Cmdr. Bruce Q. Swinson was already with a squadron. The brothers will finish out their Navy tours together, and retire in 1959.

Some Advice for Safer Night Driving

Three out of five fatal auto accidents occur at night. However nighttime travel can be easier, safer and more fun when motorists follow the advice of professional truck drivers, highway patrolmen and other safety experts.

Many Fayette County people will be enjoying much more motor car travel from now on. Quite a lot of this will be longer trips to and from vacation areas.

Some excellent suggestions are being made by some of these safety experts, recommendations which may be life-savers in many cases.

They advise reflectorized tape on the rear bumper and clean headlights as important safety factors. Other motorists can tell both the speed and direction of your car more quickly if it's marked with reflectors. Dirty headlights can cut your vision as much as 10 to 25 per cent.

At dusk, drive with full driving lights on, not just parking lights. In fact, today's fast trains run with lighted headlights on in broad daylight. That's for safety— to gain quicker recognition.

Tuesday is the safest night for driving, according to experts. Next in order come Wednesday, Thursday, and then Monday. On Friday nights, accidents increase, and on Saturday and Sunday nights they surge upward. Some truckers try to avoid the weekend "alcoholic traffic."

State troopers warn that new rain makes roads slick after it mixes with the "traffic film" of the highway, so a light drizzle can be more dangerous than a heavy downpour. The reason is that heavy rain will wash the oily film off the pavement in 30 minutes, but it may take two hours for a light drizzle to wash away the film, so, cut your speed sharply until the slick coating has disappeared.

Keep newspapers in your car. Newsprint contains tannic acid, which makes it an excellent windshield cleaner when used with plain water. Also clean the inside of your windshield often, especially on a long trip. Cigarette smoke, industrial fumes, dust, and "fried" oil from the cars ahead coat both sides of the windshield. This foreign matter causes "flashes" in the windshield as headlights come toward you, which tires the eyes.

Several other "owl driver" tips reported are: turn on the dome light when it's safe to do so to relieve tired eyes, change the brightness of the dashboard lights from time to time, and shift stations on the radio to avoid sleepiness.

2 Arms a Handicap to This Man

By Hal Boyle

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP)— When Dick Oliver has a job he wants to finish in a real hurry, the first thing he does is take off his left arm.

Although Dick is grateful to the government for buying him the arm, he explained:

"I can work faster without it."

He can, too. The one-armed, 38-year-old Navy veteran has just completed building his third home single-handed.

Dick, a construction clerk here for a cement company, can also answer the phone type 65 words a minute. He drives his own car, buttons his clothing, ties his shoes and neckties, and is an expert marksman with either rifle or shotgun.

"Anything a man can do with two hands I can do with one," he said stoutly.

The story of Dick Oliver is the story of a man who refused to be handicapped by a handicap. In 1929 while on leave from the naval base at Pearl Harbor he was playfully jostling with some buddies on a railway platform at Topeka. He slipped, fell, and a passing train cut off his left arm above the elbow.

"It was on my 21st birthday— and some present," he recalled. "At first I felt lost and useless to myself. But after the first shock wore off I realized I was no different from anyone else. I still had a living to make."

Dick went back and finished high school, perfected his skill at typing with only one hand. But he felt an odd compulsion to prove that, despite the accident, he could do anything he turned his mind to.

He went to the Pacific Northwest and became a lumberman, felling the big trees. He worked in the farm equipment field, with an auto supply firm, even did a turn at radio announcing.

"Right now I'm studying civil engineering, and I think I'll stay with it. Engineering is something that has a changing problem every day."

Dick, happily settled in his new home with his pretty wife, Lorene, is now teaching his 10-year-old son, Gregg, how to be a baseball catcher.

"That is a little hard to do with only one hand," he admitted.

Here is how he feels about "handicaps" in life:

"It isn't a joke to lose an arm or leg, but if anyone who does will get over his sensitivity and learn to treat it as a joke, he'll get along better."

Dick, who built his $22,000, three-bedroom, two-bathroom home in about a year figures he saved about $8,000 in labor costs by doing his own work.

In one way he feels having only one arm speeded up the job.

"I never had to worry about smashing a finger driving nails," he said, grinning.

Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?

By George Sokolsky

A citizen wrote a letter to the director of the Bureau of the Budget and received what looks like a mimeographed reply which he sent me. The first sentence reads:

"We appreciate your concern about the federal budget and the fact that your interest has been sufficient to prompt your recent communication."

Who should take a greater interest in the budget than the citizen who has to pay taxes? Naturally every citizen has a justifiable gripe about the budget and no matter whether the President holds four or five conflicting opinions on the subject, the citizens knows that he has to pay taxes beyond his ability to pay.

Furthermore, he knows that many are shipping their assets outside the country to avoid taxes and that the more money of that kind that is siphoned off to Canada or Caracas, the more the honest fellows have to pay.

So naturally the subject is interesting and prompts a communication to the director of the budget. However, the director does not answer in the mimeographed reply; he leaves that to somebody by the name of Sweeney, first name not given, identity as to male or female disputable.

In this letter appears the following:

". . .You may be assured that the Bureau of the Budget is working constantly to improve efficiency and to keep federal expenditures down to the minimum necessary to provide for the defense of the country and the services demanded by our people."

What does that mean? Has the Bureau of the Budget taken over the administration of the country? This is supposed to be a bookkeeping outfit that keeps records of needs, desires and appropriations, but the needs are to be decided by the cabinet and the National Security Council, the desires come from every bureau and individual in government and the appropriations are the constitutional function of Congress. How does the Bureau of the Budget get into administration?

There is much in this mimeographed letter that is interesting to the tax-paying citizen. For instance:

"Our 1950 air defense cost $3.6 billion—the 1958 version will require $17.5 billion. One B-36, our major 1950 bomber, cost about $3,700,000; the present day B-52, $8,000,000. The B-36 had a speed in the range of 435 miles per hour, and a ceiling of over 45,000 feet. But the B-52 can go no more than 650 miles per hour, has flown around the world nonstop, and has a ceiling of ever 50,000 feet. And it can carry the hydrogen bomb. The B-36's are now obsolete, and have no alternative use to which they can be put . . ."

Now there is the rub. We not only are suffering from an inflation to which no politician dares to call a halt, but we are in a race with Russia for the manufacture of war supplies which become obsolescent so quickly that even while an item is in the process of being put through the factories, it is doomed never to be employed.

This must be just as true of the Russians as it is of us; but where will it end? We are not only draining off the wealth of the country but we are using up our natural resources to keep pace with Russia and the fear seems to be that the Russians will beat us in this armament race because slave labor is cheaper than free labor and the greatest cost of production is the cost of labor.

Where will it end? There is no telling which side will be bled white first. Perhaps the victory in this battle will go to those countries which do not manufacture munitions or airplanes or submarines or anything else. In a word, the victory could go to primitive tribes, to Nomads, to countries which produce nothing but population.

Surely this mimeographed letter does not answer anything except to say that we continue to live in a war economy which we no longer can afford. And also the point is made that everybody seems to want something from the government and expects to get it for nothing, not figuring that the greater the subsidies, the higher the taxes.

So, we shall have this enormous budget and hope that we must get a tax cut in 1959 which would engender a favorable atmosphere for the 1960 election. We shall not get it before then. Brother can you spare a dime!

Hearing Aid Noise Could Be Clothes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Just as glasses ai those with sight difficulties, hearings aids help those with hearing troubles.

But those of you who do wear hearing aids may occasionally have difficulties with annoying noises. Frequently, this trouble can be blamed on your clothing.

Valuable Tips

In a recent issue, Better Hearing magazine gives some valuable tips on how to minimize such noises. I think these suggestions are worth passing on to those of you who might benefit from them.

You'll probably find that old and soft-fibered fabrics present relatively little if any noise interference.

On the other hand, such fabrics as nylon, cotton, broadcloth, denim, linen and starched materials are among the noisiest

Snug Carrier

The best way to carry the hearing aid probably is in a snugly fitting carrier of soft material. Men can carry it under the bodice of a dress.

Should you wear your aid in the pocket, be sure to hold it snugly in place with a clip. Don't carry anything else in the same pocket.

Corrosion on the battery terminals or a battery just about at the end of its normal life also may cause noise. Rubbing the terminals occasionally with fine sandpaper or a pencil eraser will help keep them bright and eliminate interference.

Frequent Cleaning

Cleaning the hearing aid every so often will help reduce friction noise. You can use ordinary household ammonia for this job.

If none of these measures eliminates annoying noises, you might do better with one of the new type aids worn entirely at the ear.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. M. S. Is there anything that will help person get rid of liver spots?

Answer: So-called liver spots or brown spots on the skin are really not due to any trouble with the liver.

Your physician should be consulted as to the most advisable method of removing such disfiguring blemishes.

You're Telling Me

It's a topsy turvy spring. April snow instead of April showers, April tornadoes instead of April breezes, and a record peacetime budget instead of Republican economy.

They're chipping away at that $72,000,000,000 however. A thousand million here, a thousand million there.

And the way Postmaster Summerfield talked, you began to think you couldn't even write your congressman about it.

Dr. William C. Menninger of the U. of Kansas told the American College of Physicians that there are 3,400,000 problem drinkers in industry. Other statistics also show industry has been highballing it.

The radio engineers convention in Chicago was told radio broadcasting soon will be a fully automated operation. Like used car commercials.

It'll seem a bit weird, switching on the radio-of-the-future. Automated announcing automated soap operas, commercials, and nobody home.

An automated station looks bad for employment& Well, somebody's got to load it.

Favorite figureheads on American sailing ships included Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin and, of all people, Davy Crockett who probably never saw a larger body of water than a river he could swim.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PERT YOUNG stenographer, used to riding the subway twice a day at the peak of the rush hour, was taken to her first ball game, and was particularly fascinated by the trio always around the home plate: batter, catcher, and umpire. Came inning number four, and she finally asked her companion, "Why does that man in the blue suit keep leaning over the shoulder of that fellow crouching? I don't see any newspaper."

In the middle of a near-hurricane, Mrs. Jones tapped nervously on the arm of her husband at the wheel and suggested, "Mightn't it be a good idea to stop and wipe the windshield?"

"Wouldn't do a bit of good," snapped Mr. Jones. "I left my glasses at home."

"What," inquired the studio psychiatrist, "are your pet aversions?" "None," answered the starlet heatedly. "I adore all pets."

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Magoffin Humphrey, onetime businessman and now secretary of the Treasury, is not the only one in the Eisenhower administration who talked big about economy and got a bigger dose than he could stand.

Another is Sinclair Weeks, onetime businessman and now secretary of commerce.

Earlier this year, in the midst of the condusion could or should be cut, Weeks took a strong position on the side of the President, who considers his budget fairly tight.

Weeks defended the budget. He said it was designed to carry out the Republican program of "peace, prosperity and progress." By March 17 he was taking a bold stand for slashing the budget. In a TV interview that day he said:

"The thing that scares me" about the handling of the record peacetime budget of 72 billion dollars "is that . . . they will add to it instead of subtracting."

In a generous mood he suggested Congress could start cutting by whacking 50 million dollars off the money asked for his Commerce Department. But two days later Rep. Preston (D-Ga), a member of the House Appropriations Committee, had something to say.

He accused Weeks of double-talk. Said Preston:

"He's saying one thing to the TV audience for public consumption and another thing to the Appropriations Committee . . .(He) is supporting every handout . . . every subsidy. He said he couldn't find any places to cut his budget. We're going to show him how it can be done."

And the House did. It chopped $217,800,000 off the 871½ millions Weeks wanted for the Commerce Department.

The record of Weeks' testimony before the House committee shows he said: "I am just saying in a general way that I am for economy."

But it's Humphrey who made far and away the biggest noise about budget-cutting without ever getting around to saying where.

Whatever it was he wanted, he got more than he wanted.

On Jan. 16 he said "we will have a depression that will make your hair curl" unless the federal government cuts its spending over the years ahead. That was the day Eisenhower snt his budget to Congress. And Humphrey added:

"I think there are lots of places in the budget that can be cut."

Humphrey's remarks on a depression got startled, nationwide attention. So he later explained he does not really anticipate a depression and saw no signs of one in the next 18 months.

But where could Congress make those budget cuts he mentioned?

He's never said. And on Jan. 24, one day after he testified before the House Appropriations Committee, its chairman, Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) told reporters of Humphrey's testimony.

Said Cannon: "We're just as much at sea as before we heard him. He didn't point out where we could cut the budget one cent."

One Democrat described Humphrey's performance as a "complete flipflop." Another said Humphrey had "just ducked and twisted and said he had no recommendations at all."

But the House took Humphrey at his word — just as it took Weeks at his — that there could be cuts. It knocked 22 million dollars off Humphrey's request for $691,457,000 to run the Treasury another year.

This was too much for Humphrey. The Senate now has to pass on Humphrey's money request for the Treasury. So he wrote the Senate, asking that eight million of the 22 million taken away from him be restored.

Even with the 22 million reduction, Humphrey would still be getting more money to spend than he had last year.

He Pays for Gas - the Hard Way

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—David Gonzales' bill for a tank of gasoline came to $68.05 once it was totted up in Municipal Court.

This included $4.68 to Frank Vanden Heuvel for the gasoline itself; $4.60 in witness fees, $3.80 in court costs, $25.00 fine for larceny and $30.00 in fees for Juneau County sheriff's officers who arrested Gonzales several hours and a hundred-odd miles after he sped out of Vanden Heuvel's filling station without paying the bill.

Brothers Serve Together At Last

HONOLULU (AP)—The Swinson brothers enlisted in the Navy together as apprentice seamen in 1929. In 1932 they married sisters.

They had never served a tour of duty together until Cmdr. Walter H. M. Swinson reported to Airborne Early Warning Squadron 2, stationed here.

Cmdr. Bruce Q. Swinson was already with a squadron. The brothers will finish out their Navy tours together, and retire in 1959.

House Passes State Budget; County Fair Tracks Get Aid

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House passage of the big two-year budget bill stole the legislative show Wednesday, but commercial race track operators sat around glumly today counting on their fingers "what might have been."

No question about it, passage by the Republican-controlled House of the record $1,152,000,000 operating budget for the 1957-58 biennium was the key action in Wednesday's legislative session. The fact that the Democrats, futilely as usual, tried to change the big money bill should be noted in passing.

But the surprisingly successful amendment to cut commercial track operators out of an estimated $600,000 a year in extra profit was the thing that had many lawmakers giggling in the corridors.

The track operators lost their chickens before they were hatched on a bill which had the emotional backing of the rural-dominated House.

The bill sets up a special fund to give every county fair which sponsors harness racing a subsidy of $5,500 a year.

Money for the fund will come from an increase in the track operator's "take out" from the funds wagered by the gambling public.

The "take out" at running horse tracks now is 13½ per cent. The bill before the House Wednesday would have increased the "take out" from 13½ to 15 per cent. About one-half of one per cent will go toward county fair subsidies, the rest would have gone into the pockets of track operators.

The unexpected House amendment lowered the "take out" increase from 13½ to 14 per cent. That took care of the county fairs but the commercial track operators were out in the cold, limited to their present "take out."

Under the proposed 15 per cent take out, Ohio running horse tracks would have benefitted to these amounts: Ascot $71,071, Beulah $57,112, Cranwood $71,353, Hamilton $32,611; Randall $104,737, River Downs $70,988, Thistledown $92,190 and Toledo $26,657.

The Republican-controlled House approved the big money bill for state operations by a vote of 126-7.

Minority Democrats tried persistently, but futilely, to change the bill before it passed. They said the budget was out of balance, but House Finance Committee Chairman J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) said that was not true. The bill, as passed by the House, is slightly more than 2¼ million above the budget recommended by GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill.

In answer to the observation of House Minority Leader James J. McGettrick that the budget increase "leaves us somewhat apprehensive that the state will end up operating in the red," McClure replied:

"The committee assumes that the effects of personnel turnover, the fiscal controls of this administration and the normal time lags in effecting new programs will create savings in the over-all budget many times greater than this amount."

In other actions, the Senate passed and sent to the House bills to:

Authorize for exhibit in the Statehouse a painting honoring the Wright brothers, inventors of the airplane.

Close loopholes in the collection of the state use tax on merchandise bought from out-of-state firms and shipped to Ohio purchasers.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill outlawing the use of defective gas heaters and prohibiting the use of gas - fired equipment which is so constructed that fumes cannot be vented.

These bills were up for floor votes today:

A House vote on a Senate-approved bill in which Gov. O'Neill reverses his field and asks for slashes in the salaries of his Cabinet officers. The cuts will be from the levels O'neill insisted upon before he took office less than three months ago. The Senate approved the bill in an extraordinary session last Friday.

A bill by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) to ban slow drivers from limited-access highways.

A bill by Sen. David Morgan (R-Franklin) to provide for nighttime illumination of the state Capitol building.

Sen. Fred Danner (R-Summit), chairman of the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, held a meeting of his committee Wednesday afternoon five hours ahead of schedule. At the meeting, the committee had its first hearing on a controversial bill to provide a compulsory fair employment practices system for Ohio.

The bill's sponsor, Sen. Charles J. Carney (D - Mahoning), told newsmen he was advised as early as last Thursday that the hearing would be Wednesday afternoon, and had his favorable witnesses on hand.

Former State Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, representing the Ohio CIO Council, declared:

"Fair employment legislation should be applicable similarly to labor unions as well as to employers and employment agencies. We think this bill would eliminate discrimination in Ohio eventually so far as employment is concerned."

Other witnesses were limited to one-half hour.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

It was 30 years ago this week that Capt. Charles Allen, widely known horseman, farmer and business man, died of an attack of pneumonia in a Columbus hospital at 65 years of age.

I knew him for many years, and always held him in high regard. I always enjoyed our contacts, for I found him a man of many talents and one whom it was a pleasure to know.

He was a race horse breeder and trainer, and bred and sold many choice trotters.

He was always interested in horses in general, the Fayette County Fair, horse shows and sales and it was no wonder that when the government was wanting thousands of horses for war use back in 1917 after war had been declared on Germany and her allies, that Mr. Allen was called to buy horses for the government and supervise their handling.

He was given the rank of captain in the U. S. Quartermaster Corps, and was head of the big U. S. Remount Depot, at Camp Jackson, S. C. and the Wagon School in Georgia.

He was vice president of the American Trotting Assn., and purchased the "Kentucky Horseman" and consolidated it with the "Horse Journal" owned by Galvin Bros., of Jamestown. For several years he edited and published the Horse Journal in Washington C. H. Frank D. Woodland was the main writer for the Journal.

I recall that when efforts were being made by Frank W. Abke and associates to locate the Sunlight Creameries (Now the Cudahy Packing Co. plant) here, and the present site was selected for the plant, I found Mr. Allen not only owned the former Sales Pavilion, but the entire area about it.

I was aiding in bringing the big plant here, so I contacted Mr. Allen with a view to obtaining an option on the tract.

He listened carefully while I explained what it was wanted for, and what such a creamery would mean to the community. Without hesitation he replied:

"Since it is wanted for the purpose it is, I will take $7,500 for the property."

Within a few days after that the title had changed hands, and announcement was made that the company would build a million dollar plant on the tract. The plant was built the same year.

I also recall that one time Mr. Allen told me of a huge flock of crows which roosted in a small woods on the McLean farm, south of the Leesburg Rd., and I went with him in his car to see the big flock come to the woods late one evening.

After watching the crows come in by the thousands, he started to drive north on the Jamison Rd., leading from the Leesburg Rd., to Route 22, west, and his car cut through the soft graveled roadway, and stuck fast.

We walked back to town, and he sent a team of horses to remove the car— the following morning. The car remained in the little-used road over night.

Mrs. Walter McCoy, Fayette County, is a daughter, and Renick Allen, Columbus, is a son of Capt. Allen.

TO RESUME PUMPING

When the water clears sufficiently, the work of pumping water from Paint Creek into the Ohio Water Service Co. reservoir will be resumed.

Just before the recent floodwaters turned a vast amount of silt into the stream some 12 million gallons had been pumped into the big pond to bring it up within a few feet of the top.

Supt. Emerson Warner stated that the water taken from the creek shows about 185 grains of hardness, and this is reduced to about 85 grains before it goes into the city mains.

Formerly the water showed more than 300 grains of hardness when it entered the mains.

PONE CREEK

Evidently the name of "Pone Creek" was derived from "corn Pone" or corn bread, and it is a little stream which starts northwest of Jonesboro, and makes a half-moon as it circles about and empties into Paint Creek on Creek Rd.

Originally the stream was an open ditch its entire length, but it has been tiled from a point where it starts on the Stanley Dray land for a half mile or more southward.

The drain crosses U. S. 22 west at the Herefordshire Motel, extends across the C. F. Highley land, through the J. M. Cunningham farm, crosses U. S. 62 (Leesburg Rd.) a short distance west of the intersection of Jamison Rd., crosses the Jennie P. Shoop, James C. Kibler, Elva M. McCo, farms: the Ging Rd.: farms of Lawrence Ging, Clark Templin, Route 70, South; the M. H. Glass farm, Virginia Otis farm, and W. N. Campbell estate, emptying into Paint Creek, a quarter mile south of the Rowe-Ging Rd.

The stream flows constantly except in extremely dry weather, due to the large amount of drainage it has, because it picks up numerous tile ditches over its three mile route.

Most of the stream was originally an open water course and it was extended as an open ditch.

DAISY BLUE BIRDS

Easter baskets were the order of the day for the Daisy Blue Birds at their regular meeting in the Cherry Hill School. Girls made the baskets and decorated eggs to fill them.

Colored Easter eggs were served as refreshments. The group leaders, Mrs. Floyd West and Mrs. Robert Goldsberry, conducted the meeting.

Members present were Judy Campbell, Carolyn Chaney, Beverly Connell, Jane Ann Carrey, Joyce Luncan, Patty Goldsberry, Kerrylin Hopewell, Joan Morton, Carol McCoy, Patti Penwell, Phyllis Shadley, Cheryl West, Susan Willis, Dianne Schorr and Nancy Glockner.

NEW LIGHT IS SHED on one of the famous outlaws of the early West in "The True Story of Jesse James," which starts a three-day run at the Fayette Theater Sunday. Also on the bill will be "Zarak," starring Victor Mature and Anita Ekberg.

House Passes State Budget; County Fair Tracks Get Aid

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House passage of the big two-year budget bill stole the legislative show Wednesday, but commercial race track operators sat around glumly today counting on their fingers "what might have been."

No question about it, passage by the Republican-controlled House of the record $1,152,000,000 operating budget for the 1957-58 biennium was the key action in Wednesday's legislative session. The fact that the Democrats, futilely as usual, tried to change the big money bill should be noted in passing.

But the surprisingly successful amendment to cut commercial track operators out of an estimated $600,000 a year in extra profit was the thing that had many lawmakers giggling in the corridors.

The track operators lost their chickens before they were hatched on a bill which had the emotional backing of the rural-dominated House.

The bill sets up a special fund to give every county fair which sponsors harness racing a subsidy of $5,500 a year.

Money for the fund will come from an increase in the track operator's "take out" from the funds wagered by the gambling public.

The "take out" at running horse tracks now is 13½ per cent. The bill before the House Wednesday would have increased the "take out" from 13½ to 15 per cent. ABout one-half of one per cent will go toward county fair subsidies, the rest would have gone into the pockets of track operators.

The unexpected House amendment lowered the "take out" increase from 13½ to 14 per cent. That took care of the county fairs but the commercial track operators were out in the cold, limited to their present "take out."

Under the proposed 15 per cent take out, Ohio running horse tracks would have benefitted to these amounts: Ascot $71,071, Beulah $57,112, Cranwood $71,353, Hamilton $32,611; Randall $104,737, River Downs $70,988, Thistledown $92,190 and Toledo $26,657.

The Republican-controlled House approved the big money bill for state operations by a vote of 126-7.

Minority Democrats tried persistently, but futilely, to change the bill before it passed. They said the budget was out of balance, but House Finance Committee Chairman J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) said that was not true. The bill, as passed by the House, is slightly more than 2¼ million above the budget recommended by GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill.

In answer to the observation of House Minority Leader James J. McGettrick that the budget increase "leaves us somewhat apprehensive that the state will end up operating in the red," McClure replied:

"The committee assumes that the effects of personnel turnover, the fiscal controls of this administration and the normal time lags in effecting new programs will create savings in the over-all budget many times greater than this amount."

In other actions, the Senate passed and sent to the House bills to:

Authorize for exhibit in the Statehouse a painting honoring the Wright brothers, inventors of the airplane.

Close loopholes in the collection of the state use tax on merchandise bought from out-of-state firms and shipped to Ohio purchasers.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill outlawing the use of defective gas heaters and prohibiting the use of gas - fired equipment which is so constructed that fumes cannot be vented.

These bills were up for floor votes today:

A House vote on a Senate-approved bill in which Gov. O'Neill reverses his field and asks for slashes in the salaries of his Cabinet officers. The cuts will be from the levels O'neill insisted upon before he took office less than three months ago. The Senate approved the bill in an extraordinary session last Friday.

A bill by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) to ban slow drivers from limited-access highways.

A bill by Sen. David Morgan (R-Franklin) to provide for night-time illumination of the state Capitol building.

Sen. Fred Danner (R-Summit), chairman of the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, held a meeting of his committee Wednesday afternoon five hours ahead of schedule. At the meeting, the committee had its first hearing on a controversial bill to provide a compulsory fair employment practices system for Ohio.

Garden Club Has Interesting Meeting

Mrs. Dana Kellenberger welcomed members of the Twin Oaks Garden Club to her home last evening for their regular meeting.

The president, Mrs. Willard Bonham, conducted the business session, which was opened with a short reading entitled "Have You Heard Spring" by Mrs. Eugene Thompson. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved.

It was decided by the club to buy two forsythia bushes to be planted at Wilson School also to hold a Memorial program at the cemetery. Other projects were discussed for the year.

The program chairman, Mrs. Virgil Garinger, chose as her topic "Ohio Wild Flowers" for which she showed colored slides of wild flowers that were very interesting as well as educational.

The hostess was assisted with the refreshments by Mrs. Jesse Linton.

True Blue Class Has Meeting at Schleich Home

Mrs. Warren Schleich was hostess to a large attendence of True Blue Class members, of Grace Methodist Sunday School for the last meeting of the year. Lovely arrangements of Spring flowers decorated the house.

Mrs. Madge Winter brought the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Marlyn Riley who had charge of the devotions. Mrs. Riley chose "The Cross" for her topic, selecting the Scripture from 1 Corinthians 1:18. The devotions were closed with prayer.

During the business session a report from the nominating committee was heard, with the same officers being elected to serve another year. The Class voted to buy two Easter lilies for the church altar for the Easter services. A complete financial report was given by Mrs. Elmer Reed, Class treasurer, which was very gratifying.

Mrs. Jean Nisley, program chairman, presented Rev. L. J. Poe, who chose for his topic "Lent." Rev. Poe explained the meaning of Lent which is "New Life" He said the Lenten season should be a time of deep meditation by each person and should end with great joy on Easter Day.

The Class thanked Rev. Poe for his inspiring message.

Mrs. Schleich was assisted in serving tempting refreshments by the hostess committee, Mrs. Marlyn Riley, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Mrs. Claude Davis, Mrs. Robert Heath, Mrs. O. W. Landrum, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. W. D. Shepard, Mrs. Milton Panzlau and Miss Lida Grace Wissler.

Buena Vista WSCS Holds Meeting

The Buena Vista WSCS met at the home of Mrs. Noah Lee last evening with seven members answering roll call.

Mrs. John Corzatt, assistant chaplain, was in charge of the devotionals. The group sang two hymns, "He Lived" and "Lead Me to Calvary". Mrs. Corzatt followed with Scripture and read the 28th chapter of Matthew. Two prayers were given "Easter Prayer" and "My Easter Prayer" and the Lord's Prayer in unison closed the devotionals.

Miss Margaret Haines, president, opened the business meeting and the secretary, Mrs. Edward Corzatt, read the report.

The next meeting will be the last one in the Conference year and the Buena Vista WSCS will be discontinued. A new club will be formed and called the Ladies Aid Society.

Activities for the month were 20 cards, eight calls and three flowers.

Mrs.Charles Van Dyke was in charge of the program and the following members gave readings "Dogwood" by Mrs. Edward Corzatt, "Crucifixion" by Mrs. Charles Kaufman, "Resurrection" by Mrs. Albert Haines and Mrs.Van Dyke ended the program with Peter Marshall's last sermon before his death. Mrs. John Corzatt was the winner of a contest that was conducted by Mrs. Van Dyke.

The hostess served tempting refreshments assisted by Mrs. Albert Haines.

Talent Show At East Side PTA Meeting

The East Side P.T.A. held their last meeting of the 1956—1957 school year at the East Side School. Tuesday evening.

Mr. Horace Jacobs, president, called the meeting to order and asked the group to join with him in singing "America" and reciting the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. J. Shoemaker reported on the sale of greeting cards.

Mr. Jacobs read important legislation information concerning film censorship and molesters of children. The PTA of East Side School, endorsed the curfew program that is now in effect in this town and it was also stated that they are in favor of any program, or method, to further a recreation center, to provide a place for teenagers where they can spend hours of good wholesome entertainment.

Mrs. C. M. Pfersick, chairman of the nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. E. Kirk and Mrs. Robert Boyd, presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mr. Francis Morgan, president; Mrs. Walter Haines, vice-president; Mrs. R. Wood, secretary; Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, treasurer.

The banner count was won by Mrs. Summers, third grade, with 28 parents present.

The program chairman, Mrs. Robert Boyd, presented a student talent show. Piano solos, dance routines, instrumentals and duet numbers showed promising talent in the East Side School.

Members of the Junior Band under the direction of Mr. Robert Neumann, played three selections which brought the show to a climax.

Cookies and coffee was served by the hospitality committee who were Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Rhoads, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinke.

Evening Wedding Unites Couple In Marriage

Miss Delores Kaye McGowan became the bride of John H. Hollar at the Mount Sterling Methodist Church, on Saturday evening, at 7:30 p. m. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fred Mark in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGowan of Mount Sterling and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.Charles Hollar, Mount Sterling.

The bride wore a lovely baby blue dress and carried a bouquet of white orchids. The only attendants for the couple were Miss Eloise McGowan, sister of the bride and Mr. James Hollar, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony the wedding party was entertained at the home of the bride. The couple then left for their home in Mount Sterling where they will be at home to their friends.

'Teenagers' Topic At Club Meeting

The Washington Homemakers Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Pierson, recently.

Mrs. Pierson, president, opened the business meeting and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lew Smith, read her reports.

It was decided to call a special meeting on April 22nd to be held at the home of Mrs. Wendell Barr, for the purpose of discussing the selection and ordering of leather for the leathercraft workshop. Mrs. Herschell Hulett will be present to supply information in this regard.

Mrs. Elza Woodruff was appointed by the president to seek further information on chair caning.

Mrs. T. N. Willis and Mrs. Pierson led the group in a discussion on "Teenagers" during which each person told of her experience with teenagers and also suggested a way to obtain good parent-teenager relationship. Ideas were also discussed on how to provide recreation activities for teenagers in this community.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Uranium Strike Predicted in Great Smokies

Amateur Geologist Says Bonanza Awaits Prospector

Central Press Assn.

WAYNESVILLE, N. C. — The Great Smoky mountains hold an untapped bonanza of uranium for some lucky prospector, according to a Waynesville chemist who is interested in rubber and rocks.

Dick Lugar, a skilled amateur geologist as well as a research chemist at the Dayton Rubber Co. plant here, claims there are more varieties of uranium-bearing rocks in the Great Smokies than in any other part of the United States.

There's also gold in them thar hills— and rubies, emeralds, garnets! Lugar has samples of all these gems lying around the house in old cigar boxes. They are more valuable as minerology specimens than as gems, however.

Success hasn't spoiled this rock hunter. While he has more than 1,000 samples of different rocks in his home collection, including many specimens of radioactive minerals, Lugar has donated many specimens to the Southern Appalachian Mineral society, which in turn presents them to area high schools, colleges and museums.

• • •

WHEN HE comes across a mineral he can't classify, Lugar refers it to other members of the society. If identification still is in doubt, and this is a rare occasion indeed, a sample is sent off to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., for identification.

Lugar's most valuable find so far has been a 10-carat pale green spodumene crystal. If this stone were emerald green, it would be known as hiddenite. These gems have been found only in Hiddenit, N. C.

When not busy with rubber research, Lugar usually is trudging up hill and down stream, prospecting for uranium or other rocky assets.

This hobby has taken the chemist and his wife over 40,000 miles of rough mountain terrain during the past four years.

• • •

LUGAR, who studied geology and majored in chemistry at The Citadel, says that geology training is better than a Geiger counter for uranium prospecting.

The trained rock hunter will recognize ground signs like an Indian tracking a deer.

However, uranium buried under only one foot of ground will be passed over by a Geiger counter without a tick of recognition.

City Garages Said Taxable

COLUMBUS (AP)—Cities must pay real estate taxes on parking garages they operate, the State Board of Tax Appeals says.

The decision came in a case involving the Long Street Parking Garage in downtown Columbus. Columbus officials requested exemption from taxes for the 1956 tax year.

Taxes amounted to about $11,000 a year based on a tax valuation of $471,000. The board denied the application.

New York Sailor Marries German Dancer in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—When the SS America docked in Bremerhaven, Germany, two years ago, ship steward Bernard Andrada went ashore for some fun. At a night club he met dancer Margo Hassler.

They were married Tuesday in Dayton, after a stymied romance and with the help of a kindly judge.

"He asked me to marry him that first night," explains Margo, in fairly good English. "But I tell heem, I think it over a couple of years. Now we are married. Strange?"

Judge Cecil Edwards married the couple in his court Tuesday, but he never knew all that led to the simple ceremony. Bernard, a New Yorker and native of the Philippine Islands, travels on the America between New York and Bremerhaven. It is a 15-day round trip with about a one-day stop in Bremerhaven.

Each time the ship docked, Bernard was off seeing Margo. But the lack of time looked as if it might strangle Cupid.

Then Margo decided to come to the United States to visit her sister, a GI war bride who is Mrs. Carl Beason of nearby Vandalia.

Naturally, she came on the America and in the seven days aboard ship, love had a chance to breathe.

Margo came to Vandalia and Bernard was off again to Bremerhaven. When he returned to New York, he decided it was time for a vacation, so he headed for Vandalia and Margo. He proposed again, and again Margo thought it over.

Finally she decided "Yes," and then came the problems. They couldn't get married in Germany because "they hang you out for 14 days." That means publishing notice of the wedding, and Bernard never spent enough time in Germany to be "hung out" that long.

He has to be aboard ship in New York this weekend, so a New York wedding was out. Dayton was the only possibility.

Margo, Bernard and Mrs. Beason went to the Safety Building here Monday. The first man they met was Judge Edwards. They explained their problem to the judge, who promised quick action. And quick it was. A Probate Court ruling cut the red tape, and within 24 hours Margo was Mrs. Andratta.

Margo will sail home on the America. The couple plan to splice a honeymoon between Bernard's work hours.

"Nobody over there knows about this," says Margo. "They'll really be surprised. My daddy almost give up on me getting married. When he asked me, I tell him 'never'."

"One reason I want to get married," she continued, "is to get back in this country." It will take almost five months for Margo to get her reentry papers. While waiting, she plans to continue her dancing career in Bremerhaven, and she'll only be able to see Bernard for one day out of every 16.

But things will improve when she returns to this country. Then she can be with him three days out of every 18.

O'Neill To Check Toledo Expressway

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill and State Highway Chief Charles M. Noble will visit Toledo this week.

State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand said O'Neill and Noble will tour the Toledo Expressway site, attempt to re-evaluate Toledo's road needs for the current 30-month period, and inspect the wreckage of the Fassett Street Bridge, hit by a wind blown freighter Friday.

Chillicothe VA Aide Gets Honor

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—The National Assn. for Mental Health has announced that Thomas A. Coleman, employed at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital as a psychiatric nursing assistant, will be the recipient of its psychiatric aid achievement award for 1956.

Coleman, a Bataan "Death March" survivor, has been a nursing assistant at the hospital since August, 1946.

His selection was based on accomplishments in improving on the ward care of hospitalized veterans during the past year. The award is to be presented as the highlight of the Chillicothe VA's annual observance of Hospital Day Sunday, May 5.

Tennessee Ernie Booked at Fair

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State Fair Manager D. Robert Jones has announced that Tennessee Ernie Ford, television and radio star, would be one of the headline attractions at the 1957 fair, which opens Aug. 23 for eight days.

Jones said Ford would give 10 performances in the grandstand beginning Sunday, Aug. 25.

The cost of accidents in United States last year would have paid for construction of 2,000 new 300-bed hospitals.

Ohio Solons Shun Vendors' Discount

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Taxation Committee Wednesday refused to restore a two per cent vendors' discount in a substitute bill providing for an end to sales tax stamps in Ohio.

The restoration proposal sponsored by the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants lost on a vote of 12-4. Discounts allowed vendors last year totaled $4,356,000.

The committee agreed to double a proposed fee allowed county clerks of court for collecting the tax on motor vehicle sales to yield counties about $600,000 a year.

The amendment increased the fee to one per cent.

The bison, or buffalo herd, had been killed off in Canada to about 300 in 1900. Strict patrols of game wardens to stop illegal hunters has brought the herd back to about 15,000.

Naturally, she came on the America and in the seven days aboard ship, love had a chance to breathe.

Margo came to Vandalia and Bernard was off again to Bremerhaven. When he returned to New York, he decided it was time for a vacation, so he headed for Vandalia and Margo. He proposed again, and again Margo thought it over.

Finally she decided "Yes," and then came the problems. They couldn't get married in Germany because "they hang you out for 14 days." That means publishing notice of the wedding, and Bernard never spent enough time in Germany to be "hung out" that long.

He has to be aboard ship in New York this weekend, so a New York wedding was out. Dayton was the only possibility.

Margo, Bernard and Mrs. Beason went to the Safety Building here Monday. The first man they met was Judge Edwards. They explained their problem to the judge, who promised quick action. And quick it was. A Probate Court ruling cut the red tape, and within 24 hours Margo was Mrs. Andratta.

Margo will sail home on the America. The couple plan to splice a honeymoon between Bernard's work hours.

"Nobody over there knows about this," says Margo. "They'll really be surprised. My daddy almost give up on me getting married. When he asked me, I tell him 'never'."

"One reason I want to get married," she continued, "is to get back in this country." It will take almost five months for Margo to get her reentry papers. While waiting, she plans to continue her dancing career in Bremerhaven, and she'll only be able to see Bernard for one day out of every 16.

But things will improve when she returns to this country. Then she can be with him three days out of every 18.

O'Neill To Check Toledo Expressway

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill and State Highway Chief Charles M. Noble will visit Toledo this week.

State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand said O'Neill and Noble will tour the Toledo Expressway site, attempt to re-evaluate Toledo's road needs for the current 30-month period, and inspect the wreckage of the Fassett Street Bridge, hit by a wind blown freighter Friday.

Chillicothe VA Aide Gets Honor

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—The National Assn. for Mental Health has announced that Thomas A. Coleman, employed at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital as a psychiatric nursing assistant, will be the recipient of its psychiatric aid achievement award for 1956.

Coleman, a Bataan "Death March" survivor, has been a nursing assistant at the hospital since August, 1946.

His selection was based on accomplishments in improving on the ward care of hospitalized veterans during the past year. The award is to be presented as the highlight of the Chillicothe VA's annual observance of Hospital Day Sunday, May 5.

Tennessee Ernie Booked at Fair

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State Fair Manager D. Robert Jones has announced that Tennessee Ernie Ford, television and radio star, would be one of the headline attractions at the 1957 fair, which opens Aug. 23 for eight days.

Jones said Ford would give 10 performances in the grandstand beginning Sunday, Aug. 25.

The cost of accidents in United States last year would have paid for construction of 2,000 new 300-bed hospitals.

Ohio Solons Shun Vendors' Discount

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Taxation Committee Wednesday refused to restore a two per cent vendors' discount in a substitute bill providing for an end to sales tax stamps in Ohio.

The restoration proposal sponsored by the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants lost on a vote of 12-4. Discounts allowed vendors last year totaled $4,356,000.

The committee agreed to double a proposed fee allowed county clerks of court for collecting the tax on motor vehicle sales to yield counties about $600,000 a year.

The amendment increased the fee to one per cent.

The bison, or buffalo herd, had been killed off in Canada to about 300 in 1900. Strict patrols of game wardens to stop illegal hunters has brought the herd back to about 15,000.

Queer, Quaint Quokka Saved for Posterity

A quokka eats his meal in squirrel-like manner.

BY ARTHUR SCHOLES
Central Press Assn.

SYDNEY, Australia—The unique quokkas, or western short-tailed pademelons, now are being studied by scientists at the University of West Australia.

Quokkas are found only on Rottnest island, 14 miles from the port of Fremantle, W. A. The quokka is the first Australian marsupial whose reproduction has been studied by the use of modern techniques.

Scientists have found that the quokkas, one of the smallest members of the kangaroo family, are only tiny, worm-like things at birth. A day-old quokka measures about an inch from nose to tail and has only 1-7,000th of its mother's weight.

By far the most surprising thing studies is the way in which a female, if she loses her young one is able to produce another without further waiting.

• • •

THE WONDER of delayed birth also occurs in bats and rats. It has been suspected in marsupials since captive female Kangeroos have been known to produce young, or "joeys", after months of isolation from their male kind.

On Rottnest island—which has been developed by the West Australian government as a tourist resort the quokkas are very tame and readily eat out of the visitor's hand.

BUSH FIRES, indiscriminated shooting and sheer vandalism have taken a heavy toll of the quokkas since their existence first was noted in 1802.

Earlier Dutch explorers were deceived into the belief the quokka was a rat. The quokkas have small, round ears, whiskers and almost hairless tails a foot long, and dentition similar to that of a rodent.

• • •

HOWEVER, quokkas are attractive animals and make good pets. Their average height is 16 inches. The only noise they make except the customary thump, thump of the hopping kangaroo, is a short sharp, hissing squeak.

Quokkas relish all manner of scraps, including banana skins, orange peel, cheese, bread and meat. They pick up the tidbits with their teeth, and then, holding the morsel in their forepaws, nibble away with a first class display of good table manners.

Scientists banded 1,700 quokkas on Rottnest island. They captured, tagged and released them in an attempt to get an insight into their lives and population changes.

In studying the life cycle of the miniature 'roos, scientists hope the public will gain a fuller appreciation of their many endearing qualities. They hope to preserve the quaint quokkas in their present natural state for the benefit of future generations.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am at the end of my rope and nearly crazy with fret and worry. I am a girl in my late twenties, pregnant and unmarried. It was a horrible mistake, an unforgiveable sin; and I don't know what to do, and hope that some way you can help me.

I have thought of killing myself, having an accident, anything—just to spare my family the shame and embarrassment that people don't let you forget.

I am working at present, but don't have any money saved, and have driven myself frantic trying to think of a solution. The baby is due in July, and soon I will have to quit my job, for appearance sake, and then I won't know what to do or where to go.

My family doesn't live here; and I am here just temporarily. I have written my parents saying that I like it real well here, and am staying on for several months, so they won't think anything of my being away.

Please help me if you can.

D. D.

DEAR D.D.: In the larger city, adjoining the town from which you write, there is a branch residence of the Florence Crittendon Home Association.

This association is a nationwide social agency which offers confidential service to unmarried mothers, complete with hospital care and residential refuge — in most cases.

To quote from a recent newsletter, issued by the Florence Crittendon Home & Hospital in the nation's capital: "From the girl's first discussion with the social caseworker, the program (of protective care) is geared toward helping her utilize this experience in living, as a step towards better life adjustment.

"The pleasant homelike atmosphere which greets her is a step in reconditioning bruised relationships so frequently encountered. The excellent medical-care program gives her, and her future child, a good basis for healthy living. Undergirding the program is professional counselling, which helps the girl understand herself better, and use better ways of handling her problems."

Another possible source of all-around help is your local branch of the Family Service Association of America—to be found in the adjoining large city aforementioned. As it happens, this is a Jewish Family Service (so titled) but, being a community agency with humanitarian service its goal, it can be counted on to furnish necessary guidance to any seeker in emergency, regardless of creed, I think.

This agency, like the Florence Crittenton Home, may or may not be listed under the name of the city, as "San Francisco Jewish Family Service—."

If for any reason you run into a stone wall, trying to locate help by these suggestions, then I advise you to call at the rectory of any church of your choice, insist o a private audience with the pastor or his assistant or case worker, and ask that personage to direct you to the proper sanctuary.

14 Men Now Held In Tractor Thefts

CLEVELAND (AP)—Assistant District Attorney George W. Morrison reports seven more men have been charged with participating in a theft ring which broke up truck tractor units and sold the parts in Canton.

That brought the total to 14 men, most of them Ohioans, and Morrison said the whole ring has been identified. During the last two years they have stolen and disposed of 28 tractor units, some of which were from New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois.

New Idle Pay Claims Increase

COLUMBUS (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation increased but continuing claims were reduced for the week of April 8, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

New claims for the week totaled 9,304, compared with 8,396 the previous week. Continuing claims totaled 60,954, compared with 63,600 for the week ended March 30.

Actress Gets Last Laugh

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A lovely young actress named Marjorie Steele is nightly enjoying the last laugh on the Doubting Thomases of this town.

Miss Steele is appearing in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"—and doing a whale of a job—at the Huntington Hartford Theater. The reason for her special satisfaction: She is Mrs. Huntington Hartford.

"A lot of people were saying Hunt built the theater just for me," she laughed, indicating such was not the case.

In justice to the scoffers, it did seem likely. Hartford, heir to grocery chain millions, sunk a million dollars into making over an old radio theater into a showcase theater for the legit. Meanwhile, his wife was attempting to gain a name for herself on the stage after an extremely minor achievement as a film starlet.

But Marjorie fooled them all. She played summer stock and won herself enough experience to tackle bigtime audiences. Her first hit was in the London company of "Sabrina Fair," in which she drew rave notices.

Elia Kazan, a cool customer for acting talent, chose her to succeed Barbara Bel Geddes in Tennessee Williams' "Cat." Marjorie filled out the New York run and has been drawing plaudits on the road tour.

I asked her why she continued pursuing an acting career when she could easily retire to the comfortable life of a millionaire's wife.

"I'm often asked that," she mused. "Why do actors have to act? I suppose there are four basic urges: Money—that's the most common need; sex — the younger ones hope to find a mate; fame—that helps satisfy the ego; and, well—art.

"I guess with me, art is the thing that drives me on. It's a real satisfaction to be able to build a role and hold an audience with a performance. It's a challenge that I feel I must have."

TV Commercials Said Not Many

CHICAGO (AP)—Television viewers will not agree, but a board set up by the industry to monitor commercials says very few stations exceed a prescribed time allowance for advertising.

G. Richard Shafto, chairman of the television code review board, claims only 271 of 8,000 programs checked exceeded the allowance.

"Of the stations monitored," Shafto declared, '90 per cent of the violations were found on only one fourth of these stations." Shafto, speaking to the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters, did not identify the stations.

Matsonia Junked; New One Constructed

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—There was a bit of sadness when the SS Matsonia left here on her last voyage.

Once queen of the Pacific tourist trade, the Matsonia carried thousands of troops in two world wars before being berthed with the idle fleet in the James River. The last voyage was to Baltimore where the Bethlehem Steel Corp., will junk her.

But enroute she passed at her birthplace, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, a new Matsonia under construction. The new ship will have room for 761 first class passengers when she enters the Hawaiian service June 11.

FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

LESLIE BRYANT RHOADES, JR.

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

LESLIE BRYANT RHOADES, JR., is being sought by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for the crime of robbery.

While serving 10 to 25 years for armed robbery, Rhoades is reported to have escaped from the London Prison Farm, London, Ohio, on Sept. 26, 1955.

The escapee was charged with fleeing from the State of Ohio to avoid confinement after conviction for the crime of armed robbery, in a complaint filed before a U. S. Commissioner at Springfield, O., on Oct. 11, 1955.

Rhoades has worked as farmer and truck driver. His aliases include Leslie B. Rhoades, Jr., Leslie B. Rhoads, Jr., Leslie Rhodes, Jr., "John," and "Junior."

He may be armed and should be considered dangerous. He has been convicted for armed robbery and for shooting with intent to kill.

DESCRIPTION: Age, 29; Born, Chillicothe, O.; Height, 6 feet; Weight, 170 to 184; Build, medium; Hair, brown; Eyes, blue; Complexion, medium. Has scar on left side of forehead and small mole on front of left shoulder.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

Actress Gets Last Laugh

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A lovely young actress named Marjorie Steele is nightly enjoying the last laugh on the Doubting Thomases of this town.

Miss Steele is appearing in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"—and doing a whale of a job—at the Huntington Hartford Theater. The reason for her special satisfaction: She is Mrs. Huntington Hartford.

"A lot of people were saying Hunt built the theater just for me," she laughed, indicating such was not the case.

In justice to the scoffers, it did seem likely. Hartford, heir to grocery chain millions, sunk a million dollars into making over an old radio theater into a showcase theater for the legit. Meanwhile, his wife was attempting to gain a name for herself on the stage after an extremely minor achievement as a film starlet.

But Marjorie fooled them all. She played summer stock and won herself enough experience to tackle bigtime audiences. Her first hit was in the London company of "Sabrina Fair," in which she drew rave notices.

Elia Kazan, a cool customer for acting talent, chose her to succeed Barbara Bel Geddes in Tennessee Williams' "Cat." Marjorie filled out the New York run and has been drawing plaudits on the road tour.

I asked her why she continued pursuing an acting career when she could easily retire to the comfortable life of a millionaire's wife.

"I'm often asked that," she mused. "Why do actors have to act? I suppose there are four basic urges: Money—that's the most common need; sex — the younger ones hope to find a mate; fame—that helps satisfy the ego; and, well—art.

"I guess with me, art is the thing that drives me on. It's a real satisfaction to be able to build a role and hold an audience with a performance. It's a challenge that I feel I must have."

TV Commercials Said Not Many

CHICAGO (AP)—Television viewers will not agree, but a board set up by the industry to monitor commercials says very few stations exceed a prescribed time allowance for advertising.

G. Richard Shafto, chairman of the television code review board, claims only 271 of 8,000 programs checked exceeded the allowance.

"Of the stations monitored," Shafto declared, '90 per cent of the violations were found on only one fourth of these stations." Shafto, speaking to the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters, did not identify the stations.

Key To History May Be in Attic

Old Books, Letters Could Fill Gaps

By BILL MANSFIELD
Central Press Assn.

LEXINGTON, Ky.—If you aren't careful the next time you clean out your attic you may destroy part of your nation's history.

That warning comes from a University of Kentucky historian, Dr. Bennett Wall, a man who should know. He has returned to his teaching duties after two years of full-time searching for historical source material.

His biggest problem during those two years, Wall says, was the average person's lack of regard for "those papers in the attic." Many of those papers, he points out, are irreplaceable letters, scrapbooks and records. Most of them, he fears, are destined for the trash pile not the library.

"The firemen of this state could double the size of the University of Kentucky's library in a year," Wall quips after 68,000 miles of history hunting in Kentucky. "I could wager I've had a hundred people ask me, "Why didn't you get here earlier? I just burned the papers you were looking for."

Even city and county officials often fail to recognize the value of public records, Wall says, citing an eastern Kentucky county where records dating back 150 years were recently sold for scrap paper.

* * *

THE TROUBLE IS, most people think only a letter by Presidents Abraham Lincoln or George Washington or some other historic figure is of historical value. Not so, says Wall. In fact, a farmer's detailed account of his flatboat trip down the Mississippi river to New Orleans may prove more valuable than many documents written by ex-Presidents or ex-governors, Wall declares.

Such accounts let the historian know what life was like for the average citizen of the period and offer specific details seldom found in state papers. The riverboat diary might prove invaluable to a novelist, too, Wall points out.

Not everything old is valuable, of course. A historian at a nearby college or an official of a local historical society will be glad to appraise any papers you might have, Wall advises.

* * *

ONCE PEOPLE discover they have objects of historical importance, almost all of them are willing, even eager, to donate the articles to an institution which can make use of them, the professor found.

Sometimes people are too generous. Dr. Wall had to refuse a full-size log cabin offered by one Kentuckian; the university didn't have a suitable site for it.

Occasionally, if the papers pertain to the owner's family, there is an objection. "A great many people have the idea that historians are looking for scandals," Wall explains. "Actually, the average family scandal wouldn't rate a line in any history book, but something like the average wages paid to workers on the early turnpikes is of real interest of us."

* * *

THERE ARE a few people with a personal interest in seeing that certain historical gaps are permanent. One of these was an elderly Kentuckian who had taken a hand in some long-past vote buying.

If you print what I've told you I don't know what I'll do; but I know what I would have done when I was younger—I would have shot you," he warned Dr. Wall.

The great mass of material remains uncollected simply because few people realize it has any value—and more of it is being destroyed every year.

There is a great opportunity to gather this material, Wall believes. "The question," he says a little sadly, "is: are we going to miss it for all eternity?"

It requires twenty volumes to publish the entire Bible in Braille.

Floating Super Market Feeds Lake Freighters

By SANFORD MARKEY

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — You don't think of a super market floating around in the middle of a river between two countries, but the 64-foot-long Ojibway, that services almost 100 Great Lakes vessels, is the world's most unusual grocery.

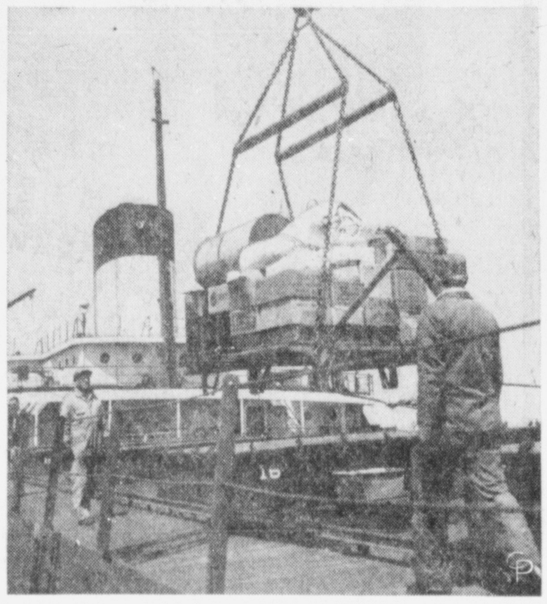
What is more, the Ojibway can supply the mammoths of the Great Lakes with more than 6,000 different items ranging from toothpicks to anchors, and including ice cream, foodstuffs of all types and ship equipment of all kinds.

Base for the Ojibway's operation is a super market-for-lake-freighters known as the Soo warehouse at Sault Ste. Marie, just below the famous locks where the ore boats are lowered from the level of Lake Superior to that of Lake Huron.

Operated by the Pittsburgh steamship division of United States Steel, the warehouse supplies the 58 ore carriers of the Pittsburgh steamship division, 32 ships operated by the Interlake steamship company, eight self-loaders of the Bradley Transportation line, and American Steel and Wire's Clifford F. Hood.

* * *

DELIVERIES to these ships are made "on the run" by the Ojibway which can unload tons of supplies within minutes as the carriers move down river toward the port cities on the lakes.



A giant freighter takes aboard its grocery "order."

This floating super market's manager, Wayne C. Spring, says the skippers of the vessels notify the warehouse of their needs as the carriers head up the Great Lakes.

When the huge vessels are heading down river, the speedy Ojibway sails out to meet them with their orders and can unload the groceries two tons at a time.

* * *

"GENERALLY, it takes two transfers by an overhead crane,' Spring says, "and we can deliver the full four tons within six minutes. The boats, at the time of transfers are going about six miles an hour, although we've travelled as high as 11.

"We're about 300 feet from shore at the time," adds Spring, "and when we're through loading the carrier has enough supplies on hand to last for about seven to 10 days.

"Of course, if a captain needs additional supplies— sort of like a housewife who left an item or two off her shopping list—we can furnish those items when he heads up toward Duluth."

A usual delivery order can include around 900 pounds of meat—enough to last a week; fruits and vegetables in season; 60 dozen eggs; upward of 50 gallons of milk, etc.

* * *

IN YEARLY figures, the Soo warehouse disposes of 25,000 pounds of the best meats; averages 1,200 gallons of milk a day; handles over 800 loaves of bread a day, and hundreds of tons of flour, 25 tons of coffee, etc.

Because the men who move the ores down the lakes like variety, the warehouses handle at least five different flavors of ice cream at all times; countless types of desserts, including birthday cakes, 50 kinds of soap, while on the equipment side there are canvases, 25 types of oil, 30 types of gaskets, etc.

Spring points out that the purpose of the grocery store is to improve on ship service in moving ores more quickly down the lakes; that around 50 men are employed in moving supplies, and that the daily consumption of meat aboard ship is more than twice the per capita average in the United States.

City Fathers Pay For Dog Licenses

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Never did the old maxim about putting money where your mouth is come closer to a direct hit than upon the Janesville city fathers after they adopted a resolution to issue licenses free to the city's guide dogs for the blind.

The action taken, the councilmen were informed the licenses were outside their jurisdiction. Strictly county business.

Faced with the emergency, the councilman took the only course left open — they passed the hat and collected $15 to buy licenses.

Gray Ladies Receive Recognition at Dinner Meeting

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Among the 10 Washington C. H., women honored Wednesday by the Red Cross for their service to the Gray Ladies, the unit's volunteer hospital assistance unit, were these five. Miss Mayme Kruskamp, at left, is arranging a service pin for Mrs. Alfred Seigle. Others are, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Peters, Mrs. H. L. Osborn and Mrs. Stephen Sterling. (Record-Herald photo)

RECOGNITION CERTIFICATES — Citations for having completed a group total of 1,040, hours volunteer service at the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital were presented by the Red Cross Wednesday to 10 Washington C. H. Gray Ladies. Five of them are, (left to right), Mrs. E. C. Vollette, Mrs. Michael Harrison, chairman, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. Leora Bobco and Mrs. Ellis Bishop. Seated is Miss Eveline Williams of the Division of Volunteer Activities at VA Hospital. (Record-Herald photo)

A recognition ceremony for 10 Washington C. H. women who serve as Gray Ladies at Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe, was conducted Wednesday night in the Hotel Washington banquet room.

The National Cash Register Co. was host to a group of 25 including the Gray Ladies, members of the Fayette County Red Cross chapter board of directors and a group of area Red Cross officials.

A 6:30 dinner preceded the session.

The Gray Lady group is a volunteer assistance unit. Local members, who received pins and certificates for having completed a total of 1,040 hours of actual service at the Chillicothe hospital, are Mrs. Michael Harrison, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Vollette, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. Leora Booco, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Miss Mayme Kruskamp, Mrs. Alfred Seigle, Mrs. Joseph Peters, Mrs. H. L. Osborne and Mrs. Stephen Sterling.

* * *

JOSEPH E. PETERS, Fayette County Red Cross chapter chairman, presided at the meeting, and speakers were: Samuel Gilmore Athens, Eastern Area Red Cross field representative, who told of experiences in disaster areas; Mrs. Leland Baxter, Newark, volunteer field consultant; Miss Eveline Williams, director of voluntary services at the Chillicothe hospital, and Mrs. Addie Curry, head of Red Cross voluntary services at that institution.

The Washington C. H. Gray Ladies, working as a part of the Buckeye Council program, have assisted in staging 45 dances at the hospital during the past year as well as 36 picnics.

Gray Ladies visited 56 wards each week for recreation work and took part in the Christmas Gift Shop in which 4,000 gifts were supplied by Red Cross chapters and helped fill 2,200 Christmas stockings.

The Gray Ladies also work in occupational therapy, educational therapy, manual arts, library, music, nursing service, chaplaincy, office and social-activities. They teach bridge and dancing and help feed bed patients.

* * *

A TOTAL of 5,191 Gray Ladies of the Central Buckeye Council contributed a total of 43,52ᵬ hours to the work from July 1955 to June 1956.

In a letter to Mrs. Harrison chairman of volunteers for the Fayette County chapter, Dr. H. H. Botts, VA Hospital manager, said: "For many years this hospital has enjoyed and greatly benefited by the services of the American Red Crss chapters through Central Buckeye Council. I consider it a tribute to our hospital that, as one of your first organized services, your chapter set about to recruit and train Gray Ladies to serve our veteran patients.

"This action is in the highest tradition of the Red Cross. You serve where the need is great. It is a privilege to have Fayette County represented at our hospital. It gives me pleasure to commend your fine group of Gray Ladies. We are proud to have them on our hospital team.

"On behalf of the patients and staff I wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation.

Nationalists Set For Chinese Revolt

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Nationalist China's chief delegates to the United Nations told university students that his countrymen stand ready to do the fighting "when the people of the Chinese mainland revolt."

The mainland is now held by Communists.

"Let the United Nations not hamper us," Dr. Tsiang Ting-Fu said in the opening address at a model UN session held at Stanford University. "Let the liberals of the U. S. not hamper us."

"Liberal intellectuals," he said, "believed that perhaps after all the Chinese Communists were more agrarian reformers. Their mistake has proved very costly to China and the world."

The oficial language of Israel is Hebrew, but street signs are in Hebrew, English and Arabic.

High Society Meets Queen In Museum

PARIS (AP)—France's highest society used the Venus de Milo's pedestal for a cocktail table and ancient Greek vases for cigarette butts at the party Wednesday night for Queen Elizabeth.

Prince Philip, the Queen's husband, smoking a big Havana cigar, came dangerously close to Raphael's painting of St. Michael.

It all happened at a gala dinner and reception given by Premier Guy Mollet and his Cabinet for the visiting Queen at the Louvre museum. The party lasted into the early hours today.

More than 3,000 guests swarmed around the Queen in efforts to get a close look at her.

The museum's centuries - old statues and paintings probably never witnessed such a celebration. The museum guards certainly were never so nervous as the buffet guests lit cigarettes while waiting for the Quee to come out of the dining room.

"Can you imagine that!" said one veteran on the staff. "I have never seen anybody smoke inside the museum before. Let's hope they won't start a fire."

Elizabeth missed the Venus and most of the masterpieces for which the Louvre is famous. It was just as well. Three museum attendants took turns removing the guests' empty glasses from the armless Greek lady's base.

Peony Queen Picked

VAN WERT (AP)—Janice Prior of Van Wert has been chosen Queen Jubilee XIII for the Peony Festival here June 5. Karen Berry of Delphos and Shirley Adams of Hoaglin - Jackson were named maids of honor.

Gray Ladies Receive Recognition at Dinner Meeting

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Among the 10 Washington C. H., women honored Wednesday by the Red Cross for their service to the Gray Ladies, the unit's volunteer hospital assistance unit, were these five. Miss Mayme Kruskamp, at left, is arranging a service pin for Mrs. Alfred Seigle. Others are, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Peters, Mrs. H. L. Osborn and Mrs. Stephen Sterling. (Record-Herald photo)

RECOGNITION CERTIFICATES — Citations for having completed a group total of 1,040, hours volunteer service at the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital were presented by the Red Cross Wednesday to 10 Washington C. H. Gray Ladies. Five of them are, (left to right), Mrs. E. C. Vollette, Mrs. Michael Harrison, chairman, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. Leora Booco and Mrs. Ellis Bishop. Seated is Miss Eveline Williams of the Division of Volunteer Activities at VA Hospital. (Record-Herald photo)

A recognition ceremony for 10 Washington C. H. women who serve as Gray Ladies at Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe, was conducted Wednesday night in the Hotel Washington banquet room.

The National Cash Register Co. was host to a group of 25 including the Gray Ladies, members of the Fayette County Red Cross chapter board of directors and a group of area Red Cross officials.

A 6:30 dinner preceded the session.

The Gray Lady group is a volunteer assistance unit. Local members, who received pins and certificates for having completed a total of 1,040 hours of actual service at the Chillicothe hospital, are Mrs. Michael Harrison, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Vollette, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. Leora Booco, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Miss Mayme Kruskamp, Mrs. Alfred Seigle, Mrs. Joseph Peters, Mrs. H. L. Osborne and Mrs. Stephen Sterling.

* * *

JOSEPH E. PETERS, Fayette County Red Cross chapter chairman, presided at the meeting, and speakers were: Samuel Gilmore Athens, Eastern Area Red Cross field representative, who told of experiences in disaster areas; Mrs. Leland Baxter, Newark, volunteer field consultant; Miss Eveline Williams, director of voluntary services at the Chillicothe hospital, and Mrs. Addie Curry, head of Red Cross voluntary services at that institution.

The Washington C. H. Gray Ladies, working as a part of the Buckeye Council program, have assisted in staging 45 dances at the hospital during the past year as well as 36 picnics.

Gray Ladies visited 56 wards each week for recreation work and took part in the Christmas Gift Shop in which 4,000 gifts were supplied by Red Cross chapters and helped fill 2,200 Christmas stockings.

The Gray Ladies also work in occupational therapy, educational therapy, manual arts, library, music, nursing service, chaplaincy, office and social-activities. They teach bridge and dancing and help feed bed patients.

* * *

A TOTAL of 5,191 Gray Ladies of the Central Buckeye Council contributed a total of 43,520 hours to the work from July 1955 to June 1956.

In a letter to Mrs. Harrison chairman of volunteers for the Fayette County chapter, Dr. H. H. Botts, VA Hospital manager, said: "For many years this hospital has enjoyed and greatly benefited by the services of the American Red Crss chapters through Central Buckeye Council. I consider it a tribute to our hospital that, as one of your first organized services, your chapter set about to recruit and train Gray Ladies to serve our veteran patients.

"This action is in the highest tradition of the Red Cross. You serve where the need is great. It is a privilege to have Fayette County represented at our hospital. It gives me pleasure to commend your fine group of Gray Ladies. We are proud to have them on our hospital team.

"On behalf of the patients and staff I wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation.

Nationalists Set For Chinese Revolt

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Nationalist China's chief delegates to the United Nations told university students that his countrymen stand ready to do the fighting "when the people of the Chinese mainland revolt."

The mainland is now held by Communists.

"Let the United Nations not hamper us," Dr. Tsiang Ting-Fu said in the opening address at a model UN session held at Stanford University. "Let the liberals of the U. S. not hamper us."

"Liberal intellectuals," he said, "believed that perhaps after all the Chinese Communists were more agrarian reformers. Their mistake has proved very costly to China and the world."

High Society Meets Queen In Museum

PARIS (AP)—France's highest society used the Venus de Milo's pedestal for a cocktail table and ancient Greek vases for cigarette butts at the party Wednesday night for Queen Elizabeth.

Prince Philip, the Queen's husband, smoking a big Havana cigar, came dangerously close to Raphael's painting of St. Michael.

It all happened at a gala dinner and reception given by Premier Guy Mollet and his Cabinet for the visiting Queen at the Louvre museum. The party lasted into the early hours today.

More than 3,000 guests swarmed around the Queen in efforts to get a close look at her.

The museum's centuries - old statues and paintings probably never witnessed such a celebration. The museum guards certainly were never so nervous as the buffet guests lit cigarettes while waiting for the Quee to come out of the dining room.

"Can you imagine that!" said one veteran on the staff. "I have never seen anybody smoke inside the museum before. Let's hope they won't start a fire."

Elizabeth missed the Venus and most of the masterpieces for which the Louvre is famous. It was just as well. Three museum attendants took turns removing the guests' empty glasses from the armless Greek lady's base.

18 Fayette County Students Set for Science Competition

Eighteen students from four of Fayette County's five high schools, and their 14 exhibits, will be a part of big amateur scientific display at the Lemon-Monroe High School in Monroe, Butler County, Saturday.

These are the boys and girls who finished first, second or third in county science competition here March 30, the boys and girls preparing themselves for their future in a world moving steadily toward automation, a world in which science is playing an increasingly important part.

The quiet bubbling of something in a test tube, the sharp snap of a spark jumping a gap or the nervous explanation of an exhibit will form the backdrop of the Science Awards Competition Saturday as winners in Fayette, Clinton, Butler and Warren county contests meet for their final scientific bout at Monroe.

• • •

ARMED WITH facts, figures and formulae, the contestants will arrive Saturday morning with boxes, batteries and display boards. By 10 a. m., 84 exhibits are expected to ready for the judging.

Among them will be 13 students from Washington C. H. High School —Bobby Edgington, Larry Bennett, Ronnie McCoy, Jean Ann Bebbett, Mary Ann Hackett, Saundra Cook, Ted Clarke, Sarah Core, Bill Williams, Karol McCune, Joyce Lutz, Jerry Powell and Randy Trace.

Three will be from Bloomingburg — Kay Heistand, Ann Craig and Larry Huff.

From Jeffersonville will be David Morrow and from Madison Mills Robert C. Belt.

Their scientific exhibits will be among a wide variety of displays —some elaborate, others simple— spread out on long tables for the judges to see and study.

• • •

THE JUDGES will spend as much time with the small displays as with the larger ones; for, sometimes a simple demonstration is backed up by extensive scientific knowledge.

When the exhibit hall is opened at 2:15 p. m. Saturday, everyone may see the respirator developed by a Washington C. H. girl, Sarah Core, or the digital computor built by a Butler County boy.

One Warren County exhibit will be an operating electric furnace while the apparatus in a Clinton County student's exhibit produces liquid oxygen.

Seventh to ninth grade students in general science will exhibit photomicrographs of crystals and dentrites, applications of ionization and a display titled "How's Your Heart."

In the senior division for 10th and 12th grade students, there will be an electric organ, a radio frequency transmission line, a display of what happens to water in a drain tile, bacteria cultures, wind tunnels, a 6-inch reflecting telescope, the chamberprocess of making sulfuric acid. sand casting, electrical uses in homelighting, synthesis of coal, the growing of mushrooms, commercial production of penicillin and a host of other exhibits.

• • •

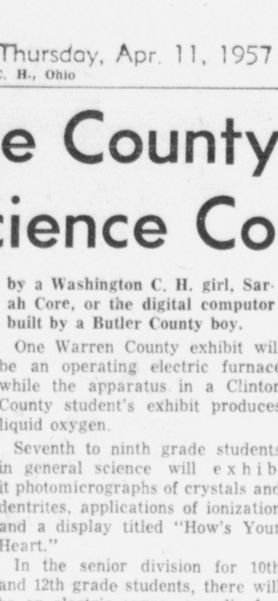
AT STAKE are 21 prizes consisting of three grand awards — three four-year college scholarships from the Armco Foundation and $660 in cash.

This will be the last event of the second annual Science Awards Competition, which is sponsored by the industries and schools of Butler, Warren, Clinton and Fayette counties.

The awards will be announced at a dinner Saturday evening. Parents and teachers of the students are to be there, too, as guests of the Armco Foundation.

Teachers, or sponsors, in Washington C. H. are Harry Winter, Charles Glover and Denzil Leggett; in Bloomingburg, Mrs. G. H. Biddle; in Jeffersonville. Mrs. Rowena Graham, and in Madison Mills, Robert Hinchman.

In an emergency, the United States can supply all commodities needed by this country, and by the United Kingdom, France and a half dozen other countries. reports the Twentieth Century Fund.



CHECKS AND NAVY WORSTED JERSEY are combined for a two-piece spring costume from the Herbert Sondheim collection. A navy taffeta cummerbund joins the wool skirt to a navy and white checked silk surah bodice. The bolero is separate and worn open.

'MISTAKE' LIFE TERM ENDS

SANTOS RODRIGUEZ, 28, freed from a life sentence, bids goodby to prison chaplain Father Leo Flynn as he leaves Norfolk, Mass., penitentiary. "I am very thankful to God. This is a very happy day," said Rodriguez, who was convicted in 1954 in the slaying of Mrs. Mildred Hosmer in Springfield, Mass. Last January an ex-convict, Lucien Peets, 34, admitted the Hosmer slaying, and pardon machinery for Rodriguez was set in motion. He insisted he didn't know what he was signing when he signed a confession to police after the crime. (International Soundphoto)

Real Bargains In Meat and Fish Offered

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A varied selection of meat and fish items will give housewives a chance to do some real bargain-hunting in grocery stores this weekend.

Chuck roast and pot roast seem to be the most popular beef items chosen by store marketing experts, but other meats such as veal, lamb and pork also will be featured in many places. In addition, chickens are still gaining in numbers along with turkeys, so both types of fowl also can be expected to grace many a dinner table this Sunday.

Fish specialties vary somewhat across the country.

Eggs are reported two to four cents more expensive this week, balancing last week's similar drop.

Heavy supplies of new potatoes are in prospect to add to a March 1 carryover of last fall's potatoes one-fifth larger than the carryover a year earlier.

That big carryover of fall potatoes puts them back in the outstanding buy category this week, produce men say, along with storage carrots.

The new potatoes from Southern fields, and Idaho's baking potatoes, are rated as good buys. So are sweet potatoes, beans, asparagus, new cabbage, broccoli, celery and storage onions.

Oranges and grapefruit rate as the best bet at most fruit counters.

When Henry Ford died at the age of 83 in 1947, he left an estate valued at more than $500 million dollars.

The late Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, USN, was the first man to fly over both the North and South Poles.

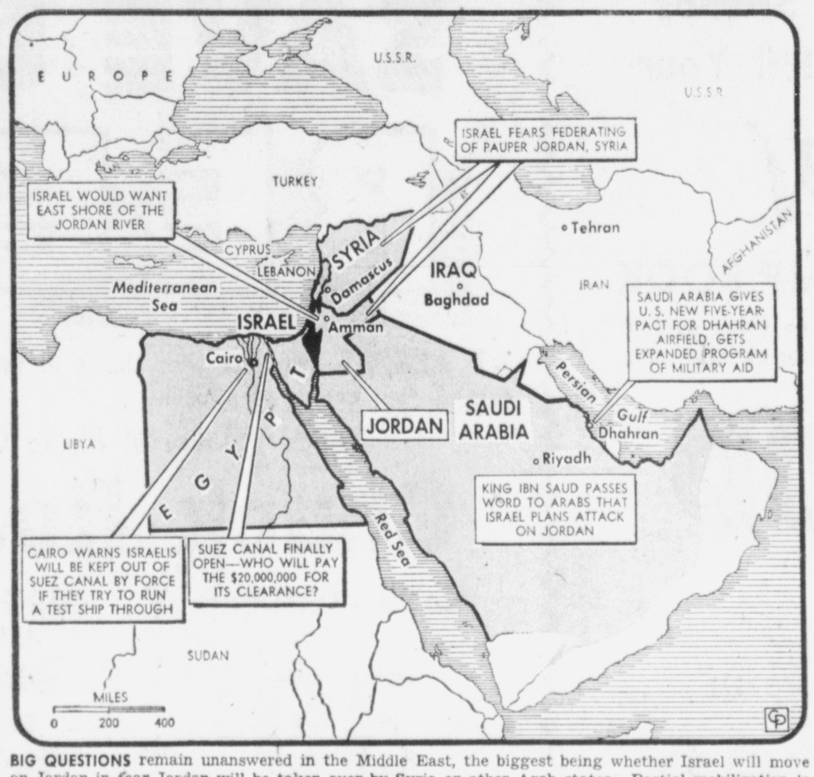
ARABS WARNED OF ISRAELI ATTACK ON JORDAN



BIG QUESTIONS remain unanswered in the Middle East, the biggest being whether Israel will move on Jordan in fear Jordan will be taken over by Syria or other Arab states. Partial mobilization is underway among the Arab Big Four (shaded). In event of an outbreak, Iraq likely would be involved.

Tenement Blast Kills Cincy Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Miss Mary Persinger, 40, died Wednesday of burns received in a fire which followed an explosion in her tenement home.

The three-story brick building was damaged so badly that City Building Inspector Don Hunter ordered it demolished. Families living in four nearby tenement buildings were ordered evacuated during the operation.

Gas from a defective stove in Miss Persinger's apartment was believed by authorities to have caused the explosion.

Antioch Ups Fees

YELLOW SPRINGS (AP)—Tuition will be increased by $200 at Antioch College in the 1958-59 school year, it was announced Wednesday. Students were told that rising costs were responsible.

Elephant's Antics Lead to Settlement

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Minnesota man, who filed suit for $106,500 because an elephant threw him in the air with his trunk, Wednesday accepted an out of court settlement from the elephant's owners.

Otto Nygren of Fergus Falls, Minn., accepted the settlement from Anthony Diane, the Buckeye Circus Corp., and the Diamond O Ranch, all of Canton. The amount was not disclosed.

Nygren said the elephant tossed him in the air last June 17 at Breckenridge, Minn. He said he found the elephant pulling things out of his parked car, and when he tried to put them back the elephant attacked him.

Ohio Teamsters Schedule Parley

CLEVELAND (AP) — A special meeting of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters has been called for April 24 by President William Presser of Cleveland.

Presser said the question of a special audit of union funds, requested by Local 100 of Cincinnati, will be discussed if the question is raised at the meeting.

The Cincinnati local, composed of 8,000 drivers, demands to have an auditor of its own choosing go over the records of the union's health and welfare fund.

Scaled to Music

AN OPERA-GOER'S eyeglasses can rise to the occasion, as shown by this high-style "spectacular" frame, modeled in Chicago. The "musical note" features a gold filigree staff with clef sign and notes formed by rhinestones.

Air Pacts Let

DAYTON (AP) — Air Force contracts totaling $57,035,639 have been awarded 13 different firms, Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base announced Wednesday.

An elephant is considered in its infancy until it is 25 years old.

THE STOLE SUIT for spring, 1957, comes in lilac tones of Linton tweed in this model from the Davidow collection. The jacket, buttoned high to a Peter Pan collar, has slit crescent pockets. The more coarsely woven tweed stole is fringed.

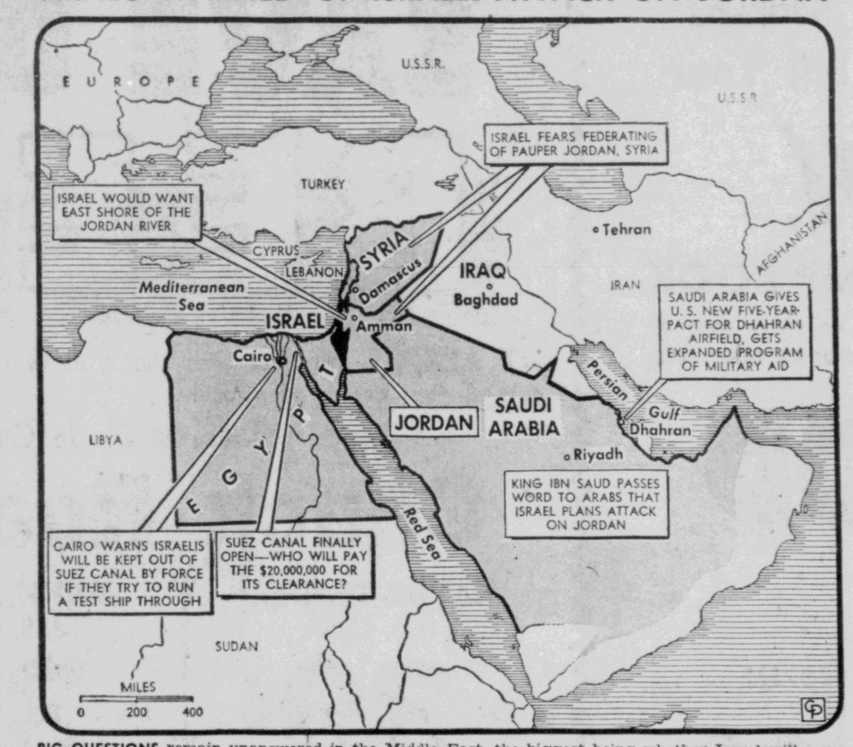
ARABS WARNED OF ISRAELI ATTACK ON JORDAN



BIG QUESTIONS remain unanswered in the Middle East, the biggest being whether Israel will move on Jordan in fear Jordan will be taken over by Syria or other Arab states. Partial mobilization is underway among the Arab Big Four (shaded). In event of an outbreak, Iraq likely would be involved.

Tenement Blast Kills Cincy Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Miss Mary Persinger, 40, died Wednesday of burns received in a fire which followed an explosion in her tenement home.

The three-story brick building was damaged so badly that City Building Inspector Don Hunter ordered it demolished. Families living in four nearby tenement buildings were ordered evacuated during the operation.

Gas from a defective stove in Miss Persinger's apartment was believed by authorities to have caused the explosion.

Antioch Ups Fees

YELLOW SPRINGS (AP)—Tuition will be increased by $200 at Antioch College in the 1958-59 school year, it was announced Wednesday. Students were told that rising costs were responsible.

Elephant's Antics Lead to Settlement

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Minnesota man, who filed suit for $106,500 because an elephant threw him in the air with his trunk, Wednesday accepted an out of court settlement from the elephant's owners.

Otto Nygren of Fergus Falls, Minn., accepted the settlement from Anthony Diane, the Buckeye Circus Corp., and the Diamond O Ranch, all of Canton. The amount was not disclosed.

Nygren said the elephant tossed him in the air last June 17 at Breckenridge, Minn. He said he found the elephant pulling things out of his parked car, and when he tried to put them back the elephant attacked him.

Ohio Teamsters Schedule Parley

CLEVELAND (AP) — A special meeting of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters has been called for April 24 by President William Presser of Cleveland.

Presser said the question of a special audit of union funds, requested by Local 100 of Cincinnati, will be discussed if the question is raised at the meeting.

The Cincinnati local, composed of 8,000 drivers, demands to have an auditor of its own choosing go over the records of the union's health and welfare fund.

Scaled to Music

AN OPERA-GOER'S eyeglasses can rise to the occasion, as shown by this high-style "spectacular" frame, modeled in Chicago. The "musical note" features a gold filigree staff with clef sign and notes formed by rhinestones.

Air Pacts Let

DAYTON (AP) — Air Force contracts totaling $57,035,639 have been awarded 13 different firms, Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base announced Wednesday.

An elephant is considered in its infancy until it is 25 years old.

Havana Is Jumping; It's Carnival Time!

The carnival spirit is everywhere during carnival time in Cuba.

By IRWIN M. TREES

HAVANA, Cuba—The spectacularly colorful carnival time is in full swing in Cuba, and all Havana is jumping.

Havana's carnival has a double ancestry, European and Afro-Cuban. It's this combination that makes for such an exciting time. From Europe come the Carnival Queen and King Momus. The Spanish colony brings its unique color and rhythm to the celebration.

Wild Agro-Cuban dances dating back to colonial times can be seen up and down the Prado, Havana's main thoroughfare. The Chinese colony, second largest in the Western hemisphere, adds an exotic, mystic touch with its flaming dragons and dances.

All Havana is alive with masked dancers, confetti and streamers. It's famed street dancing groups, Comparsas, are everywhere with their tropical rhythms and colorful costumes.

• • •

TRADITIONALLY, Havana celebrates carnival on weekends so the festivities last longer through the late winter season. On Saturdays the Comparsas take to the streets, accompanied by bongo beating musicians pouring out wild Afro-Cuban music.

The Comparsas can use any theme they want for dress and dance, but the basic step must be the famous Cuban conga. So, even though some of the dancers are dressed in Arabian Night costumes with flowing silk robes, turbans and veils, their dance will have some element of the conga in it.

• • •

IN LATE YEARS' carnivals, one group of Comparsas was dressed in Eighteenth Century French aristocrats' costumes, complete even to white wigs, and they blended a conga with the stately minuet.

Other dancers carry out patriotic or popular themes in their costumes and dances.

A North American influence on Havana's carnival are the high school bands and beauty queens flown down from Miami and Tampa. Drum majorettes prance gaily alongside a Cuban dancer doing the Agro-Cuban dance.

On March 24 there is a big carnival promendade and prixes are given for the best floats, decorated automobiles and costumes. Most sought after trophy is that given out by Havana's mayor.

Always-gay Havana reaches a crescendo when carnival is on, and everyone, Cuban or overseas visitor, is swept along in the mirth and excitement.

Sir Reginald Mum For Good Reason

KANSAS CITY, Kan. P — Sir Reginald had a hangdog look. He was strangely quiet and wouldn't eat or drink.

Cary Grant's Wife Uses Hypnosis; He Quits Smoking

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Want to quit smoking, men? It's easy. Just have your wife hypnotize you.

That' what Cary Grant did, and he's been off the weeds for four years.

This was disclosed by the actor's wife, Betsy Drake, a rare, intriguing girl with a variety of interests. One of them is hypnotism.

"Actually, you hypnotize yourself," she explained. "When you are hypnotized by someone, you allow yourself to be hypnotized. You do it to yourself when you're in that state just before slumber at night. You do it when you're driving or in the shower and someone speaks to you suddenly so that you start."

She declared that she and Grant decided four years ago that smoking wasn't healthy. So she hypnotized him and planted the suggestion that he should give up cigarettes. He did.

"What I didn't realize was that I was hypnotizing myself at the same time," she added. "I gave up smoking myself."

She used the same technique when Grant was advised to give up liquor because of jaundice. The hypnosis again boomeranged and neither she nor her husband drink anything stronger than wine now.

Betsy has returned to acting after an absence of five years, during which she occupied herself with hypnotism, writing and housewifery. She's now playing in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" at 20th Century-Fox, where her husband is laboring in "An Affair to Remember."

Why was she gone from the screen so long?

"Because I wanted to be a housewife," she replied. "when I was married, I didn't know the first thing about keeping house. I literally couldn't boil eggs without burning them.

"But I learned. I'm now a darned good cook. I can manage a large house with a degree of facility. And I know how to clean floors and windows."

She started the writing kick when she and Cary were doing the "Mr. Blandings" show on radio. She wrote a few scripts and then tried her hand at other things with middling success.

"I didn't realize how much I missed acting until I got back to it," she said. "Now I am desperate for jobs. I want to work in one picture after another."

Grain Measuring Unit May Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bushel may be on its way out as a unit for measuring grain.

Both American and Canadian governments as well as trade groups in both countries are pushing moves to measure grains by the hundredweight instead. The U. S. Agriculture Department has made a study of the matter and will report its recommendations to the American Feed Manufacturers Assn. in Chicago May 1.

Confusion in the use of the bushel arises in part out of the fact that it is not a uniform unit in all countries using it and also because of the fact that there is great variation in the weight of a bushel of various grains.

Eisenhower Likes British 'Courage'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he admires Great Britain's courage and nerve in deciding to put its military program on new look, streamlined basis.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference to comment on such British decisions as the conclusion that the home islands cannot be adequately defended against atomic attack.

Asked about the impact of those decisions on other North Atlantic Treaty countries. Eisenhower replied there is no question that Britain's new program has disturbed some NATO nations.

But he went on to say that Britain has had a hard time in recent years—has had an heroic row to hoe in trying to keep its economic nose above water.

Shipping Firm Boosts Holdings

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilson Marine Transit Co. moved from seventh to fourth largest Great Lakes fleet operator as a result of the sale this week of 20 freighters for an estimated $21 million.

In a transaction involving more than $17 million and 16 vessels, Great Lakes Steamship Co. sold its entire fleet.

Great Lakes sold its three largest vessels to Northwestern Mutual Insurance Co. of Milwaukee. The other 13 vessels of the Great Lakes Steamship fleet were purchased by Wilson Marine Transit.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT

FAMOUS KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE BY TAKING THIS COUPON TO

HALL'S REXALL DRUGS

115 W. Court St. Wash. C. H.

We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while the supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results.

Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.

Swelling and stiffness usually requires eight or ten doses, however, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.

If you have been bothered with Stubborn Cough or Cold take one or two bottles of these precious roots and herbs in this wonderful SPRING TONIC.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.

The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up". This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Hall's Rexall Store.

For constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than all the Soda you can get in your stomach.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on an absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.

If you buy a Bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $2.00 Hall's Rexall Store will give you a full $2.00 Bottle Absolutely Free.

If the preparation is too bitter, add an equal part of lemon or grapefruit juice. Do not add orange juice.

Havana Is Jumping; It's Carnival Time!

The carnival spirit is everywhere during carnival time in Cuba.

By IRWIN M. TREES

HAVANA, Cuba—The spectacularly colorful carnival time is in full swing in Cuba, and all Havana is jumping.

Havana's carnival has a double ancestry, European and Afro-Cuban. It's this combination that makes for such an exciting time. From Europe come the Carnival Queen and King Momus. The Spanish colony brings its unique color and rhythm to the celebration.

Wild Agro-Cuban dances dating back to colonial times can be seen up and down the Prado, Havana's main thoroughfare. The Chinese colony, second largest in the Western hemisphere, adds an exotic, mystic touch with its flaming dragons and dances.

All Havana is alive with masked dancers, confetti and streamers. It's famed street dancing groups, Comparsas, are everywhere with their tropical rhythms and colorful costumes.

• • •

TRADITIONALLY, Havana celebrates carnival on weekends so the festivities last longer through the late winter season. On Saturdays the Comparsas take to the streets, accompanied by bongo beating musicians pouring out wild Afro-Cuban music.

The Comparsas can use any theme they want for dress and dance, but the basic step must be the famous Cuban conga. So, even though some of the dancers are dressed in Arabian Night costumes with flowing silk robes, turbans and veils, their dance will have some element of the conga in it.

• • •

IN LATE YEARS' carnivals, one group of Comparsas was dressed in Eighteenth Century French aristocrats' costumes, complete even to white wigs, and they blended a conga with the stately minuet.

Other dancers carry out patriotic or popular themes in their costumes and dances.

A North American influence on Havana's carnival are the high school bands and beauty queens flown down from Miami and Tampa. Drum majorettes prance gaily alongside a Cuban dancer doing the Agro-Cuban dance.

On March 24 there is a big carnival promendade and prixes are given for the best floats, decorated automobiles and costumes. Most sought after trophy is that given out by Havana's mayor.

Always-gay Havana reaches a crescendo when carnival is on, and everyone, Cuban or overseas visitor, is swept along in the mirth and excitement.

Film Actresses Protect Hands, Legs, Voices, Etc., Etc.

What Will They Insure Next?

By HOYT McAFEE

LOS ANGELES — Americans have been called—and justifiably — the most insurance-minded people in the world. That applies in particular to those engaged in "show business." Dancers, singers, movie actors and actresses, models and golfers outdo all others in signing up for "odd" and "unusual" policies—policies for the protection of their lips, eyes, curls, dimples, hands, backs and foghorn voices.

Recently I talked to several individuals who've taken out remarkable insurance policies —either lately or not so long back. These were the choice morsels I gleaned:

Blonde Betty Grable (Mrs. Harry James) has had millions of words written about her "shapely" and "flawless" legs. At one point Betty thought enough of them to insure them for $500,000.

Linda Cristal, a well-rounded showgirl and dancer, took her cue from Betty Grable. After being assigned some rough roles in pictures, she covered herself with an $800,000 policy—one tailored to pay off in the event she suffered any "disfigurement."

Mary Pickford, who years ago reigned as "America's Sweetheart," told me that during her active career she kept her curls insured for $1,000,000. In that same era, Pearl White — who gained fame for the movie serials The Perils of Pauline and The Exploits of Elaine — placed a $52,000 value (insurance-wide) on her dimples.

Some time preceding her tragic deaths, the late Carole Landis persuaded an insurance firm to cover her body to the tune of $100,000. Insurance officials didn't look upon that request as "extraordinary." However, the one vivacious dancer, Ann Miller, presented, at a later date, puzzled them greatly.

* * *

ANN, FAMOUS for her well-proportioned legs, crossed up an insurance outfit—actually threw it a "curve ball" — by asking for $50,000 worth of coverage on her hands! Pretty model June Clark joined the parade by taking out a $100,000 policy — also on her hands. Joan Taylor, an impish, up-and-coming actress—one with a pair of unusually lovely hands—obtained coverage in the amount of $100,000 on her legs!

Janis Carter took out a like amount — $100,000 — on her eyes. Singer Alice Faye once insured her voice for $150,000. Patricia Neal, actress, likewise protected her voice with a $50,000 policy. So did the sultry, "husky-throated" Gertrude Niessen.

Junior Standish, showgirl, and Maria Morez, a popular model, brightened up the insurance world with their requests. In fact, their applications touched off a round of curiosity enthusiasm. Junior and Maria asked that their backs be insured — a request which was granted cheerfully.

* * *

SO WAS the one submitted by Hilda Dietrich, a "slinky" European actress (not to be confused with the "glamorous grandma" Marlene Dietrich). She asked for a $100,000 policy on her lips.

An agent for an insurance firm—after some close-up glimpses of Hilda's "most attractive asset" — was happy to say "yes."

He described her lips luscious and desirable"—proving that all insurance agents don't have dull tasks to perform!

As might be expected, male performers in various fields of entertainment also have been bitten by the insurance bug. Blouncy Eddie Cantor shelled out a large premium to have the "banjo roll" quality of his eyes insured.

Debonair Fred Astaire estimated his dancing legs to be worth $800,000—in terms of insurance coverage.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, long known for their zany antics in comedies, refused to be outstripped by anyone. They went to the insurance people and planked down dore-mi for a $50,000 policy—against "loss of weight." Harp Marx, in his application, lamented that he had no "spectacular attractions" to cover, via an insurance policy. None "of the caliber of Monroe, Grable, or Jayne Mansfield," he added. So he settled for $100,000 worth of coverage on his hands.

HORTON SMITH, golfer, won approval of his request for $40,000 worth of coverage on his legs and $20,000 worth on his hands.

Andy Devine, in appreciation of the attention bestowed upon him by virtue of his "gravel" (or "foghorn") voice, had that asset covered for $75,000.

And Jimmy Durante, ever the sly one, had the insurance fellows perplexed for a brief spell. He submitted a few pencilled comments having to do with Hink-a-dink-a-doo —and some others which, typically, made no sense at all.

That is, unless those reading them could, miraculously, "decipher" Durante's weird brand of "English."

However, after those confusing preliminaries, Jimmy wound up by admitting he's like to get his celebrated schnozz insured—for $50,000. The answer was, of course, affirmative.

Five Time Loser Still Proud of Job

MILWAUKEE (AP)—George Hunt, 27, who told police he was proud of being a thief has been sentenced to six months in the house of correction on a charge of shoplifting.

Hunt was arrested after running from a store and said"I'm proud of being a thief and I intend to steal all my life." Police records showed he was convicted five times earlier for larceny.

Bad Memory Gets Boy in Bad Trouble

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Belatedly, 9-year-old Charlie Martin remembered his father's admonition "never get into a car with a stranger" and it caused quite a bit of excitement in the Trotwood area Wednesday.

It really started Tuesday when Charlie's mother failed to awaken him in time to catch the school bus. He lives in a rural area and goes to school at Trotwood, some nine miles west of here.

This morning, Charlie made the bus. But all the way to school the other youngsters ribbed him about his absence, and told him he would have to go to court. He wanted no part of that, and upon arrival at school he headed back home on foot.

On the way a woman motorist stopped and offered him a ride. Once inside the car, he remembered what his father had told him about never riding with strangers.

He asked the woman to stop, but while the car was stil moving Charlie opened the door and rolled out and down an embankment, toward a creek. The driver of another car saw Charlie roll out, and reported to the sheriff's office.

Soon a squad of deputies and Trotwood police, along with a group of citizens, were scouring the rural area's woods and fields, and searching along the creek.

The search party was still at work when Charlie's dad spotted him walking toward home. The father notified the school and word was relayed to the search party.

Deputy Sheriff William Newshaw said Charlie's belated memory was a good one for youngsters to carry. Charlie's dad agreed, and his mother said she'll be sure to get him up on time from now on.

Clabber Girl's modern version of Quick Easter Buns

QUICK EASTER BUNS

Yield: 2 dozen buns

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	2 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder	½ cup shortening
	½ cup currants
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon	1 egg
1 teaspoon ground allspice	½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt	Milk for glaze

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, spices, salt, and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in currants. Beat together egg and milk and add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about ½ minute on lightly floured board. Break off pieces of dough about 1½ inches in diameter. Form each into a ball. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with milk. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes. While warm, with confectioners sugar icing, form a cross on top of each bun.

What Will They Insure Next?

By HOYT McAFEE

LOS ANGELES — Americans have been called—and justifiably — the most insurance-minded people in the world. That applies in particular to those engaged in "show business." Dancers, singers, movie actors and actresses, models and golfers outdo all others in signing up for "odd" and "unusual" policies—policies for the protection of their lips, eyes, curls, dimples, hands, backs and foghorn voices.

Recently I talked to several individuals who've taken out remarkable insurance policies —either lately or not so long back. These were the choice morsels I gleaned:

Blonde Betty Grable (Mrs. Harry James) has had millions of words written about her "shapely" and "flawless" legs. At one point Betty thought enough of them to insure them for $500,000.

Linda Cristal, a well-rounded showgirl and dancer, took her cue from Betty Grable. After being assigned some rough roles in pictures, she covered herself with an $800,000 policy—one tailored to pay off in the event she suffered any "disfigurement."

Mary Pickford, who years ago reigned as "America's Sweetheart," told me that during her active career she kept her curls insured for $1,000,000. In that same era, Pearl White — who gained fame for the movie serials The Perils of Pauline and The Exploits of Elaine — placed a $52,000 value (insurance-wide) on her dimples.

Some time preceding her tragic deaths, the late Carole Landis persuaded an insurance firm to cover her body to the tune of $100,000. Insurance officials didn't look upon that request as "extraordinary." However, the one vivacious dancer, Ann Miller, presented, at a later date, puzzled them greatly.

* * *

ANN, FAMOUS for her well-proportioned legs, crossed up an insurance outfit—actually threw it a "curve ball" — by asking for $50,000 worth of coverage on her hands! Pretty model June Clark joined the parade by taking out a $100,000 policy — also on her hands. Joan Taylor, an impish, up-and-coming actress—one with a pair of unusually lovely hands—obtained coverage in the amount of $100,000 on her legs!

Janis Carter took out a like amount — $100,000 — on her eyes. Singer Alice Faye once insured her voice for $150,000. Patricia Neal, actress, likewise protected her voice with a $50,000 policy. So did the sultry, "husky-throated" Gertrude Niessen.

Junior Standish, showgirl, and Maria Morez, a popular model, brightened up the insurance world with their requests. In fact, their applications touched off a round of curiosity enthusiasm. Junior and Maria asked that their backs be insured — a request which was granted cheerfully.

* * *

SO WAS the one submitted by Hilda Dietrich, a "slinky" European actress (not to be confused with the "glamorous grandma" Marlene Dietrich). She asked for a $100,000 policy on her lips.

An agent for an insurance firm—after some close-up glimpses of Hilda's "most attractive asset" — was happy to say "yes."

He described her lips luscious and desirable"—proving that all insurance agents don't have dull tasks to perform!

As might be expected, male performers in various fields of entertainment also have been bitten by the insurance bug. Blouncy Eddie Cantor shelled out a large premium to have the "banjo roll" quality of his eyes insured.

Debonair Fred Astaire estimated his dancing legs to be worth $800,000—in terms of insurance coverage.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, long known for their zany antics in comedies, refused to be outstripped by anyone. They went to the insurance people and planked down do-re-mi for a $50,000 policy—against "loss of weight." Harp Marx, in his application, lamented that he had no "spectacular attractions" to cover, via an insurance policy. None "of the caliber of Monroe, Grable, or Jayne Mansfield," he added. So he settled for $100,000 worth of coverage on his hands.

HORTON SMITH, golfer, won approval of his request for $40,000 worth of coverage on his legs and $20,000 worth on his hands.

Andy Devine, in appreciation of the attention bestowed upon him by virtue of his "gravel" (or "foghorn") voice, had that asset covered for $75,000.

And Jimmy Durante, ever the sly one, had the insurance fellows perplexed for a brief spell. He submitted a few pencilled comments having to do with Hink-a-dink-a-doo —and some others which, typically, made no sense at all.

That is, unless those reading them could, miraculously, "decipher" Durante's weird brand of "English."

However, after those confusing preliminaries, Jimmy wound up by admitting he's like to get his celebrated schnozz insured—for $50,000. The answer was, of course, affirmative.

Five Time Loser Still Proud of Job

MILWAUKEE (AP)—George Hunt, 27, who told police he was proud of being a thief has been sentenced to six months in the house of correction on a charge of shoplifting.

Hunt was arrested after running from a store and said"I'm proud of being a thief and I intend to steal all my life." Police records showed he was convicted five times earlier for larceny.

Bad Memory Gets Boy in Bad Trouble

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Belatedly, 9-year-old Charlie Martin remembered his father's admonition "never get into a car with a stranger" and it caused quite a bit of excitement in the Trotwood area Wednesday.

It really started Tuesday when Charlie's mother failed to awaken him in time to catch the school bus. He lives in a rural area and goes to school at Trotwood, some nine miles west of here.

This morning, Charlie made the bus. But all the way to school the other youngsters ribbed him about his absence, and told him he would have to go to court. He wanted no part of that, and upon arrival at school he headed back home on foot.

On the way a woman motorist stopped and offered him a ride. Once inside the car, he remembered what his father had told him about never riding with strangers.

He asked the woman to stop, but while the car was still moving Charlie opened the door and rolled out and down an embankment, toward a creek. The driver of another car saw Charlie roll out, and reported to the sheriff's office.

Soon a squad of deputies and Trotwood police, along with a group of citizens, were scouring the rural area's woods and fields, and searching along the creek.

The search party was still at work when Charlie's dad spotted him walking toward home. The father notified the school and word was relayed to the search party.

Deputy Sheriff William Newshaw said Charlie's belated memory was a good one for youngsters to carry. Charlie's dad agreed, and his mother said she'll be sure to get him up on time from now on.

Clabber Girl's modern version of Quick Easter Buns

QUICK EASTER BUNS

Yield: 2 dozen buns

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	2 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder	½ cup shortening
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon	½ cup currants
1 teaspoon ground allspice	1 egg
½ teaspoon salt	½ cup milk
	Milk for glaze

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, spices, salt, and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in currants. Beat together egg and milk and add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about ½ minute on lightly floured board. Break off pieces of dough about 1½ inches in diameter. Form each into a ball. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with milk. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes. While warm, with confectioners sugar icing, form a cross on top of each bun.

Do-It-Yourself...
Remember, it's the fresh ingredients in your home-baked recipe that make things taste better, stay fresh longer.

Uncle Sam Gives Big Money Stars Tax Break with Corporation Status

By ARMAND ARCHERD

HOLLYWOOD — Stars of movies and television are once again beaming because Uncle Sam agrees they can call themselves corporations. This means they can save thousands of dollars on the old income tax form.

Almost every top star who has been able to complete his old studio contracts has incorporated himself.

Jimmy Stewart was one of the first to do so and demanded percentages of his films. He's earned as much as $600,000 from one film.

Clark Gable, after 20 long years at one studio, demands 10 per cent of the gross of films he makes or makes the films with his own film company. Gary Cooper has a similar arrangement.

Burt Lancaster, along with producers Harold Hecht and James Hill, set up the Hecht-Hill - Lancaster company which made such successes as Marty, Trapeze, Sweet Smell of Success, Bachelor Party, etc.

Marlon Brando, a comparative newcomer, has his own filmery, Pennebaker.

• • •

BING CROSBY owns as much as 50 per cent of his films.

Bill Holden, who grew up on the same film lot with Bing, set up his Tolcua Productions.

Kirk Douglas' Bryna Productions is in heavy production with Kirk appearing in fewer than one-third of the films.

Jeff Chandler's first film for his own company, "Drango," proved a big money-maker.

Rock Hudson, who had several years to go under an exclusive contract to a major movie company, was permitted to set up his own company to make a film on his own each year in order to take advantage of his present popularity, and also get a break tax-wise.

Bob Mitchum, who is rarely thought of in terms of being a big business man, also set up his own outfit.

Danny Kaye, Alan Ladd and Cary Grant, to name a few more of the top names, work either by filming under their own banners or in joint production with a major studio. Result: they set up a mutual production company.

• • •

MARTIN AND LEWIS who had their happy company, York, before splitting up, have now worked out plans to split up the company, too.

One of the few top stars who continues on a straight salary basis is Robert Taylor, upwards of $5,000 a week from a big studio. However, he's been there so long he's also entitled to a very hefty pension plan.

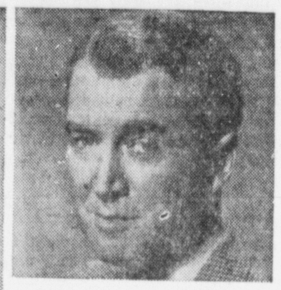
Frank Sinatra, the comeback kid of this decade, wouldn't think of doing anything unless it's via his company.

On the female side of the ledger, Rita Hayworth was one of the first to set up her own company, years ago, when she and Orson Welles were married.

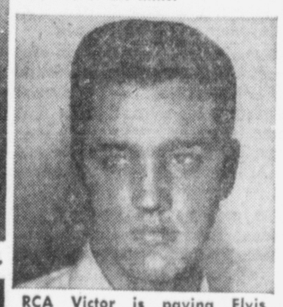
Jane Russell, along with husband Bob Waterfield, set up Russfield, which not only makes films but also "loans out" Jane.

Lana Turner has followed their example and organized her own company. Doris Day's Arwin Corp. has been most successful.

Jane Russell loans herself out.



Jimmy Stewart's company has made as much as $600,000 on one of his films.



RCA Victor is paying Elvis $1,000 a week for 20 years—a tax saving for him.

Marie Wilson got $several thou$and a week for not working.

• • •

JUDY GARLAND, with husband Sid Luft, has her own company.

Marilyn Monroe, who fought for her freedom from her studio, established a label under which she can be loaned out.

It's no different on the TV side of the fence.

Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball, of course, are the best examples of this.

Danny Thomas, Jimmy Durante, Donald O'Connor, Sid Caesar, Red Skelton and Jack Webb similarly are the bosses of their own companies which produce their television shows.

• • •

MILTON BERLE has a lifetime contract with one network as an executive advisor at $100,000 per year.

The same network is in partnership with Bob Hope to back him as much as $24 million for both his television shows and feature films for theater distribution!

Although Dinah Shore isn't incorporated, she's on a healthy salary which guarantees Dinah upward of $250,000 a year, plus a pension plan.

Another studio signed Marie Wilson to a long - term contract years ago, and while they couldn't come up with a good TV idea after My Friend Irma, they had to continue paying her several thousands a week.

George Gobel set up his Gomalco corporation to produce both his television and film shows. Phil Silvers has a similar setup for his program.

• • •

JACK BENNY has the heftiest deal of all. One network not only guarantees him a profit of about $25,000 per show, but also backs him, gives him reissue rights, pension plans, etc. Rather, it gives these things to Jack's company.

Of course there are many high-priced stars who, sad to say, have to pay taxes, just like any salaried guy or gal. These include the television "salesladies": Joanne Jordan, who earns $50,000 a year; Julia Meade, $100,000; Betty Furness, $100,000, and Bess Myerson, $150,000.

And there are, of course, the high-priced stars who work on the big dramatic shows. Such stars as Bette Davis, Shirley Booth or Jack Palance receive $10,000 per show.

In case you wondered about a fella named Elvis Presley, he's taken care of tax-wise, too. His company shares in the profits of his films. And, just in case the public ever tires of his records, a disc firm has agreed to pay him $1,000 a week for 20 years. It also means he won't have a big tax bite taken out of his income during these hefty years.

There, now, do you feel better about your small contribution?

Soviet Halts Debt Payment

Russian People Told Of Individual Loss

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government is stopping the payment of either principal or interest on 260 billion rubles lent to Moscow by Soviet citizens. And Nikita Khrushchev has told the people they can expect no payments for the next 20 or 25 years.

The money has been collected over the last 20 years in state loans taken from the people's wages through deductions.

The sum amounts to 65 billion dollars at the official exchange rate.

Khrushchev also said that effective in 1958 there will be no more annual loan drives. During these drives Soviet citizens have been contributing each year up to one month's pay in return for the bonds.

Anticipating a skeptical attitude abroad to this measure, Khrushchev declared:

"The capitalist merchant who would cut his father's throat for one-half per cent of profit will never understand the soul of the Soviet people. He will never believe you are doing this of your own free will. He will read the papers and say they have intimidated the workers and peasants into accepting this measure.

Stopping repayments and interest in effect may mean confiscation of the money, since the circumstances prevailing 20 years from now cannot be foreseen. In December 1947 the face value of all state bonds was cut in half and the interest rate on them, paid in the form of lottery winnings, reduced from four to two per cent.

END OF PILOT'S FIRST JOB

Columbus Cop Named Sheriff

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 48-year-old career policeman has been selected as Franklin County's new sheriff. Stacey Hall a detective lieutenant on the Columbus police force, takes over the county post Monday when the resignation of Sheriff Ralph J. Paul becomes effective. Paul resigned because of his wife's failing health and because the job is too "strenuous."

County commissioners chose Hall from a list of 40 candidates. Hall has been with the Columbus Police Department since 1941.

Wright Brothers Mural Getting Nod

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers are getting set to honor two Daytonians, Orville and Wilbur Wright, with a state Capitol mural depicting their first successful flight at Kittyhawk, N. C., nearly 54 years ago.

A bill authorizing the mural passed the Senate Wednesday and now goes to the House. Sponsored by Sen. Lowell Fess (R-Greene), the measure carries no appropriation, but if the House approves the painting, an appropriation probably will be inserted.

Original estimates said the mural might cost about $25,000, but Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem told the Senate that an unnamed serviceman artist in Dayton might execute the painting for $1,000 and expenses.

Mental Chief's Status Clarified

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, who has been running the department of mental hygiene and correction for the last six months, became qualified for the title "acting director" only last Feb. 15, according to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Dr. Albrecht could not formally assume the acting directorship, Saxbe said, because he had not lived in Ohio one year until Feb. 15, 1957 and therefore was not a qualified elector. Dr. Albrecht came to Ohio from Alaska,

The technicality apparently will have no affect on his salary. Dr. Albrecht draws $18,000 a year.

The same network is in partnership with Bob Hope to back him as much as $24 million for both his television shows and feature films for theater distribution!

Although Dinah Shore isn't incorporated, she's on a healthy salary which guarantees Dinah upward of $250,000 a year, plus a pension plan.

Another studio signed Marie Wilson to a long - term contract years ago, and while they couldn't come up with a good TV idea after My Friend Irma, they had to continue paying her several thousands a week.

George Gobel set up his Gomalco corporation to produce both his television and film shows. Phil Silvers has a similar setup for his program.

* * *

JACK BENNY has the heftiest deal of all. One network not only guarantees him a profit of about $25,000 per show, but also backs him, gives him reissue rights, pension plans, etc. Rather, it gives these things to Jack's company.

Of course there are many high-priced stars who, sad to say, have to pay taxes, just like any salaried guy or gal. These include the television "salesladies": Joanne Jordan, who earns $50,000 a year; Julia Meade, $100,000; Betty Furness, $100,000, and Bess Myerson, $150,000.

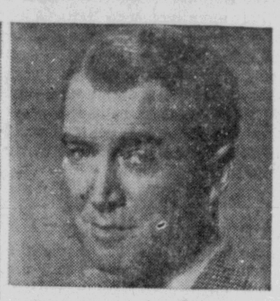
And there are, of course, the high-priced stars who work on the big dramatic shows. Such stars as Bette Davis, Shirley Booth or Jack Palance receive $10,000 per show.

In case you wondered about a fella named Elvis Presley, he's taken care of tax-wise, too. His company shares in the profits of his films. And, just in case the public ever tires of his records, a disc firm has agreed to pay him $1,000 a week for 20 years. It also means he won't have a big tax bite taken out of his income during these hefty years.

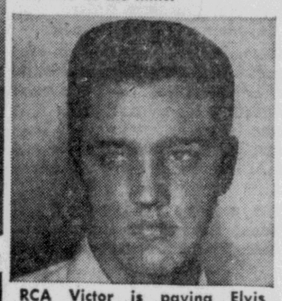
There, now, do you feel better about your small contribution?

Mayonnaise inherits its name from Mahon, a port on the island of Minorca off the coast of Spain, where the salad dressing first appeared.

Jane Russell loans herself out.



Jimmy Stewart's company has made as much as $600,000 on one of his films.



RCA Victor is paying Elvis $1,000 a week for 20 years—a tax saving for him.

Marie Wilson got $everal thou$and a week for not working.

Soviet Halts Debt Payment

Russian People Told Of Individual Loss

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government is stopping the payment of either principal or interest on 260 billion rubles lent to Moscow by Soviet citizens. And Nikita Khrushchev has told the people they can expect no payments for the next 20 or 25 years.

The money has been collected over the last 20 years in state loans taken from the people's wages through deductions.

The sum amounts to 65 billion dollars at the official exchange rate.

Khrushchev also said that effective in 1958 there will be no more annual loan drives. During these drives Soviet citizens have been contributing each year up to one month's pay in return for the bonds.

Anticipating a skeptical attitude abroad to this measure, Khrushchev declared:

"The capitalist merchant who would cut his father's throat for one-half per cent of profit will never understand the soul of the Soviet people. He will never benever understand the soul of the Soviet people. He will never believe you are doing this of your own free will. He will read the papers and say they have intimidated the workers and peasants into accepting this measure.

Stopping repayments and interest in effect may mean confiscation of the money, since the circumstances prevailing 20 years from now cannot be foreseen. In December 1947 the face value of all state bonds was cut in half and the interest rate on them, paid in the form of lottery winnings, reduced from four to two per cent.

END OF PILOT'S FIRST JOB

Columbus Cop Named Sheriff

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 48-year-old career policeman has been selected as Franklin County's new sheriff. Stacey Hall a detective lieutenant on the Columbus police force, takes over the county post Monday when the resignation of Sheriff Ralph J. Paul becomes effective. Paul resigned because of his wife's failing health and because the job is too "strenuous."

County commissioners chose Hall from a list of 40 candidates. Hall has been with the Columbus Police Department since 1941.

Wright Brothers Mural Getting Nod

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers are getting set to honor two Daytonians, Orville and Wilbur Wright, with a state Capitol mural depicting their first successful flight at Kittyhawk, N. C., nearly 54 years ago.

A bill authorizing the mural passed the Senate Wednesday and now goes to the House. Sponsored by Sen. Lowell Fess (R-Greene), the measure carries no appropriation, but if the House approves the painting, an appropriation probably will be inserted.

Original estimates said the mural might cost about $25,000, but Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem told the Senate that an unnamed serviceman artist in Dayton might execute the painting for $1,000 and expenses.

Mental Chief's Status Clarified

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, who has been running the department of mental hygiene and correction for the last six months, became qualified for the title "acting director" only last Feb. 15, according to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Dr. Albrecht could not formally assume the acting directorship, Saxbe said, because he had not lived in Ohio one year until Feb. 15, 1957 and therefore was not a qualified elector. Dr. Albrecht came to Ohio from Alaska,

The technicality apparently will have no affect on his salary. Dr. Albrecht draws $18,000 a year.

Rebuilding Problems Are Faced by Jets

4 Good Boys Left from Last Year as Nucleus

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of six articles detailing the prospects of Little League baseball teams for this summer. Today's article deals with the Coca-Cola Jets.)

Here's a man in a pickle: Stan Mark, manager of the Coca-Cola Jets, has four of the best ball players in the whole Little League, but there's a good chance he won't finish in the money.

It seems that the Jets, despite their heavy supply of leftover talent, lost some of their best boys at the end of last season, and there's no one to replace them.

But anyway, Stan is taking his "skeleton crew"— and a fine crew it is—and hoping that he'll be able to build a new team around it. Here's what he's got:

To catch, there's Ronnie Jones, a 10-year-old wonder who has helped handle the backstopping chores for the Jets since he was eight. Stan says he thinks Ronnie is "all-star material" this season.

To pitch, there's Mike Burris, who may be the finest remaining pitcher in the league. Mike showed some classy stuff last year, when he was only 11, and there's every reason he should come back better this year. In addition, Mike plays a good game at first base when he's not on the mound.

Another pitcher, who can double at third base, is Don Juillerat, who swings a heavy bat and knows how to field. A year's growth, Stan thinks, has done him a world of good.

And not necessarily last is Mike Kelley, a utility infielder who's likely to pop up anywhere. He can play any spot around the diamond, and Stan says he even may try him on the mound or in the outfield, too.

That's the size of it. And a better four-man group you can't find in the league. But beyond that, things look pretty precarious. Because, if you think that foursome looks impressive, just consider some of the boys he lost:

He lost all-star shortstop Eddie Ellars, one of the flashiest infielders in the league.

He lost all-star outfielder Mike Wilson who showed style in the field and at the plate.

He lost outfielders Jim Kellough and David Long.

He lost second baseman Paul Cummings.

He lost utility player Carl Anders.

He lost a fast-moving younger boy named Kenny Jenkins.

All these boys he has to replace. It's not going to be easy.

Though he's still in the dark about what he's going to do, he does have a few good prospects. He has Steve LeMasters and Barry Kelley, both of them lively prospects for the infield. And he has Danny Park, who is just as lively a prospect for the outfield.

But beyond that, a good deal depends on the tryouts, what he can find in the minors, what he can get in trade—and just plain luck.

(NEXT: The Sunshine Cubs.)

Indians Cut 2 Men from Squad

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians Tuesday cut two more players from their squad, optioning righthanded pitcher John Gray to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League and giving Sam Mele, 34-year-old outfielder, his unconditional release.

Gray, 30, pitched for Indianapolis of the American Assn. last year, compiling a 10-7 record.

Mele was signed by the Indians as a free agent last year and hit .254 in 57 games. He was with Cincinnati in 1955.

Herb Score Looks Like Top Indian Star

Cleveland Southpaw Shows His Stuff in Limiting Giant '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Herb Score looks like a million bucks. He may be the new ace of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff.

Bob Lemon has been just so-so on the exhibition circuit. Early Wynn is unable to get going because of a hip injury and Mike Garcia has been no sensation the past two seasons.

Score set a big league strikeout record for rookies in 1955 (245) and a 20-9 won-lost record and 263 strikeouts last season.

The Boston Red Sox offered a million dollars for him last March 18 but were turned down by Hank Greenberg, Indians' general manager.

Wednesday night, Score terned in his best effort of the spring. He gave up only two singles and fanned seven in a seven-inning stint as Cleveland whipped the New York Giants 4-1. Willie Mays accounted for the Giants' lone run by hitting a home run off Don Mossi in the eighth inning.

Pete Burnside was the victim of the Indians' four-run first inning. He gave up five walks a two-run single by George Strickland.

Another fine pitching job was turned in by Don Drysdale of Brooklyn. He went nine innings as the Dodgers blanked the Braves 5-0. He permitted only four safeties and only one Brave got as far as second base. Randy Jackson walloped a two-run home run for the winners.

The New York Yankees trounced Savannah of the Sally League 8-4.

Gus Triandos collected four hits as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-3.

Sherman Lollar blasted a three-run homer that carried the Chicago White Sox to a 9-7 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Ron Northey and Larry Doby also connected for the Sox.

Rip Coleman and Jack Urban, both acquired from the Yanks since the close of last season, combined to iptch Kansas City to a 4-2 triumph over Little Rock of the Southern Assn.

In other games, Ted Williams and Dick Gernert each hit for the circuit to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 6-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies; rookie Johnny Powers slammed a 10th-inning homer to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 nod over the Detroit Tigers; and Don Hoak had three hits and two stolen bases as the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senaors 6-2.

Ohioan Sparkles As Featherweight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Davey Moore, 23, a minister's son from Springfield, Ohio, earned himself a spot among the featherweight boxing title contenders Wednesday night when he pounded his way to an easy decision over Gil Cadilli.

It was Moore's first big chance as a pro fighter and he grabbed at it eagerly. He was on top of Cadilli, the seventh-rated contender from San Francisco, at the opening bell and never lost command of the fight.

Performing for the first time before a television audience, Moore won lopsided votes from all three officials. Judge Jerry Sherrard and referee Petey Sarron each gave him a 98-93 vote. Judge Sam Margolis scored it 99-93.

Would-Be Medic Shines as Boxer

BOSTON (AP) — A 16-year-old New York high school junior who hopes to become a doctor reigned today as the outstanding performer in the 1957 National AAU boxing championships.

Vince Shomo, who has been fighting since the age of six, captured the top individual award of the 69th annual tournament Wednesday night after stopping Joel Patrich of Indianapolis for the 139-p und title.

Vince is too young to turn pro right now, but he appears to have all the qualifications — punch, boxing ability and speed.

MEMPHIS (AP) — If you want to get the dander up of Chicago White Sox manager Al Lopez ask him what he thinks of some opinions that the Sox can't be any better in 1957 because the key personnel is the same.

"Just because a player is a veteran doesn't mean he can't improve," says Lopez. "Minnie Minoso, for instance, is a better fielder than he was three years ago and he already was a star then.

"Look at me, I've been in baseball 33 years now and I'm still learning new things. And take our Billy Pierce. He was in his ninth year before he won 20 games last season. The same can happen to Jack Harshman, Dick Donovan and a lot of others."

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals may have developed their most fearsome one-two punch in several years with the acquisition of Del Ennis to go with Stan (The Man) Musial.

The pair drove in six runs Wednesday in a 9-7 loss to the Chicago White Sox. Ennis accounted for four.

Musial now is batting .449 with six homers and 20 runs batted in. Ennis is hitting a robut .375 with five homers and 19 RBIS.

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Herb Score demonstrated Wednesday night to a crowd that included many relatives and friends from his home-town in nearby Lake Worth that his "million-dollar" left arm is ready for its third season of pitching for the Cleveland Indians.

Score blanked the New York Giants on two singles for seven innings in what probably was his last workout before the regular season. He fanned seven, somewhat under his 1955-56 pace of better than one an inning in regular season competition. And he was a trifle wild, walking six. The Tribe won 4-1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts is figuring on a way to blend power with singles hitters in the Cincinnati Redlegs lineup.

He has been experimenting with the batting order throughout spring training and Wednesday he indicated he believes he has found a way to mix the vaunted Redleg sluggers with the short ball hitters to give the Reds a maximum run-producing lineup.

His idea now is to have Frank Robinson, who hit 38 homers last year, lead off. Sluggers Gus Bell and Wally Post will bat third and fourth, respectively. And power hitters Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey or Smokey Burgess will bat sixth and seventh respectively. That will spot fellows like Don Hoak, Johnny Temple, Roy McMillan and the pitcher in between the power boys.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Duke Snider, for one, should be happy to reach the confines of the Dodgers' Ebbets Field Saturday.

The Brooklyn centerfielder left the club Wednesday to drive his family east after failing to hit in five trips to the plate and taking a called third strike three times against Milwaukee. His spring batting average is a mere .176.

Hawks Face Crucial Tilt In Pro Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The scrappy St. Louis Hawks have their backs to the wall in the National Basketball Assn. title playoff with the Boston Celtics. But that's a familiar position for St. Louis.

The Hawks have been doing it the hard way all season in their rise from last place at the All-Star game break to contention for the $10,000 first prize.

Boston, favored but forced twice to rally to deadlock the series, owns a 3-2 edge in their series.

The dazzling Celtics, one of the most powerful scoring clubs in NBA annals, can win its first NBA playoff championship tonight. If they lose, the 7th game will be played in Boston Saturday.

The eastern champs, far in front with a 44-28 season record, are not overconfident — they know the Hawks are hard to keep down.

"We've had our back to the wall all season," declared St. Louis coach Alex Hannum. "We can win if we get the rebounds."

Despite the phenomenal shooting of Bob Pettit of the Hawks and the great Celtic backline of Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy, rebounds have told the story.

Through the five games with St. Louis, the Celtics have averaged 68 recoveries to 57 for the Hawks.

WHS Cage Schedule Announced

'500 Club' Moves To Stimulate More Basketball Interest Here

The 500 Club took another step toward its ultimate goal of creating more interest in basketball here at a meeting at the home of Don Swaim Wednesday night.

The 500 Club — in reality a budding basketball boosters club —has the purchase of glass bankboards for the Washington C. H. High School gym as its first objective.

Since glass bankboards are expensive, the club laid plans to solicit fans of the winter sport for support of its overall purposes and, more specifically, for $500.

Herb Russell, WHS head basketball coach, was at the meeting. He explained that glass bankboards in their own gym would be a big help to the Lion cagers. He pointed out that most modern basketball courts are equipped with glass bankboards and that the Lions, who are accustomed to white painted solid bankboards, are placed at a disadvantage when they play on floors with glass bankboards.

Plsns for the solicitation will be completed at the group's next meeting on April 17.

But, the organizers insisted the glass bankboards, while important, are not the main goal of the 500 Club. What the members hope for most of all, it was brought out during the discussions, is to arouse more interest in the winter sport.

NEXT SEASON WHS basketball schedule was shown to the group by Coach Russell:

Nov. 29—Bexley here
Dec. 3—Westerville there
Dec. 6—Wilmington there
Dec. 10—London here
Dec. 13—Circleville here
Dec. 17—Hillsboro there
Dec. 27-28—Tournament at Waverly
Jan. 3—Greenfield here
Jan. 10—Piketon here
Jan. 17—Hillsboro here.
Jan. 18—Xenia there.
Jan. 31—Circleville there
Feb. 1—Chillicothe here
Feb. 8—Gahanna there
Feb. 14—Wilmington here
Feb. 18—Hilliards here
Feb. 21—Greenfield there

At the Wednesday night meeting were Leonard Korn, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Eddie Kirk, Emmet Lynch, Don Graves, Dr. Charles F. Pfersick, Bob Lytton, secretary-treasurer, and Coach Russell.

Women's Bowling Tourney Ready

DAYTON (AP)—Action in the Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament opens here tonight with 15,490 bowlers shooting for $109,584 in prizes.

A total of 3,098 teams, almost half of them from Ohio, are entered in the tournament, which runs through May 27.

The event is slated at the McCook Bowl, a 44 - lane establishment and the largest ever to house the tournament. Automatic pinsetters will be used.

Host Dayton has 788 teams entered while Detroit has 126, Cincinnati 98, Toledo 78, Columbus 60 and Chicago 56.

Ted Williams Lists Stars Of Baseball; Omits Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — When Ted Williams talks baseball he shows he is a fine analyst and a great judge of talent.

The veteran slugger, after a two-week tour of the West Coast with the Red Sox, was talking about some of the players he had seen.

"I didn't see any new pitchers in California or Arizona who impressed me," Williams said, "although Cleveland did seem to have a couple of good ones. But what that club needs are hitters, not pitchers. They're rich in those fellows. They've got the best one in the league in Herb Score.

"I used to think Hal Newhouser was the best lefthander I'd ever faced. But I think Score is going to be better. He's got more stuff than Hal ever had.

Who did he regard as the top five pitchers in the league?

"Start with Score," he said. "Then comes Billy Pierce, Bob Lemon, Whitey Ford and Frank Lary, in that order. I've been pretty lucky with Score but he's still great. Ford's been real rough on me. So has Pierce. Early Wynn is another good pitcher. So are Billy Hoeft, Chuck Stobbs Johnny Kucks. They're all good.

"Bob Turley should be better than he is. His fast ball is really alive. What's the matter with Don Larsen. He's got everything it takes to be a great pitcher. But I see where he's been having a rough time of it this spring. Is he behaving himself? I'd like to talk to that fellow. He's a real nice guy, you know, but he just doesn't seem to care, it's too bad. I really think I could help him."

What about the five best hitters?

"I'll name you three who stand heads and shoulders above the rest," Ted said. "Mickey Mantle, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn. One of those three is a sure thing to win the batting title. Nobody else will be close. After them I'd have to say Bill Skowron and Harry Simpson. Maybe Vic Power.

"Al Smith's a good hitter. So's Charlie Maxwell. Berra? Yogi's one of the most dangerous hitters in the league but he's no average hitter. I'll still bet the 1957 batting champ will be either Mantle, Kaline or Kuenn."

There are some who wouldn't mind wagering a sou or two on Theodore Samuel Williams.

Pro Rohr Named

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Bill Rohr, basketball coach at Miami of Ohio, Wednesday was named to a similar position at Northhestern, succeeding Waldo Fischer.

Pro Netters Due

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dick Gonzales will face Tony Trabert and Ken Rosewall will oppose Francisco Segura in the semifinal round of a professional tennis tournament at Cleveland Arena here tonight.

Cleveland Southpaw Shows His Stuff in Limiting Giant '9'

Southpaw Herb Score looks like a million bucks. He may be the new ace of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff.

The New York Yankees trounced Savannah of the Sally League 8-4.

Gus Triandos collected four hits as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-3.

Sherman Lollar blasted a three-run homer that carried the Chicago White Sox to a 9-7 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Ron Northey and Larry Doby also connected for the Sox.

Rip Coleman and Jack Urban, both acquired from the Yanks since the close of last season, combined to iptch Kansas City to a 4-2 triumph over Little Rock of the Southern Assn.

In other games, Ted Williams and Dick Gernert each hit for the circuit to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 6-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies; rookie Johnny Powers slammed a 10th-inning homer to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 nod over the Detroit Tigers; and Don Hoak had three hits and two stolen bases as the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senaors 6-2.

Ohioan Sparkles As Featherweight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Davey Moore, 23, a minister's son from Springfield, Ohio, earned himself a spot among the featherweight boxing title contenders Wednesday night when he pounded his way to an easy decision over Gil Cadilli.

It was Moore's first big chance as a pro fighter and he grabbed at it eagerly. He was on top of Cadilli, the seventh-rated contender from San Francisco, at the opening bell and never lost command of the fight.

Performing for the first time before a television audience, Moore won lopsided votes from all three officials. Judge Jerry Sherrard and referee Petey Sarron each gave him a 98-93 vote. Judge Sam Margolis scored it 99-93.

Would-Be Medic Shines as Boxer

BOSTON (AP) — A 16-year-old New York high school junior who hopes to become a doctor reigned today as the outstanding performer in the 1957 National AAU boxing championships.

Vince Shomo, who has been fighting since the age of six, captured the top individual award of the 69th annual tournament Wednesday night after stopping Joel Patrich of Indianapolis for the 139-pound title.

Vince is too young to turn pro right now, but he appears to have all the qualifications — punch, boxing ability and speed.

MEMPHIS (AP) — If you want to get the dander up of Chicago White Sox manager Al Lopez ask him what he thinks of some opinions that the Sox can't be any better in 1957 because the key personnel is the same.

"Just because a player is a veteran doesn't mean he can't improve," says Lopez. "Minnie Minoso, for instance, is a better fielder than he was three years ago and he already was a star then.

"Look at me, I've been in baseball 33 years now and I'm still learning new things. And take our Billy Pierce. He was in his ninth year before he won 20 games last season. The same can happen to Jack Harshman, Dick Donovan and a lot of others."

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals may have developed their most fearsome one-two punch in several years with the acquisition of Del Ennis to go with Stan (The Man) Musial.

The pair drove in six runs Wednesday in a 9-7 loss to the Chicago White Sox. Ennis accounted for four.

Musial now is batting .449 with six homers and 20 runs batted in. Ennis is hitting a robut .375 with five homers and 19 RBIS.

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Herb Score demonstrated Wednesday night to a crowd that included many relatives and friends from his hometown in nearby Lake Worth that his "million-dollar" left arm is ready for its third season of pitching for the Cleveland Indians.

Score blanked the New York Giants on two singles for seven innings in what probably was his last workout before the regular season. He fanned seven, somewhat under his 1955-56 pace of better than one an inning in regular season competition. And he was a trifle wild, walking six. The Tribe won 4-1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts is figuring on a way to blend power with singles hitters in the Cincinnati Redlegs lineup.

He has been experimenting with the batting order throughout spring training and Wednesday he indicated he believes he has found a way to mix the vaunted Redleg sluggers with the short ball hitters to give the Reds a maximum run-producing lineup.

His idea now is to have Frank Robinson, who hit 38 homers last year, lead off. Sluggers Gus Bell and Wally Post will bat third and fourth, respectively. And power hitters Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey or Smokey Burgess will bat sixth and seventh respectively. That will spot fellows like Don Hoak, Johnny Temple, Roy McMillan and the pitcher in between the power boys.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Duke Snider, for one, should be happy to reach the confines of the Dodgers' Ebbets Field Saturday.

The Brooklyn centerfielder left the club Wednesday to drive his family east after failing to hit in five trips to the plate and taking a called third strike three times against Milwaukee. His spring batting average is a mere .176.

Hawks Face Crucial Tilt In Pro Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The scrappy St. Louis Hawks have their backs to the wall in the National Basketball Assn. title playoff with the Boston Celtics. But that's a familiar position for St. Louis.

The Hawks have been doing it the hard way all season in their rise from last place at the All-Star game break to contention for the $10,000 first prize.

Boston, favored but forced twice to rally to deadlock the series, owns a 3-2 edge in their series.

The dazzling Celtics, one of the most powerful scoring clubs in NBA annals, can win its first NBA playoff championship tonight. If they lose, the 7th game will be played in Boston Saturday.

The eastern champs, far in front with a 44-28 season record, are not overconfident — they know the Hawks are hard to keep down.

"We've had our back to the wall all season," declared St. Louis coach Alex Hannum. "We can win if we get the rebounds."

Despite the phenomenal shooting of Bob Pettit of the Hawks and the great Celtic backline of Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy, rebounds have told the story.

Through the five games with St. Louis, the Celtics have averaged 68 recoveries to 57 for the Hawks.

WHS Cage Schedule Announced

'500 Club' Moves To Stimulate More Basketball Interest Here

The 500 Club took another step toward its ultimate goal of creating more interest in basketball here at a meeting at the home of Don Swaim Wednesday night.

The 500 Club — in reality a budding basketball boosters club —has the purchase of glass bankboards for the Washington C. H. High School gym as its first objective.

Since glass bankboards are expensive, the club laid plans to solicit fans of the winter sport for support of its overall purposes and, more specifically, for $500.

Herb Russell, WHS head basketball coach, was at the meeting. He explained that glass bankboards in their own gym would be a big help to the Lion cagers. He pointed out that most modern basketball courts are equipped with glass bankboards and that the Lions, who are accustomed to white painted solid bankboards, are placed at a disadvantage when they play on floors with glass bankboards.

Plsns for the solicitation will be completed at the group's next meeting on April 17.

But, the organizers insisted the glass bankboards, while important, are not the main goal of the 500 Club. What the members hope for most of all, it was brought out during the discussions, is to arouse more interest in the winter sport.

NEXT SEASON WHS basketball schedule was shown to the group by Coach Russell:

Nov. 29—Bexley here
Dec. 3—Westerville there
Dec. 6—Wilmington there
Dec. 10—London here
Dec. 13—Circleville here
Dec. 17—Hillsboro there
Dec. 27-28—Tournament at Waverly
Jan. 3—Greenfield here
Jan. 10—Piketon here
Jan. 17—Hillsboro here.
Jan. 18—Xenia there.
Jan. 31—Circleville there
Feb. 1—Chillicothe here
Feb. 8—Gahanna there
Feb. 14—Wilmington here
Feb. 18—Hilliards here
Feb. 21—Greenfield there

At the Wednesday night meeting were Leonard Korn, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Eddie Kirk, Emmet Lynch, Don Graves, Dr. Charles F. Pfersick, Bob Lytton, secretary-treasurer, and Coach Russell.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, moved through the second round of an international tennis tournament, Wednesday, defeating Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, 6-2, 6-2.

Ted Williams Lists Stars Of Baseball; Omits Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — When Ted Williams talks baseball he shows he is a fine analyst and a great judge of talent.

The veteran slugger, after a two-week tour of the West Coast with the Red Sox, was talking about some of the players he had seen.

"I didn't see any new pitchers in California or Arizona who impressed me," Williams said, "although Cleveland did seem to have a couple of good ones. But what that club needs are hitters, not pitchers. They're rich in those fellows. They've got the best one in the league in Herb Score.

"I used to think Hal Newhouser was the best lefthander I'd ever faced. But I think Score is going to be better. He's got more stuff than Hal ever had.

Who did he regard as the top five pitchers in the league?

"Start with Score," he said. "Then comes Billy Pierce, Bob Lemon, Whitey Ford and Frank Lary, in that order. I've been pretty lucky with Score but he's still great. Ford's been real rough on me. So has Pierce. Early Wynn is another good pitcher. So are Billy Hoeft, Chuck Stobbs Johnny Kucks. They're all good.

"Bob Turley should be better than he is. His fast ball is really alive. What's the matter with Don Larsen. He's got everything it takes to be a great pitcher. But I see where he's been having a rough time of it this spring. Is he behaving himself? I'd like to talk to that fellow. He's a real nice guy, you know, but he just doesn't seem to care, it's too bad. I really think I could help him."

What about the five best hitters?

"I'll name you three who stand heads and shoulders above the rest," Ted said. "Mickey Mantle, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn. One of those three is a sure thing to win the batting title. Nobody else will be close. After them I'd have to say Bill Skowron and Harry Simpson. Maybe Vic Power.

"Al Smith's a good hitter. So's Charlie Maxwell. Berra? Yogi's one of the most dangerous hitters in the league but he's no average hitter. I'll still bet the 1957 batting champ will be either Mantle, Kaline or Kuenn."

There are some who wouldn't mind wagering a sou or two on Theodore Samuel Williams.

Pro Rohr Named

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Bill Rohr, basketball coach at Miami of Ohio, Wednesday was named to a similar position at Northhestern, succeeding Waldo Fischer.

Pro Netters Due

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dick Gonzales will face Tony Trabert and Ken Rosewall will oppose Francisco Segura in the semifinal round of a professional tennis tournament at Cleveland Arena here tonight.

-Lowest Priced Car with Tri-Power Carburetion!

Pontiac started 'em all talking by tagging this eye-popping Chieftain below 30 models of the low-price three. Now Pontiac has tossed another firecracker into the low-price field . . . with Tri-Power Carburetion available at extra cost on any model. Pontiac alone at so low a cost offers this sensational track-proved* carburetion system that has officially outperformed super-charged and fuel injection cars. Here's how it works: For normal driving, only one of three double-barrel carburetors is in operation. When you want a safety-surge of power, press your toe and pronto!—the other two carburetors pour out a bonus of go as long as you need it. Ease up . . . and you're back to the gas-saving economy of one-carburetor operation! In short—your new Pontiac Chieftain can be tame or terrific—at the touch of a toe! Try it, and you'll see why they're biting their nails in the low-price field. Check the car . . . check the price . . . and all bets are that you'll graduate to Pontiac with plenty left over in your budget to celebrate the occasion!

Showman Finds Fewer Freaks

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — It's getting tougher and tougher to find good, commercial freaks.

That's the conclusion of Dick Best, an official of Royal American Shows, who for a good part of his 31 years in show business has been rounding up fat women, giants, elephant-skin boys, two-faced men and so forth.

Best says beter pre-natal care of mothers and improved treatments for glandular disorders are resulting in fewer and fewer freaks.

New York state's forests are now growing 103 per cent more wood than is cut and lost each year.

44 Interviewers Work on Farm Accident Survey

450 Fayette Families To Be Contacted 4 Times during Year

Forty-four persons are now acting as interviewers in the Fayette County Farm Accident Survey which got under way Monday, according to County Agent W. W. Montgomery.

The program in Fayette County is a part of a statewide survey that is being conducted by seven other counties. Fayette was chosen as one out of eight to assist in the project.

Each interviewer will contact 10 people on consecutive farms, down a particular road, and will inquire relative to any accident which might occur during each three months of the entire year.

This means that in Fayette County alone nearly 450 families will be contacted four times in order to get the accident information.

* * *

THE SURVEY is being run in connection with the Ohio State University Extension Service and has the cooperation of the Granges, Farm Bureau, Home Demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs and Extension-Advisory Council.

Two 4-H clubs are using it as a part of their safety program. These are the Wayne Progressive Farmers of Wayne Township and the Marion Marvels of Marion Township.

Reports of the interviewers already are being returned to the County Extension Office and plans are to have the first report completed by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Three Treated Here After Accidents

Three people were treated Wednesday in the emergency room of Memorial Hospital for minor accidental injuries

Robert Clickner, 521 Lewis St., was treated for cuts received when he ran into the sharp edge of a piece of furniture, while Jesse Wolfe, 1225 Willard St., was treated after he cut his index finger on a fan blade.

Hank Anders, 2-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Anders, 423 W. Temple St., was treated for bruises he received when he tumbled off a chair.

All were released after treatment.

Junior Leaders See Legislature

Day Spent in Capital By Seven from Here

Seven Junior leaders today are prepared to tell members of the 4-H clubs in Fayette County something about what goes on in Ohio's legislative halls after spending the biggest part of Wednesday in the state capital.

They went there on the Farm Bureau's annual legislative tour in one of two groups from the southwestern Farm Bureau district of 12 counties. There were 110 in the group that went Wednesday. The other group, of about the same size, will go later.

Accompanied by Associate County Agent Phil Grover and Frank Alexander, public relations head of the Farm Bureau here, the group, made up of junior leaders from about half of the counties in the district, met at the Farm Bureau building in Columbus for a briefing.

AFTER LUNCH in Nationwide Insurance Co. building, the group went to the state capitol where the young men and women saw the Senate and House of the Legislature in session.

In one way, the group was lucky, because it heard the heated debate on the appropriation bill. But it was not so lucky in another, because both the Senate and House were so crowded that there was some delay before it could crowd in.

Junior leaders from here on the tour were Rosalyn Marting, Patricia Scott, Mary Lou Highfield, Pat Hagan, Jowanda Wilson, Phil Crago and Kenneth Pettit.

Chlorine Gases Hit Pennsy Town

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. (AP)—Chlorine gases escaping from a leaking railroad tank car today made a score of persons ill and forced evacuations of a large area here in western Pennsylvania.

Ellwood City Hospital reported that it had treated 29 persons, many of them members of volunteer fire companies.

Six persons were admitted for further treatment, the hospital said, adding that none appeared to be in serious condition.

New Stockyards To Open Monday

Only Hogs Handled; No Auction Planned

The new ABC Stockyards Co. will start buying hogs Monday, C. R. Philhower, president said Thursday. Russell Beatty is the other member of the new corporation.

The company's new stockyards at the intersection of the Miami Trace Rd. and Route 70, about 6 miles south of Washington C. H. is now in shape to handle hogs, Philhower said, but added that "there is still about a week's work to be done on it."

Philhower summed up the operating policies of the company when he described the stockyards as a "concentration station for hogs" and a "cash buying market."

He explained that the hogs will be sold by telephone to packers and that the animals would be trucked in and out, either by the producers or independent truckers.

No auction sales are planned by the company; rather, Philhower explained, there will be a daily business of buying and selling.

* * *

BEATTY, who has been supervising much of the construction of the new concrete block building, 160 feet long and 80 feet wide, said it could accommodate around 1,200 hogs.

Pens run along both sides of the building with an aisle down the middle between them. There are 15 pens on one side and five on the other, with the office at at one end.

For the present, Philhower and Beatty said, the company will handle only hogs. Whether cattle will be handled later remains conjectural.

Philhower and Beatty said the decision to locate on the Miami Trace-Route 70 site was influenced largely by the number of hogs produced in that area—southern Fayette County and northwestern Highland County. They noted, too, that there is no concentration of stockyards there, such as there is around Washington C. H.

Mad Bomber Said Definitely 'Mad'

NEW YORK (AP)—George Metesky, the Mad Bomber, was not smiling Wednesday. Strapped on a stretcher at Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, the usually beaming bachelor solemnly sucked on cough drops during a sanity hearing.

The man who eluded police for 16 years and planted a series of homemade bombs around the city was described by a psychiatrist as "an empty shell of a man and one of the most dangerous psychotics I've ever seen."

Dr. Albert LaVerne, senior psychiatrist at Bellevue Hospital, told Kings County Judge Samuel S. Liebowitz that Metesky, in his opinion, is not capable of understanding the charges against him.

Sonic Boom Blamed As Windows Break

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—A sonic boom was blamed today by residents of this southwestern Utah community for an explosion which shattered an estimated 100 windows. There were no injuries.

There was no official explanation for the blast, in late afternoon Wednesday. Most speculation was, however, that it was caused by a jet plane breaking the sound barrier. Many residents said they saw a jet plane in the area during the afternoon.

Judge Says Photograph Is Illegal

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — An Akron Beacon Journal photographer, Bill Hunter, was ordered Wednesday by Judge Clande V. D. Emmons to destroy a photograph he took in common pleas court during the murder trial of Louis T. Johnson, 27, of Youngstown.

The judge said he told the photographer pictures could be taken when the judge was not on the bench. Hunter, he said, apparently believed he would be allowed to take photographs as long as they did not include the judge.

Johnson is on trial for the fatal shooting on Thanksgiving eve of Coburn Von Gunten, Akron industrialist. The jury visited North Howard Street where Von Gunten was slain in his automobile.

LeRoy Keith, 42, who police say fired the bullets that killed Von Gunte, is now held in New York for the slaying there last December of a taxi driver. Johnson and Joseph Reinthaler, 17, are charged with conspiring with Keith in the slaying.

Good Grooming Clinic Has Record Attendance

The annual 4-H Good Grooming Clinic held Wednesday evening at the Bloomingburg High School attracted a crowd of 400 of the Fayette County club members and advisors.

Associate County Agent Phil Grover said this was the largest attendance at the clinic since its inception five years ago. The first Clinic was held in 1952 with an attendance of 80 members and seven advisors.

The 4-Hers saw a demonstration of exercises presented by girls from the physical education classes at Jeffersonville High School, with the comments by Joseph Rush, instructor.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, supervising nurse from the Fayette County Health Department, showed a film on "Save Those Teeth" and Miss Jane Jefferson, dietitian at Memorial Hospital, discussed the topic "Food Becomes You."

* * *

CLUB MEMBERS were divided into groups for discussion sessions during the last hour of the evening. The girls heard Miss Dorothy Mill, Revlon representative, talk on the proper use of cosmetics. Her general theme was "Beautiful You". Following this the girls were divided into two age groups for a fashion show, with clothes furnished through the courtesy of Wise's Children Shop and Soldan's. The girls served as models.

All the boys attended a group discussion on personal hygiene with Fred Domenico, physical education instruction from Washington c. h. High School as the resource person.

Barbara Sue Kneisley led the singing and Mrs. Frank Dill served as mistress of ceremonies.

The grooming clinic was planned by the co-chairman, Mrs. Walter Carman and Mrs. Ancel Creamer, members of the 4-H Council.

The evening was concluded with the serving of refreshments of milk and cookies.

Some of the larger transatlantic liners carry a "permanent population" of 1,200 workers.

44 Interviewers Work on Farm Accident Survey

450 Fayette Families To Be Contacted 4 Times during Year

Forty-four persons are now acting as interviewers in the Fayette County Farm Accident Survey which got under way Monday, according to County Agent W. W. Montgomery.

The program in Fayette County is a part of a statewide survey that is being conducted by seven other counties. Fayette was chosen as one out of eight to assist in the project.

Each interviewer will contact 10 people on consecutive farms, down a particular road, and will inquire relative to any accident which might occur during each three months of the entire year.

This means that in Fayette County alone nearly 450 families will be contacted four times in order to get the accident information.

• • •

THE SURVEY is being run in connection with the Ohio State University Extension Service and has the cooperation of the Granges, Farm Bureau, Home Demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs and Extension-Advisory Council.

Two 4-H clubs are using it as a part of their safety program. These are the Wayne Progressive Farmers of Wayne Township and the Marion Marvels of Marion Township.

Reports of the interviewers already are being returned to the County Extension Office and plans are to have the first report completed by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

• • •

A COMPLETE LIST of interviewers for the county is as follows:

Louise Ritter, Route 3, Greenfield; Mrs. Edward L. Carson, Route 2, Leesburg; Mrs. Frank McCoppin, Route 3, Greenfield; Mrs. Richard Carson, Route 2. One capsule a day supplements your foods with an abundance of amazing B_{12} vitamins and all essential B vitamins—plus five times your daily requirements of iron.

Here is a power-house to help charge your body with vitality—to help you have rich, red blood—to help you look better, think better, feel better!

Tiny capsules, easy to swallow, contain 9 important vitamins including B_{12}. Less than 3¢ a day.

Delicious fruity syrup contains 11 essential vitamins plus iron. Less than 4¢ a day.

Inside—is there a more vital YOU?
* If you suffer from nerves, poor appetite, loss of sleep, and general lack of pep—these symptoms, when due to a vitamin deficiency, occur only when daily intake of vitamins B_1, B_2, and Niacin is less than the minimum daily requirement over a prolonged period. In themselves, they do not prove a dietary deficiency, and may have other causes due to a functional deficiency.
So unless your symptoms have an organic cause—see what a program of Bexel Special Formula Vitamins will do to bring out the more vital you!

For only about $5 a month, the average family can get FULL VITAMIN INSURANCE with BEXEL—why pay more?
